Russian General Confirms Report That Fight Is Now On.

FORCES IN TOUCH

Japanese Army Pushing Its Way Northward With Constant Skirmishes.

AFTER KUROPATKIN'S FLANK

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's dispatch received tonight confirms the belief that the great decisive battle of the campaign between Gen. Kuropatkin's main army and the armies of Gens. Kuroki and Oku is imminent. The three armies probably aggregate 300,000 men, and their outposts are today in touch all along the line.

The Japanese evidently tried to draw Kuropatkin as far south as possible, holding out as an incentive a check to the advance of Oku's main army. Meantime Oku swung sharply at the eastward to join Kuroki toward the Chapan pass, Kuroki at the same time moving a strong force by the right flank towards Hai-Cheng.

The main Japanese advance continues along the main Fung-Weng-Cheng-Liao-Yang road, avoiding the Motien pass by a detour to the northward. The advance in all points is being attended by constant skirmishing.

Kuropatkin In the Dark.

Nothing is known here of the exact point at which Kuropatkin's main force is concentrated, though it is believed that a large part of the Liao-Yang force has been moved to a point between Kinchau and Tashichau, from whence a large force had pushed southward against Oku. While Kuropatkni is thus extending himself the Japanese, with great mobility, seem to be trying to concentrate for the purpose of striking the Russians in flank and rear.

Viceroy Alexiff's message tonight throws little additional light on the sea fight off Port Arthur. The loss of three vessels of the Port Arthur fleet is admitted to be a severe blow, especially if not purchased by greater loss to the Japanese than reported by Vice Admiral Togo. The meagerness of the reports is greatly mystifying the authorities, who continue to believe that there has been a later fight which has not yet been reported.

There is a belief that the Vladivostok squadron put to sea Saturday, and is likely to be next heard of in the Korean straits.

The Associated Press has received a curious dispatch from a Russian correspondent at Vladivostok who took pains to say that Vice Admiral Skrydloff's squadron would probably be unable to go out again for weeks, as the ships had to go into dry dock to overhaul their boilers and clean their hulls, preparatory to putting to sea to meet the Baltic squadron. The dispatch added that some of the torpedo boats had been badly battered by the storm during the last expedition to the Japanese coast. In conclusion the correspondent says that nothing has been heard of Vice Admiral Kamamura's squadron.

The general staff has received the following dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff, dated June 26:

"There is reason to suppose that a considerable force of the enemy proceeded from the Wangtsia station in the direction of the mountains, marching northward toward the Chapan pass.

Japanese Moving North.

"Our patrol on June 25 noticed that the Japanese were beginning to move along the northern Siu-Yen-Kaichau road from Toutaukau and Pantsiapel in the direction of the Weita pass.

"The enemy on June 25 undertook to advance from Seluchan toward the Liao-Yang main road and also along the road leading to the Mo-tien pass through Tangputze and Tafangku, 11 miles northwest of Seluchan. A battalion advanced along the Liao-Yang main road and a regiment of infantry and two squadrons of cavalry along the valley of the Tsao river. A battalion and two squadrons marched westward in the direction of the mountains. The enemy on the main road was stopped first by two companies of sharpshooters, constituting our van posts, which slowly retired northward.

"Reinforced by two companies, the enemy at 2:30 in the afternoon occupied Tuinpu. The sharpshooters retired north toward Phakhessan, 22 miles north of Seluchan. Our losses were Lieutenant Ogloboff and five sharpsooters wounded.

Fight on Saturday.

"On June 25, about a battalion of Japanese infantry marching out from Tungoputze five miles northwest of Seluchan along the road to Motien pass was repulsed by two companies of our sharpshooter outposts near Tafangku. The sharpshooters fell back, first upon Urtugeti and then upon Kentsiaputze.

"Captain Yanchukovsky in command of one company of the sharpshooters, was wounded. His wounds were dressed by Dr. Ryschkoff, of the Red Cross and Captain Yanchukovsky was being carried to the rear on a stretcher when the Japanese rushed on from the flank. Three stretcher bearers were wounded and captured and Captain Yanchukovsy and Dr. Ryschkoff were also captured. We also had two sharpshooters killed and Lieutenant Serpukhevitinoff and 18 shapshooters wounded.

"During the night of June 25, the enemy, a regiment of infantry and a regiment of cavalry, remained at Tuinpu. At 9 o'clock on the morning of June 26, a Japanese battalion marched along the Siu Yen-Hai Cheng road from Stokhedza in the direction of Vandziapudza.

Russian Right Turned.

"The enemy's infantry and mountain guns followed the vanguard at mid-day. The enemy also resumed the advance on the morning of June 26 from Tunipu in the direction of Ikhakhehum along the

FIGHT ON FOR STANDARD OIL

Rice of Marietta Brings Suit at Trenton Asking Dissolution.

QUESTIONS ASKED

Change from Trust to Corporation and Restraint of Trade Involved.

COMPETITORS DRIVEN OUT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

Trenton, N. J., June 27.—Georgs Rice of Marietta, O., filed a bill in the United States circuit court today asking that the Standard Oil Company be dissolved and its charter revoked, on the ground that it is an illegal combination in restraint of trade and operating in violation of the interstate commerce laws.

Besides the corporation itself, the following individuals, prominent in its management, are named as defendants: John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flager, John D. Archbold, Henry H. Rogers, W. H. Tilford, Frank Q. Barstow, Charles M. Pratt, E. T. Bedford, Walter Jennings, James A. Moffett, C. W. Harkness, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Oliver H. Payne.

For twenty years prior to May 1, 1896, Rice was the proprietor of an oil refinery at Marietta, which he still owns but claims that he was compelled to suspend operations on account of the illegal operations of the trust. He is owner of a trust certificate for six shares of Standard Oil Company stock, purchased in 1886.

Wants More Information.

He asks that the officers be specifically interrogated as to whether, after bringing about the formation of the trust, they did not procure preferential rates from railroads and common carriers as against him and others in the oil business, persuading the railroads to pay them part of the carriage charges paid by other shippers for the oppression of competitors of the trust.

Another query is whether the company has not and is not continuing to drive competitors out of business by selling oil at a loss to the customers of others, while holding up the price to its own customers and raising the price to the customers of the competitors after the latter have been put out of business.

It is also asked in the interrogation whether the officers of the company do not deprive customers of a supply of crude oil; whether they do not combine and conspire in restraint of trade and commerce among the several states and foreign countries; whether they have not and do not monopolize the oil business of the United States; whether they do not control more than 90 per cent of the oil business of the country and whether they did not procure delay of action by the supreme court of Ohio in a suit brought by the attorney general of that state against the trust, by a promise to dissolve the trust, and whether, for the reasons stated, they did not destroy a large number of the books of the company.

Claims Law Was Evaded.

It is charged that the promoters of the trust, pursuant to a trust agreement, caused the Standard Oil Company to be incorporated in New Jersey to hold, in behalf of the trustees, the property in this state, and afterward amended the charter by increasing its capital stock from $10,000,000 to $110,000,000 for the purpose of taking over the title to the various properties formerly held by the trustees, and exchanging its stock therefor.

This was done, it is alleged, to allow the trustees to continue the combination under the name of a New Jersey corporation to evade the law. It is asked that the defendant be compelled to answer whether the corporation did anything except exchange its capital stock for the properties it purchased, whether the same persons did not remain in control after the exchange and whether the exchange was not made to escape the force of the opinion of the court in the Ohio proceedings.

It is asked whether the Standard Oil Company had any capital, except the property conveyed to it by the trustees. The bill then asks the court to decree that the Standard Oil Company was organized for the unlawful purpose of forming a combination, or trust, in restraint of trade or commerce, and creating a monopoly in the oil business that it is a mere depository, custodian, holder or trustee of the properties purchased, and that these are still controlled and operated in the same unlawful manner and for the same unlawful purposes by the same trustees as in the Standard Oil trust.

Wants Company Dissolved.

It is asked that the Standard Oil Company be dissolved and disintegrated, and its officers restrained from further conducting its business or disposing of its property; that they be enjoined from carrying out the same illegal purpose by individual ownership of stock in the corporation or the underlying companies, the stock of which is now held by the Standard Oil Company.

The court is asked to appoint officers or receivers to ascertain the rights of the various owners of Standard Oil trust certificates, or the Standard Oil Company stock, and, under direction of the court, to distribute to them their property and carry on the business until the dissolution of the Standard Oil Company is accomplished.

Westinghouse Gets Contract.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(Special.)—The Westinghouse interests in competition with those of the General Electric Company, as well as the leading British manufacturers of electric equipment have wrested a valuable contract for various machinery to be installed in the Greenwich generating station of the London county council. P. C. KNOX WILL MAKE AN INFORMAL TRANSFER Change in Attorney Generalship Is to Be Made Without Ceremony.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—It was stated at the department of justice today that there would be no formality connected with the transfer of the department from Attorney General Knox to Attorney General Moody. Mr. Knox's resignation becomes effective at the close of business on Thursday and Mr. Moody is to take charge on the following morning. It is possible that Mr. Knox will give an opportunity to those in his office, with whom he has been closly associated, to say goodby, but no program of speeches or anything of that sort has been arranged.

Senator Knox will establish offices either in the committee room at the capitol, formerly used by Senator Quay, or at his residence, until congress assembles and he is assigned to a permanent room.

Charles C. Long, who has acted as private secretary to the attorney general for some years, will occupy the same position with the new senator from Pennsylvania. Mr. Long's home is in Ohio, but he has many friends in Pittsburgh and his experience with Mr. Knox in the department of justice has proven his value.

FILIPINOS ARE CITY'S GUESTS

Notable Patriotic Demonstration at Banquet in Their Honor.

SONG AND ELOQUENCE

Orientals Join With Pittsburghers in an Outburst of National Enthusiasm.

BUFFINGTON AS TOASTMASTER

In their tour of American cities the Filipino commissioners to the St. Louis exposition surely could not meet with a more demonstrative greeting than was extended them last night by the city of Pittsburgh at the banquet given in their honor at the Hotel Schenley. Not only was it an occasion of sincere and hearty welcome to the leading representatives of Uncle Sam's far eastern possessions, but it was an unbroken outburst of patriotism such as has not been seen in Pittsburgh for many years. Although stirring and eloquent as were the speeches, the feature was the enthusiasm of the 375 banqueters, who sang one patriotic song after another from the beginning of the banquet to the end.

At 8 o'clock when the guests took their seats, the orchestra started the notes of "America," which the banqueters supported with the words in a chorus that made the hall ring. Then followed the

ROOSEVELT WILL KEEP IN TOUCH WITH CAMPAIGN

The Presidential Battle Will Be Under His Personal Supervision.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—George B. Cortelyou, the new chairman of the Republican national committee, arrived in Washington this morning and conferred with the president at the White House. No statement was given out as to the nature of the conference, but it is supposed to have been with regard to the management of the approaching campaign.

President Roosevelt will leave here on Saturday morning for Oyster Bay to remain until the latter part of July, and before he goes Chairman Cortelyou will confer with him on a number of questions bearing upon the campaign. It is well recognized that the presidential battle will be under the personal supervision of the president and that he will practically manage the details himself through Mr. Cortelyou.

The chairman will have headquarters in New York and during the time that the president is at his Oyster Bay home he will be such a short distance from headquarters that the chairman can see him at any time. While President Roosevelt is in Washington he will be able to keeep in touch with affairs by the use of the telephone and telegraph.

The president, while always willing and eager to have the advice of the Republican leaders on matters of interest to the party, realizes that this is his fight principally and he proposes to keep in close touch with all that is done. He and Chairman Cortelyou are such intimate friends and know each other so well that there will be no trouble on that score. The new chairman is a man who can think and act upon his own initiative and at the same time he can take orders.

Elmer Dover, secretary of the national committee, was also a caller at the White House today.

SIXTY FEET OF HUNGER WALKED ON CITY BEATS

Ten Six-Foot Policemen Who Escorted Filipinos Expected a Banquet, but Were Turned Loose on Duty With Big Appetites.

A trifle over 60 feet of hunger walked out of Central police station yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, and 10 more anti-imperialists were added to the following of Senator Hoar and Edward Atkinson. This 20 yards of appetite was not in one large chunk but was divided up among 10 big, husky policemen, all of them being over six feet tall. If the things they said should ever reach the effete ear of Director Moore of the department of public safety there is a possibility that a special session of the civil service board would have to be called to fill 10 vacancies on the police force.

The trouble came about in this way: Sunday night Superintendent of Police Wallace decided that an escort composed of the 10 biggest policemen on the force should be sent to the Union station yesterday morning to act as an escort for the Philippine commissioners. The following men were ordered to report to Inspector Kennelly at 6 o'clock yesterday morning: Frank Yeager, John Jennings, Newton Kerr, Jerry Walsh, James Cosgrove, Michael Walsh, Tim Scanlon, Thomas Costello, Cornelius Kennedy and Thomas Rohan.

The whole squad was at Central station about daylight with their shoes and buttons shined to a-glitter, high collars and white gloves. They went to the station at 6:45 and took up their positions about the trainshed. They all felt more than happy. Some one had given them a hint that after the Filipinos arrived they would go with the visitors to the Hotel Schenley, where they would have a breakfast that would more than gladden the heart of any man from the "ould sod." For this reason they had eaten no breakfast before leaving home.

The 10 bluecoats stood around until about 8:30, looking as handsome as they could. Then the train with the distinguished visitors pulled into the station. With Lieut. Charles Grimes, in his gold braid, at their head the men formed in line and led the visitors through the trainshed and to the special cars which were in waiting.

Presently the cars pulled out and the policemen were left behind. Back to Central station they trailed with appetites which had been whetted by the false hopes of a feast to come. Once there Inspector Kennelly said:

"Take your beats."

They didn't say a word until Sixth avenue and Cherry alley was reached and then there was a howl that almost touched the heart of genial Jim Conant, who was taking a morning stroll in front of the Nixon.

When these 10 "coppers" reported off at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was a scramble for food the like of which has not been seen since the last newsboys' dinner.

33 LABORERS DROWNED WHILE IN A PIPE

Water Poured Into Conduit Where Men Were Working, in Jamaica.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, June 27.—Thirty-three persons were killed by an accident which took place near Spanishtown (19 miles west of Kingston) this morning, in the main conduit of the West India Electric Company, which operates the street cars from Kingston and the shareholders of which are principally Canadians.

Nearly 100 laborers had been detailed to remove sand from the enormous pipe which is a mile long and which conveys water from the intake on the Rio Cobre to the turbines of the power house. The work had been practically completed when orders were given to allow a small quantity of water to enter the conduit. Through misapprehension, accident or carelessness, the full force of water was turned on and a mad struggle to escape by means of the manholes ensued with the result that 33 persons were killed.

Bombs Found in Stable.

BUTLER, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—This morning 12 bombs so constructed that they would explode if stepped upon were found scattered in the horses' stalls in the stable of R. H. McCutcheon & Co., an express firm. The bombs were made of zinc tubes fitted with gun cotton and powder, the ends being paraffined. None of the horses happened to tread upon them. The police are at work on the case.

PLOT AGAINST PARKER GROWS

Col. Guffey Confers With Gorman and McLean at Washington.

HELP FROM HEARST

He Is Expected to Ultimately Aid in the Overthrow of D. B. Hill.

MUCH TALK OF CLEVELAND

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27.

Tht plot to prevent the nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, for president on the Democratic ticket is growing. Today Col. James M. Guffey and William J. Brennen of Pittsburgh, came to Washington and held an extended conference with Senator A. P. Gorman of Maryland; John R. McLean of Ohio, and ex-United States Senator James Smith of New Jersey. They met at the home of Mr. McLean at Fifteenth and I streets, and spent the greater part of the day in a discussion of the presidency. This afternoon Senator Gorman returned to his home in Laurel, Md., and Col. Guffey took the evening train for Pittsburgh. The greatest secrecy was observed by those who met here and nothing was made public that they had not agreed upon any candidate to be run in opposition to Judge Parker.

It is known, however, that the object of the meeting was to canvass the anti-Parker strength and determine, if possible, if there was a good chance of defeating the New York judge. The fact that Col. Guffey, who controls Pennsylvania's 68 votes, and John R. McLean, who controls the 46 votes of Ohio, are working for the same object, assures a total of 114 votes as a nucleus for the opposition movement. Gorman will be able to deliver about 40 votes that have been instructed for him so that the plot to keep the nomination away from Parker assumes serious proportions.

Hearst In the Plot.

Leader Murphy of Tammany hall is tied up by the unit rule, but it is certain that all of the influence he can command outside of his own state will be thrown with the anti-Parker forces. It is also stated here that Hearst has been draw into the plot and that he is assured that his own nomination is an impossibility, he will turn all of his delegates over to the anti-Parker forces. The delegates now instructed for Hearst number between 150 and 200 and if these can be secured by the Guffey-Gorman-Murphy combination they will come near controlling the situation at St. Louis.

It is impossible to learn whether the combination have in mind any particular candidate whom they will spring upon the convention or whether it is their idea to wait and see who looms up the strongest after the delegates have assembled. From the fact that Gorman and McLean are both supposed to be unalterably opposed to Cleveland, it is not believed that the Sage of Princeton is the dark horse contemplated by those insurrectors. It may be McClelland of Pattison or Gray, or possibly Gorman himself.

Anybody to Beat Parker.

The identity of the candidate is not so important to these gentlemen so long as it is not Parker. They believe that if Parker is nominated David R. Hill will so thoroughly control the political situation that there will not be room in the country for them. They can expect nothing from Hill, whom they well know from the past. Therefore their sole efforts will be centered on preventing the nomination of Parker and at the same time placing at the head of the ticket a man who will represent the conservative element of the party.

There is no abatement of the Cleveland talk and one hears it here more than ever before. It is said that Mrs. John G. Carlisle, wife of Cleveland's secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. James E. Campbell, wife of a former Democratic governor of Ohio, recently went to Princeton to take dinner with Mrs. Cleveland. This was ostensibly the object of their visit, but in reality it is said that they were commissioned to urge the ex-president to permit a freer use of his name in connection with the presidential nomination and to do nothing to discourage the talk of him as the candidate.

Mrs. Carlisle is reputed to be one of the shrewdest politicians that Washington has ever seen and a more capable agent could not have been selected for this purpose.

Whether the Guffey-Gorman-Murphy combination would be willing to lay aside their prejudices and accept Cleveland in preference to Parker is a matter of speculation.

HARMON IS GROOMED FOR A DARK HORSE

If Parker Shows Weakness the Ohio Jurists' Name Will Be Sprung.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 27.—The friends of Judge Judson Harmon stated today that unless there was every evidence of a walkover for Judge Parker, Judge Harmon's name would be placed in nomination at the Democratic national convention at St. Louis next week. Headquarters have been opened for Judge Harmon in St. Louis at the Jefferson hotel, and the candidacy of the Cincinnatian is to be pushed to the finish form this time on.

Harlan Cleveland is to be the judge's floor manager and will have charge of his headquarters. Mr. Cleveland will leave for St. Louis in a few days. It is said that if Judge Parker stands a show of securing the nomination Judge Harmon

GUFFEY MAY NAME HIS MAN

Expected Today to Tell Local Delegates Whom to Favor for Presidency.

TALK FOR M'CLELLAN

There Is Also a Liklihood That Ex-Gov. Pattison of Philadelphia Will Be Taken Up.

ARE MANY DARK HORSES

Col. J. M. Guffey may break his silence today and at least give an intimation of his favorite for the Democratic nomination for president. The occasion will be a meeting of the local delegates to the national convention.

Col. Guffey has been in the east for two days presumably conferring with the anti-Paarker forces. A week ago the Pittsburgh man inclined to swing the 68 votes from Pennsylvania to the New York jurist. Since then things have happened. Last night the colonel's friends were expecting a dark horse to be finally put in the race today.

Among the men prominently picked are Mayor McClellan of New York, Ex.-Gov. R. E. Pattison of Philadelphia, Ex-President Cleveland of New Jersey, Senator Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland and Judge George Gray of Delaware. There has been much quiet talk of the first two named. There have been numerous indications that McClellan is seriously considered

Pattison May Be Named.

While it seems strange, there is a possibility that Pennsylvania may name the Democratic candidate for president. Owing to the peculiar conditions, Ex-Gov. Pattison becomes a possibility in the national race. It would not be surprising to see Pennsylvania give him at least a complimentary vote.

Usually Pennsylvania is not considered by either party in the selection of candidates for president. The Republicans always pass it because the commonwealth is ever certain to give an immense majority and the nomination is thrown to a more doubtful state. The Democrats never look here for presidential timber, because Pennsylvania is overwhelmingly Republican.

This time there is a new condition: The Democrats would like to name a New Yorker, but the fight has grown so bitter that the selection of Judge Parker, or any other man from that state, would leave sore spots. For this reason, many Democrats figure that Pattison would be stronger in New York than any man who lives within the confines of that commonwealth.

Pattison Stands Well.

Pattison stands well with the Democrats of the country and is one of the best-known men who attends national conventions. His ability to be twice elected governor of a strong Republican state has given him standing abroad. At Kansas City, four years ago, he was one of the most sought after Democrats at the convention. His rooms were constantly filled with party men from all over the union, who either wanted to meet him or renew a former acquaintanceship.

Another thing urged in behalf of the ex-governor is the fact that he would doubtless be satisfactory to W. J. Bryan. In 1896, when hundreds of Pennsylvania Democrats deserted the "Orator of the Platte," Pattison stuck by him, swallowing the whole pill. Four years later he again tied up with Bryan and did much work for the Nebraskan.

Gov. Pattison is a delegate to the St. Louis convention. He is a close friend of Col. Guffey and if the Pittsburgher can see a chance to nominate him, he will take advantage of the opportunity.

Pattison Tip in Chicago.

Col. Guffey is expected home this morning. He is supposed to have been in New York. His friends say that during the last week some strong evidence has been shown him to prove that it would be bad politics to try to force the nomination of Parker. At the Republican convention in Chicago last week several of the Republican leaders claimed to have a straight tip that Gov. Pattison would be the nominee at St. Louis.

David T. Watson will not attend the national convention. He was elected a delegate from the Twenty-ninth congressional district. Mr. Watson is now in Europe and his seat in the convention will be occupied by Robert M. Beck of Allegheny. George S. Fleming has not been well and he has decided that he will not go to St. Louis. His credentials from the Thirty-first district have been transferred to Alderman S. J. Toole.

The Citizens party leaders held a conference yesterday at the office of Murry A. Verner. Those present were T. S. Bigelow, Mayor Hays, Mayor Wyman, Mr. Verner, Director Clark, Recorder O'Neil, Treasurer Collingwood and Controller Cunningham. They are supposed to have discussed plans for breaking into the Republican organization.

DESPERATE FIGHT ON CAR PLATFORM OF FAST TRAIN

TORONTO, O., June 27.—(Special.)—Two men fiercely fighting on the platform of rapidly running mail train finally rolling head first down the steps, furnished a spectacle tonight on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh westbound passenger train due here at 5 o'clock. At Empire, three miles east of here, Conductor Burlingham had difficulty with Wilbur Brown over his fare. This ended in a desperate fight lasting until the men fell down the car steps and death seemed imminent, until William Burke a giant in physique, reached down the steps and with an effort, pulled both men back to safety.

FIREWORKS BEGIN DEATH HARVEST

Three Killed and Ten Hurt in Fire in Philadelphia Store.

FIVE MINUTES DID THE WORK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 27.

Trapped on the top floor of a blazing building, with all known ways of escape cut off and certain death facing them wherever they turned, two men and one young woman were held by fierce flames in their workshop at 826 Arch street this afternoon until they were suffocated.

THE DEAD.

JACOB JANCOVITZ, 23 years old, proprietor of the Fourth of July and Bonnet Frame Company, third floor of the burned building at 826 Arch street.

OSCAR BERMAN, 23 years old, wireworker, employed by Jancovitz.

LENA SAMUSON, 21 years old, employed by Jancovitz.

In fighting the fire, which not only completely demolished the Diamond Fireworks building, but also damaged its neighbors, the H. L. Kilner Catholic Publishing house, at 824 and the James L. Gibney Rubber Company, at 828, and in attempting to rescue those confined in the third floor death trap 10 persons were injured, several of them seriously.

It was just 2:45 o'clock when the explosion occurred. There were at work on the first floor four men and seven girls, all busy selling fire works or packing delivery boxes that had already been sold. On the long counters, under them and on floors behind them were piled boxes of all sorts of pyrotechnics. An unusually large demand for the Fourth had been anticipated and the company was ready to fill it.

Besides the employers, there were several customers looking over the stocks and making purchases. Suddenly one of the "makes-the-rings" exploded and started to hiss forth fire. A girl nearby, alarmed at the sparks that were flying toward her light shirtwaist, brushed the blazing flame from off the counter. It fell upon the floor and set up a small shower of other sparks.

"Run for your lives," shouted Conway. His shirt front was already ablaze from sparks. Then suddenly came the first big explosion, a whole box of cannon crackers and rockets going off at once. For 10 minutes the explosions were almost continuous and in the meanwhile the employes in the building were making desperate efforts to escape.

Three of them lost their lives in the space of five minutes. Two stories below them a terrible explosion of Fourth of July fireworks, stored and sold by the Diamond Fireworks Company, started a blaze which quickly ate up the building. There was no hope for them, once the danger appeared. Their only choice was how to die. To get below the building, they knew only two ways. One was to take a 90-foot leap to the street; the other was to come down a wooden stairway, directly into the flames, and fight a passage through a rain of exploding bombs, rockets and cannon crackers.

Fearing to take the desperate chances offered by these means of exit the three stayed where they were. There was another way and by means of it the three victims' fellow-workers—three other men and four other women—got out. The way was to crawl through a trapdoor to the roof an dthen get across other roofs to safety.

The loss on the three buildings is estimated at $30,000.

PEOPLE OF ROME DO NOT ADMIRE KAISER'S GIFT

Goethe Monument, Which German Ruler Presented to Italians, Is Unveiled.

By MALCOLM CLARKE.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, June 27.—The Goethe monument, which Kaiser presented to the city of Rome a long time ago, has finally been unveiled, but it is far from being admired by or is it popular with the people of the Eternal city, and the comments when the Roman papers make on the unveiling are exceedingly bitter.

Not only do several papers criticise the monument as a work of art, but they also express their surprise that the kaiser should have found it appropriate to present to the city of Rome a monument of a German poet, whom few Romans have read and whom nobody cares for. The kaiser, upon reading these criticisms in the Italian press, is said to have been furious and even to have threatened to ask for the return of the statue, which has been so shamefully pushed about by the Italians, but reconsidered this idea upon the advice of the minister of foreign affairs, who called his attention to the sensation which an act of this kind would cause.

WHIST AT NEW YORK.

Fourteenth Congress of American League Now Looks Like Record-Breaker.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Judging by the extensive gathering of players at the Hotel Majestic today the fourteenth congress of the American Whist league will be a record-breaker. Though there was a trophy match in the afternoon that engaged about 50 of the experts, enough were left to make a good showing for the open game, in which there were 32 tables.

The most important event of the opening day was the contest for the Brooklyn trophy, which is confined to teams of 12 from auxiliary associations. It was the east against the west on this occasion, and the honors went to Minnesota, though the representatives from Chicago pushed them closely. The eastern teams were from New York and New Jersey associations and were beaten badly. The western teams played so close a game that they were tied on matches, the result being determined by the trick score.

The leading event for tomorrow is the contest for the Hamilton club trophy, a valuable cup that has been in play since 1901 and the winning of which decides the team championship of the league. There will also be a business session of the congress and during the afternoon and evening other games for progressive pairs.

Republican Committee Organizes.

MERCER, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—The Republican county committee met in Mercer today and organized by electing W. J. Wheildon of Mercer chairman. The tie between Schuchman and M. Campbell and the new chairman in the north ward of Mercer was disposed of by giving each a half vote.

Found $100.00 in a Piano.

That's what a lucky buyer said of a piano purchased from us last week. It was one of our special bargains, which always represent big saving.

This week we are offering a magnificent mahogany upright piano, of reliable New York make, worth $350.00, at $145.00. Of course, this piano has been used a little, but you can't tell it, and the tone is rich and mellow, has all the latest improvements and is fully warranted.

Be quick if you are looking for exceptional value in a good, dependable upright piano. Write for particulars or call.

ISLAND GUESTS SEE PITTSBURGH

Commissioners from Our Oriental Possessions Have a Busy Day Among Industrial Plants.

SAY AMERICA IS A FRIEND

The Filipino commissioners arrived in the city yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock over the Allegheny Valley railroad from Buffalo, N. Y., and spent almost the whole of the first day in the city and sight-seeing among some of the principal local industrial plants. The party was accompanied from Buffalo by Select Councilman C. H. West, chairman of the committee on entertainment, and President Wightman of select council. Five of the Filipino commissioners were left behind.

The president of the commission, T. H. Pardo de Tavera, left Buffalo yesterday for New Haven, Conn., where Yale university will confer on him the degree of doctor of laws this week. The party of five will rejoin the commission at Chicago next week. They stopped yesterday at Rochester, N. Y., to pay a visit to Gen. Otis, first governor of the Philippines.

At the Union station the guests were met by the local reception committee, consisting of Councilmen Robert Porter, W. A. Collins, P. B. Kearns, and also by Councilman William Brand, and other members of the general committee on entertainment. Special cars, provided by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, carried the party to the Hotel Schenley, down Liberty avenue and out Fifth avenue. The Filipinos attracted much attention. There was quite a crowd at the station when they arrived, and there were many exclamations of surprise at the appearance of the commissioners.

An Interesting Party.

The people saw a body of men who are not unlike Americans in looks, except that their complexion is several shades darker, about the same hue that an American gets in the summer when much exposed to the sun. The members of the party are all intelligent looking. There were quite a number that might be taken for Japanese, with their coarse black hair, high cheek bones, small eyes and dark complexion.

The commissioners were in charge of Col. A. W. Ferguson, who is their conductor and official interpreter. Col. Ferguson is assisted by Lieut. Daniel Van Vorhis and H. G. Young of the United States army. Lieut. Van Vorhis was formerly an officer of Company H of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment. There are two women in the party. One is Mrs. Mapa, wife of Victorino Mapa, associate justice in the supreme court of the Philippine Islands. She is small and stout, of a dark complexion and quite pretty. The other woman was Mrs. Thomas Hardeman, wife of the disbursing officer of the commission.

In the party are two Filipino boys, 16 and 18 years of age. They are Raphael and Marcos Roces, brothers of Alejandro Roces, a member of the commission, and are students at Bekley university, California.

Carry 178 Pieces of Baggage.

The party arrived at the Hotel Schenley about 8 o'clock. Within half an hour after they arrived their baggage, consisting of 178 pieces, reached the hotel from the Union station. The handling of this amount of baggage in an hour was a record-breaking feat, and was under the supervision of C. W. Conrad, the chief baggage master at the Union depot.

After breakfast and spending three-quarters of an hour meeting the members of the local entertainment committee, the visitors, accompanied by members of councils, city officials, several business men, numbering in all about 80, boarded a special train at East Liberty station.

The first stop was made at East Pittsburgh, where the Westinghouse plants were seen. The officials of the works provided guides, and these explained the sights to the party, the remarks being translated into Spanish by the army interpreters.

At noon the party reboarded the train for Charleroi, where a visit to the plate glass works was made. Luncheon was served on board the train. Returning from Charleroi a stop was made at the Homestead steel works, where the visitors saw how the armor plate for the big warships is made. The party returned to the Hotel Schenley at 4:30 o'clock.

United States Their Friend.

Talks with members of the commission all brought out the same general line of thought regarding the relations of the United States to the Philippine islands. It is welcomed now that it is understood. "We need instruction" is the phrase which nearly all used.

Practically every member of the commission was concerned in the original uprising against Spain under Aguinaldo, and some of the party were active in the beginning of the insurrection against the United States. They regret this now, and say that under the authority of this country they have learned the meaning of freedom.

Manuel Trias, who was a schoolboy chum of Aguinaldo and later second to him in command of the insurrection against Spain, treasurer of the insurgent government in 1896-7, and one of the generals commanding against our soldiers, voiced this belief. He said: "The friendly disposition manifested by the citizens of the United States whom we have met on this trip, without exception, convinces me that there is only the best feeling on the part of the citizens and of the government towards us. When I return I expect to see Senor Aguinaldo, and explain these things as I have seen them with my own eyes. I expect to make a better citizen out of him."

Arrangements have been completed by the officials of McKeesport to extend a welcome to the delegation when it arrives in McKeesport today. They will be met by Mayor Falkenstein and a committee and be escorted through the principle works at Firth Stirling and the tin plate plant at Demmler. The National Tube works will occupy the greater part of their attention, after which they will visit the glass works and other industries at Glassport.

HELD SEMI-CENTENNIAL.

McKeesport Odd Fellows Gave Surviving Charter Members Gold Medals.

Odd Fellows of McKeesport celebrated the semi-centennial of Blucher lodge yesterday. The city was filled with visiting delegates, and the day was devoted to parades, addresses and jollifications, while in the evening a reception and banquet were given in Turner hall.

Killian Herst was chief marshal of the parade, which had 1,000 men in line. A feature of the exercises was the presentation of gold medals to Peter Dersam and Adam Schultz, surviving charter members. During the afternoon Mayor Falkenstein spoke, as did also P. A. Shanor. The Rev. Gustave Schmit gave the history of the lodge in German. A theatrical performance was given by members.

NOTE FROM THE WATERS.

Allis J. Johnson Writes on a Fig Box Lid That He Is No More.

While searching under the Tenth street bridge for the body of the negro boy who was drowned at lock No. 1, Sunday afternoon, Harry Terry, of No. 1807 Tustin street, yesterday afternoon found the lid of a small wooden fig box floating in the water. Written upon it was the following note:

"June 25, 1904.

"To Whom It May Concern:

"My body will be found at the bottom of the river under the Tenth street bridge.

"ALLIS J. JOHNSON, Pgh."

The box was turned over to the coroner.

"Star Spangled Banner," "Yankee Doodle," "Red, White and Blue," and "Marching Through Georgia," which were sung with such feeling that the banqueters forgot to eat. The spirit became contagious and the Filipinos, all of whom recognized the national airs, arose to their feet cheering.

The demonstration at the beginning lasted a long time, and Charles H. West, the chairman of the council committee on entertainment, had difficulty in calling the assemblage to order. He did so by asking the Rev. F. M. Sneed, of the East End, to invoke a blessing. The banquet which followed was a continual demonstration of two hours. Then Chairman West introduced Judge Joseph Buffington as the toastmaster. The judge was in his happiest vein and made a hit with his wit and eloquence.

Buffington Was Facetious.

Judge Buffington made some facetious remarks concerning Mayor Hays, who sat at his right, saying that his principal duty was to see that Mayor Hays did not make a speech. This caused general laughter. He also jested at the expense of Director Bigelow, telling the Filipinos that the monument at the entrance to Schenley park was not erected to King Edward of England, but to the "king of Pittsburgh." In introducing City Solicitor Rodgers, who was to act for the mayor in delivering the address of welcome, the toastmaster said it was the duty of the solicitor to make addresses of welcome on all occasions, to every convention or gathering that came together in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Rodgers made a hearty speech of welcome in behalf of the city, the manufacturers, business men and workmen of Pittsburgh. He spoke of Dewey and the great victory won by the admiral in Manila harbor, but this reference evoked no enthusiasm from the Filipinos, although loudly applauded by the Americans. He said American rule meant justice and prosperity in the Philippines, and at this sentiment the Filipinos clapped their hands vigorously.

Judge Buffington read a telegram of regret from T. H. Pardo de Tavera, the president of the commission, who had gone to Yale university to receive a degree, and then introduced Senor Juan Sumulung, to make response to the welcome.

Courtesy Acknowledged in Spanish.

This Senor Sumulung did in Spanish, which was delivered sentence by sentence, and promptly translated into English by the Hon. A. W. Ferguson, executive secretary of the Philippines, under whose charge and direction the commission was brought to this country. He speaks Spanish like a native. During the translation Secretary Ferguson stood at the left hand of the speaker and read the translation from prepared notes. The speech contained original expression, that in relation to the attention shown accorded the Filipinos on the railway train on the rounds of the local industries. Senor Sumulung said that the knowledge gained by the Filipinos since their arrival in the United States had convinced them that American expansion in the Philippines did not mean that the Philippine islands had been stamped with the seal of American sovereignty.

Congressman James W. Brown had been advertised as a speaker of the evening. He was scheduled to deliver an address on "Pittsburgh," but sent a message that he could not be present owing to illness in his family, and James Francis Burke spoke in his stead. Burke spoke in his usual happy vein and increased his reputation as a popular orator. He paid Director Bigelow a happy compliment and in closing delivered an eloquent eulogy on Pittsburgh.

Decorations Were Profuse.

The banquet hall was profusely decorated with the American colors. The Filipino guests sat at an E-shaped table opposite the music stand. Underneath the music stand were the speakers' table around which were grouped Mayor Hays, Directors Bigelow and Moore, Presidents Wightman and Ward of councils, Senor Sumulung, Secretary Ferguson, the Rev. Mr. Sneed, Mr. Burke, Prof. John A. Brashear and members of the council committee on entertainment.

On the wall above the speakers' table was the word "America" in large red, white and blue electric letters and above this the city shield in flowers. On the opposite side of the hall, above the Filipinos' table, was a large American flag, studded with red, white and blue electric lights. On the tables were red, white and blue lights. All the walls were draped in American colors. The balconies were crowded with ladies, who were deeply interested spectators.

Frequently the guests left their tables and crowded around the Filipinos. There was one Filipino who was the center of a group during the entire evening. He is one of the most prominent members of the commission and was introduced to many persons. He is Manuel de Iriarte, held several offices under the Spaniards and is now chief of the bureau of archives, patents, copyrights and trademarks in Manila under the American government. He talks English better than the majority of the members of the commission and is rated as one of the most intelligent members.

He, however, expressed peculiar views on the subject of American government in the Philippines. He was asked the question when the Filipinos expected independence or self-government, and replied discreetly:

"About five, ten or fifteen years."

"Secretary of War Taft made the statement in Pittsburgh a few weeks ago that your people would not be capable of self-government for 50, 60 or possibly 100 years."

"Well, that may be so. I think so, too," was the remarkable reply. It was observed in all their conversation the Filipinos did not want to say anything that might conflict with the views of the authorities at Washington. Most of the commissioners are governors of provinces, mayors of cities or hold other executive positions under the government. Many of the commissioners are very young men. Senor Iriarte was asked what race the Filipinos mainly sprung from and he said:

"Mostly Chinese. There is some Japanese blood among us, but more Chinese than Spanish or Japanese."

"What do you people think of Aguinaldo? Is it true that he is, or was to come to America?"

"If he had come with us I would have resigned," he replied. "Few of us know him and we do not think very much of him."

MANY WERE PRESENT.

List of Those Attending Banquet Includes Prominent Men in Politics and Business.

COAL OPERATORS TO ADJUST GRIEVANCES

Special Convention Which Was Called for Thursday Has Been Declared Off.

There will be no convention of the coal miners in this district on Thursday, as had been announced. The grievances the miners had with the Consolidated Coal and Coke Company are to be adjusted without the union taking drastic measures. This announcement was made last evening by President Dolan.

Francis L. Robbins, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, held a conference with the executive officials of the United Mine Workers yesterday. He was informed of the violations of the interstate agreement and he agreed to have them adjusted immediately.

Circulars were sent out last week, instructing locals in the district to select delegates for a convention in Moorhead hall, Thursday. The circular stated that besides the trouble regarding the reduction of the wages of outside day laborers, the prices charged for company stores and house coal would be taken up. As Mr. Robbins has agreed to adjust all grievances the rents, coal and wages will be made in accordance with the Indianapolis agreement. This means an advance will be paid to 2,000 workmen and 5,000 families will be affected by the reduction in rent and coal charges.

DURHAM WANTS COTTAGE.

Has Gone to Adirondacks to Inspect Sites Offered Him for Summer Camp.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—(Special.)—Insurance Commissioner Durham, accompanied by his brother, left the city this afternoon for the Adirondacks, where he will inspect several sites offered him for a summer camp. The commissioner is anxious to secure a cottage in the vicinity of Lake Placid, where he has spent several summers. He is desirous of being within a day's ride of the city, so that if the necessity arises he can return without loss of time. He will return to the city again on Thursday of this week, and will remain here until after the Fourth.

Senatorial candidate James P. McNichol, who took a party of friends to the world's fair at St. Louis from the Chicago convention, arrived home in the special car Courier this morning after a pleasant trip.

The Union League held a special meeting this afternoon in the large banquet hall, and after adopting resolutions indorsing the Republican ticket, sent a congratulatory telegram to the president at Washington and a similar one to Senator Fairbanks to his home in Indianapolis.

GEORGE W. ELKINS IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Health of Former Traction Magnate Gradually Failing—Surrounded by His Family.

Col. George W. Elkins, one of the earlier traction organizers of Pittsburgh, is in a critical condition at his residence, 815 North Highland avenue. His health has been failing for a year or more and the fact that he is over 70 years of age does not hold out much hope for his recovery. The complaint is said to be a general failure of strength and lack of digestive power, with a touch of dropsy. Within the past few days the patient suffered a relapse, from the effects of which he has not yet recovered.

He is being attended by Drs. James H. and Robert W. McClelland. In anticipation of a sudden failure Col. Elkins has been surrounded for several weeks by his wife, three daughters, Misses Louise and Katherine Elkins and Mrs. John P. Knable, and his sons, William, Harry and George. A fourth son, Porter Elkins, is in Boston.

Col. Elkins, who is a brother of the late William P. Elkins, the Philadelphia traction magnate, was actively engaged in business here until about three years ago, when, upon the formation of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, he retired. From that time his health has been steadily failing. About a year ago there was a change for the worse and Col. Elkins has since been spending his time between here, Atlantic City and Philadelphia, with the hopes of improving. He only recently returned from the seashore. At the family residence last evening it was said that the patient was resting quietly. During the day he was brought downstairs for a short interval.

This Is Jubilee Day.

The annual Jubilee celebration that marks the closing of Allegheny's public schools will be held today in the Allegheny parks. This morning men will erect big tents for the various wards. An extra detail of policemen will look after the safety of the children. Several of the officers are to be stationed along the Fort Wayne tracks to keep the little ones away from moving trains and engines.

To Settle Steamship War.

BERLIN, June 27.—It is stated here that at the suggestion of Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade, a friendly conference will be held in London July 7 between Herr Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, and Lord Inverclyde, chairman of the Cunard Steamship Company, with a view to a settlement of the steamship rate war.

Angelo's Strong Arm Reached Out.

Alone and unaided Special Officer Peter Angelo last night raided the alleged disorderly house of Tony Rapenni, 100 Shore alley and arrested the proprietor and 11 visitors and lodged them in Central police station.

STILL NO TRACE OF KENT J. LOOMIS

His Brother in Washington Denies Stories Emanating in Parkersburg, W. Va.

ELLIS A NEGRO FROM TEXAS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 28.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Kent J. Loomis continues to attract much attention from the London newspapers and all the papers this morning feature the case. The police of Plymouth now say that Mr. Loomis was drowned and that he must have fallen overboard before the vessel reached her anchorage. After a most exhaustive search and the investigation of every clue they are confident that he did not land at Plymouth.

There is no confirmation of the report sent to the Central News from Hamburg that the body of Mr. Loomis had been washed ashore near Cherbourg, France. A dispatch from Hamburg says that nothing is known there of anything which could give rise to such a report. Nowhere, neither in London nor Plymouth, has anything developed throwing the slightest light on the situation and where it was at first believed that a few days would solve the question of the whereabouts of the missing man, the gloomiest view is now taken.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Mr. Loomis, the assistant secretary of state, has had nothing whatsoever to confirm or contradict the rumor that the body of his brother, Kent J. Loomis, had been washed ashore on the French coast, and in spite of the efforts of the state department not the slightest clue has been obtained with reference to the mysterious disappearance. The fact that nothing has been heard of the lost man is tending to confirm the fears of his family that he was either drowned or has met with foul play. The assistant secretary this afternoon denied emphatically reports from Parkersburg, W. Va., the home of his brother, which stated that the family of Kent Loomis had received word from him some days ago, stating that he was having trouble with Mr. Ellis, with whom he was traveling.

The state department has had advices of the sailing of Ellis from France for Djibouti, where he commences his overland journey to Abyssinia's capital with the commercial treaty, which he is to deliver to King Menelik. This treaty was in the baggage of Loomis, which was sent on to Paris.

DALLAS, TEX., June 27.—W. H. Ellis, the negro who accompanied the missing agent of the state department, Kent J. Loomis, to Europe, en route to Abyssinia, is a native of Texas, and up to 1897 took a conspicuous part in Republican politics in Texas.

MUSIC AND VAUDEVILLE TO GO WITH FIREWORKS

The Fourth Celebration in Allegheny to Be the Most Elaborate Ever Held There.

Director Scandrett promises to give Allegheny the greatest Fourth of July celebration that the city has ever enjoyed. The fund has grown beyond the expectations of the director and is now larger than any former fund. The fireworks on Monument hill are to be most elaborate and during the afternoon band concerts and vaudeville will be given in West park. Several boxes of huge balloons in the form of animals arrived yesterday at city hall and will be sent up from the West park during the afternoon of the Fourth. The following contributions were received yesterday, making a total of $3,909.25:

John Forester, $5; A. F. Bay, $5; Henry Weckesser, $5; William M. Enright, Co. Controller, $5; Lake Erie Union Electric Company, $5; Rosedale Foundry and Machine Company, $5; La Belle Steel works, $15; Hugh J. Hay, $5; James P. REAL "HOME" MISSION SAYS CHICAGO PASTOR

Mr. De Long Advocates a Society to Settle Disputes That Arise in a Family.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 27.—The Rev. David D. De Long in an address today before the Congregational ministers of Chicago, advocated the founding of a unique organization. He said:

"We have homes for children, orphans, anchorages, old peoples' homes, humane societies and flats and associations for the care of nearly all classes of society, but we have no association whose duty it is to conserve the most sacred of all institutions—the family.

"I think every church should establish a 'Home-Mending Society' whose duty will be to act as peacemaker in all disputes of families in the vicinity of the church. When the father and mother disagree and are in imminent danger of separating, let a member of the society call at the home of the family and arbitrate the dispute, so as to save the family and preserve the home. If a pastor cannot get along with a child and the dispute threatens the security of the home, let the society step in and offer its services in bringing about peace.

"I am going to try the plan in my church and I think every other congregation in Chicago would do well to follow my example."

FAVORS SYNOD.

President of American Rabbis Wants More Authority for Reformed Church.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 27.—The 15th annual convocation of the central conference of American Rabbis opened its business sessions today. The morning session was devoted entirely to the reading of President Krauskopf's message and to the presentation of reports. President Krauskopf's address declared in favor of the establishment of a synod to secure a requisite amount of central authority in the Reformed Jewish church in America, but that nothing in the movement should be construed as creating authority to arbitrarily govern the faith of the members.

Arrested With a Royal Letter.

Jean Ceaser Molet, a professional chaffeur, as was evidenced by letters of recomendation from King Leopold, of Belgium, evidently filled the wrong gasoline tank yesterday and was arrested for intoxication at Penn avenue and Eleventh street during the afternoon. Beside the letter he carried a gold watch engraved with the Belgian coat of arms which he had won in an auto race in that country, and about $200 in cash.

300,000 THOUSAND READY FOR BATTLE

main road, by the road to the Motien defile through Uriundi and by the mountainous road to the Madiapudze pass.

"At least a regiment of infantry with artillary was ordered to proceed along the main road to Liao Yang. This detachment reached Tidiuvatza at 9 a. m. We received no other report regarding this movement.

"The following are the details of the reconnaissance of the Japanese forces made by a Russian detachment on June 22 at Ayariamyna (Al-Yang-Tien-Men?):

Japanese Forced Back.

"At 10:30 a. m., the cavalry of our advance guard drove the enemy from the trenches of their advanced position. At 1:20 p. m. four Russian guns of the mountain horse artillery had been placed in position against the enemy's right flank, which they bombarded with great success, the cordon retiring. The serried ranks of the Japanese troops developed a violent fusillade which, however, was almost without result. At this moment our infantry came up and four companies were thrown against the right flank of the enemy's position, one company being held in reserve to protect our right flank against which two Japanese companies were advancing.

"The enemy fell back under the energetic pressure of our forces for a distance of two or three miles, evacuating their trenches at 4 p. m. At the moment that our Cossack battery approached the enemy's principal position, it was exposed to the concentrated fire of 18 mountain guns and within a few minutes eight Cossacks were killed and 20 were wounded. The gunners at that time had the shelter of the nearest stone building, but our two companies continued to repulse the enemy until the main position of the enemy was reached, when three regiments of Japanese infantry were discovered.

Many Killed and Wounded.

"Having ascertained the strength of the enemy, the commander of our detachment determined to stop the advance, and ordered the mountain battery not to change its position in order not expose it to unnecessary losses.

"The enemy's right flank took the offensive at 6 p. m. Our two companies of sharpshooters and a company of cavalry, commanded by Second Captain Cerderberg having dismounted, put the Japanese battalion to full retreat by well-sustained point blank volleys, which inflicted considerable losses.

"The fight continued until nightfall. Thanks to the darkness we were able to move our guns. A vacillating advance of the enemy's infantry was checked by the fire of our sharpshooters and the fight ended at 9 p. m.

"Our losses were Staff Lieutenant Colonel Kometko Gouroko, Lieutenant Colonel Yakleeff, Lieutenant of Cossacks Nevitoff, Second Lieutenant of Cossacks Nikolaieff, Second Lieutenant Schidloski and Second Lieutenant Hoffman and 26 men killed and 53 men wounded, seven of them seriously. The enemy's losses were considerable."

SEOUL, June 27.—The telegraph office at Pakchong was destroyed by Cossacks yesterday. The party of prominent members of the Japanese parliament who arrived here on June 25, departed today for Chinampho.

OYAMA SAILS JULY 6.

New Commander-in-Chief of Japanese Forces Ready for Command.

LONDON, June 28.—The Standard's Tokyo correspondent says Field Marshal Marquis Oyama, who recently was appointed commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces in Manchuria, and Lieut.-Gen. Kodama, his chief of staff, will leave for Manchuria, July 6.

The Standard's Chefoo correspondent says that a steamer just arrived from Moji reports that she saw the Japanese transport Sado, which the Russian Vladivostok squadron torpedoed, being towed to port.

CORONER'S JURY TAKEN OVER SLOCUM COURSE

Formal Session of Court Held in Wreck Steamer in Erie Basin.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—Automobiles and the police boat patrol today were used by the coroner's jury in its investigation of the General Slocum disaster. In this manner the men who are to fix the responsibility for the appalling number of dead were made thoroughly familiar with the route of the excursion boat, the mass of technical testimony they have heard was made perfectly clear and they were enabled to draw their own conclusions as to the life saving apparatus carried on the steamer.

A formal session of the coroner's court was held on the wreck of the boat in Erie basin, and while little new evidence was adduced, the session did much to clarify the situation.

On the trip up the river, Edward Van Wart, who was piloting the Slocum when the fire started, took the wheel of the Patrol and steered her as nearly as possible over the course taken that day. Three lengths north of the Sunken Meadows, he indicated, was the first he had learned there was a fire. His statements coincided with those made by his assistant, Weaver, who took the Patrol over the course a week ago.

The jurors questioned him as to distances and as to the time that might have been saved by beaching the boat at Port Morris. Van Wart said that Capt. Van Schaick had done the right thing in proceeding to North Brother island.

GRAFT CHARGED IN OPEN COURT

Attorney Makes Sensational Attack Against City Officials and Councilmen.

INVOLVES USE OF THE DOCK

Attorney Charles G. McIlvaine, representing the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, which, with the city, is defendant in an equity suit brought by the Saw Mill Run Coal and Supply Company, resulting from a conflict of these companies in the matter of unloading coal at the Eighth street dock, yesterday made a number of sensational allegations involving officials of the city administration and councilmen.

The attorney asserted that it was because the Monongahela company refused to be blackmailed that it was denied the use of the dock, and in referring to an answer which he said he intended filing in the case, alleged a conspiracy existed which contemplated extorting a large sum from the company and also placing the councilmen of the Fourth ward and the wharf master on the company's payrolls, the company to have a practical monopoly of the dock in return. The hearing was on the question of a preliminary injunction to restrain the defendant company from interfering with the plaintiff's unloading of coal at the dock. Judge John D. Shafer was on the bench in common pleas court No. 2 when the matter came up. Attorney George M. Hosack appeared for the plaintiff, and attorneys W. B. Rodgers and Thomas D. Carnahan appeared for the city.

The discussion had not gone far when Attorney McIlvaine made his charges of blackmailing, however, with the statement that he intended no reflection on Director Bigelow or the city law department.

He had an answer before him which he said he intended to file and asked the court if he could read it. It was lengthy and he contented himself with referring to its contents.

In May or June, 1903, they were notified, he said, not to use the dock and they obeyed the orders of the wharfmaster to that effect. This order, the attorney said, followed several attempts to make the company pay an enormous "graft" to politicians who seemed to be the controlling secret.

About the first of April, 1903, he said, referring to his prepared answer, W. I. Craig approached the company and said he represented John H. Koch, the wharfmaster, Peter J. Donahue and John Marton, councilmen of the ward, and a fourth party whose identity he refused to divulge.

The proposition Craig is alleged to have submitted was that the company for the use of the dock pay $12,000 cash and place Donahue, Martin and Koch on the company's payroll at $150 per month each. This proposition was alleged to have been made with the statement that politics were expensive; that the Monongahela company had a good thing of it and should be willing to pay for it.

This offer was peremptorily turned down by the company, and the next day a second offer was made by Craig. This one required the company to pay $6,000 and place Donahue, Martin and Koch on the company's payroll at $125 per month each and Craig at $1,000. This offer was also declined.

Another offer, it is alleged, was made by one alleging he represented the plaintiff company, which proposed that the Monongahela company to use the dock should buy the plaintiff company for $85,000, and it was represented that the plaintiff had exclusive control of the dock, which was one of its most valuable assets. The offer was declined and the matter called to the attention of Director Bigelow, who promised to look into it. In subsequent correspondence with the company he directed that the dock must be a public one and that the Monongahela company's hoisting machinery must be used by the public or removed. The company says it wrote to the director to fix a time for adjusting the matter, but it was not answered.

After the company received the notice to quit operating on the dock, the attorney asserted, it attempted to remove its hoisting machine and bins, but was met by a squad of policemen who prevented the removal.

The Monongahela company says it objects to its machinery being used by others, and Judge Shafer agreed that it had a right to remove its equipment from the dock. The preliminary injunction was not granted, but the hearing postponed until July 6 next, this in the meanwhile giving an opportunity to the Monongahela company to remove its machinery.

Peter J. Donahue and John Martin are not members of the present council. Martin was appointed wharfmaster by Director Bigelow to succeed Koch following the latter's recent death.

ANALYZES LICENSE COURT.

First Report of the Anti-Saloon League Filled With Tables Is Made Public.

The first annual report of the Allegheny County Anti-Saloon League has been issued and was yesterday sent broadcast. It is a closely printed pamphlet of 16 pages, and shows the work, not only of the organization during the term of license court in 1903, but also the results attained at the license court this spring.

The work of the churches in aiding the movement, the organization of the league and its attempts to get into office such who will interpret the liquor laws strictly, take up three pages. Rulings of court are mentioned, and in some instances there is mild criticism of the action of the court. All the innovations in granting licenses are pointed out and the general propaganda of the league brought before the readers.

The report is filled with tables which show the number of applicants in this county and the number of remonstrances and those against whom the work of the league was effective or non-effective. Tables are given of the nationality of the applicants for license and the owners of saloons who own or partly own their properties and also of those who do not own property, but no names are mentioned. The punishments meted out by the license court are also tabulated and show that of those held over the number of days penalized from applicants totalled the refusal of 11 applicants for a year and the penalizing of a twelfth for 90 days.

In the case of the breweries the names and penalties are given, the only instance in the report. There is also a short abstract of the treasurer's report for the year, which shows that the receipts were $10,128.25 and the expenditures $10,116.67, leaving a balance of $21.58.

End-of-the-Week Early Closing.

We beg to advise that, beginning with next Saturday, July 2nd, this store, throughout the months of July and August, will close on Saturdays at 1 P. M. On all other days the closing hour will be 5:30 P. M. We take great pride in being the pioneers in this early closing movement.

And Now for a Dip in the Salt Sea Surf.

The weather at all of the seaside resorts has warmed up wonderfully. Thousands take their dip daily, reveling in this delightful sport.

On Thursday next, June 30th, the first B. & O. excursion hies itself to Atlantic City, and a half dozen of the other most popular resorts that dot the long and unequaled coast line of the Atlantic.

Of course you can rent a bathing suit, but this certainly is not the pleasantest solving of the problem. There's a deal more satisfaction, both from a hygienic point of view and the matter of becomingness, in owning a bathing suit of your own.

And we have every sort—silk and mohair, and surf serges all at extremely low prices.

Bathing Suits for women at $2.50. Of blue or black surf serge, just as neat as can be, with belt and collar—trimmed with rows of narrow white braid.

Bathing Suits for women at $3.00. Of blue or black serge, pleated skirts, sailor collar, finished with neat belt and collar. Trimmed with narrow white braid.

Bathing Suits for women at $4.00. Of blue or black mohair—stylish pleated high neck blouse, with flat collar of white mohair, running to belt in plastron effect. Trimmed with bands of white mohair and fancy braid.

Finer suits at $4.50, $5.00, $6.00 and up to $25.00.

But don't think we have only bathing suits for women. We have them for men in the Men's Store, first floor, East, bathing suits proper and swimming suits as well, at $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00 the suit. Boys' one-piece bathing suits, $1.00, $1.50, $2.25; boys' two-piece suits, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00. The girls' bathing suits are in the Girls' Department, second floor, West. Prices start at $2.25, thence to $6.50, and as much higher as one cares to go. Sizes 3 to 18 years.

You Can't Have Too Many Cotton Waists.

One of the fashion writers said the other day that a woman could have her entire wardrobe of shirtwaists and skirts and be right in the fashion. Plain for the morning, dressy ones for the afternoon and elaborate affairs for the evening. A pleasant suggestion when the temperature hovers around 90.

Waists of sheer white Persian lawn, made with group of fine tucks to form wide pleat—tucking and Mexican drawn work are used to produce a very handsome result. Full sleeves, lace cuffs and stock. $3.50.

Waists of Fine India lawn, made with clusters of tucks front and back—shirt sleeve, link cuff, in tailor style. $3.50.

Linen Waists, with an all-over hand-drawn Mexican front, tucked back, full sleeves. $5.00.

Waists of white batiste, with front and back of embroidery and dotted net—lace cuffs and collar. $6.00.

Bargain Prices for Trunks in Time for the Summer Outing.

If you want to save $2.00, $3.00 or $4.00 on a good trunk, buy before the sale is over. It started last Friday, and things have been pursuing a lively course in the Trunk Department since. We were fortunate in getting hold of such an immense line of sample trunks to sell for bargain prices before people go away for the Summer. All kinds, iron bound, leather bound, rawhide and fibre bound, all sizes 28 to 40 inches, a number of steamer trunks among them.

Trunks at $3.75, instead of $5.50.
Trunks at $4.50, instead of $6.50.
Trunks at $5.00, instead of $7.00.
Trunks at $6.00, instead of $8.50.
Trunks at $7.00, instead of $10.00.
Trunks at $9.00, instead of $12.00.

And from that up to trunks at $17.00 instead of $24.00, with lots of good values in between the $9.00 trunk and the $17.00 one.

Gilchrist Fruit Jars—Here for Lowest Prices.

If you are familiar with the preserving and canning of fruits in its various aspects, you know all the advantages of the Gilchrist Jars. They have an extremely wide mouth, which makes it easy to pickle or put up fruit whole. Then another of their worthy points is they are absolutely air-tight. They come in three sizes—

Pints, $1.00 a dozen; quarts, $1.15 a dozen; Half Gallons, $1.35 a dozen.

Extra rubbers for the Gilchrist Jars, 15c a dozen.

Paraffine, 12c a pound.

Find all of the above aids to preparing fruit for the winter in the West Basement.

Wicker Furniture for Reduced Prices.

Tuesday, June 28, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

An interesting story about the management of city property was brought out in the hearing of the wharf case. It is a story worthy of further investigation, as the court appears to think, from the continuation of the case after deciding the point immediately at issue. The charges made by the Monongahela River Consolidated Company are of serious import and should be probed to the bottom. City business ought never to go by special favor, or carry issues on the side. There have been intimations heretofore that wharf and market privileges are not always disposed of impartially, and the present is a good time to open the subject for judicial inquiry in order that the tongue of suspicion may be silenced if everything is done right.

Judge McClung's decision in the Federal Water Company case appears to have a bearing upon the suggestion that the removal of the hump and the construction of the filtration plant may be done without the intervention of contracts. The cases are not similar, but the judge's construction of the Wallace act is broad enough and sufficiently explicit to apply to many cases. The decision includes the ruling of the United States court in the filtration case of two years ago concerning estimates, and leaves little ground for those who would have large public works constructed without competitive bids or contracts, if any such idea has really been entertained by the administration. The Wallace act is a well-considered piece of legislation, and while it has defects, they are more those of intentional restriction than of accidental phrasing.

"It is not God who is responsible for this tragedy but the negligence and greed of men. This accident shows that God's laws cannot be violated, though human laws can. I thank God for it because it has opened the eyes of the whole city and country to what is required to save others from a like fate." Standing in the pulpit of his sorely-bereaved church, himself as sadly afflicted as any member of his congregation, Pastor Haas of St. Mark's church, last Sunday, thus answered the tremendous question concerning divine responsibility for the Slocum horror. Hundreds of pulpits since that catastrophe have voiced their views on the same question. To none will such respect and weight attach as to the utterances of the man who himself passed through the furnace of affliction. He comes out of it as one is taught to believe a Christian should—with faith not only unshaken, but even enlightened and strengthened. The most rational and yet the most truly spiritual interpretation of that heart-breaking disaster we believe is epitomized in his words.

Let a course in swimming be made part of the curriculum of our public schools, is the gist of an editorial in the Toronto Mail and Empire. The suggestion is based upon the lesson taught by the General Slocum disaster. The writer declared that scores of children might have saved themselves had they known how to keep afloat. Philosophy, he says, may help its pupils to die to the best advantage, whereas three swimming lessons might enable them to live and enjoy their philosophy. There is sober sense in this plea. How many children, especialy girls, in the Pittsburgh public schools would know how to save themselves in the water? Only recently one of a party of lads was drowned by the overturning of a boat near Ben Avon, simply because he could not swim. His companions, who knew how to keep themselves afloat, were rescued. In our public schools we now have fire drills and lessons in first aid to the injured. Would it not be as logical to add instruction in swimming?

"Buy when times are panicky and sell during a boom. You can't help grow rich then." Such was the advice offered by James Hebron, a millionaire cabman in a New York court room recently, where he was party to a suit. More impressive than the cabby's platitudinal offering, however, was the story of how he made his own fortune on Wall street; not by reckless speculation, but after eight years of study devoted to works on finance, railroads, agriculture and business. Not until he had thus prepared himself did this Irish hack driver feel that he could safely venture on 'change, but the wisdom of his course is witnessed by the fact that in all his dealings he rarely received a setback. His course is in marked contrast to that of the hundreds of "lambs" who are annually slaughtered in Wall street simply because they lack knowledge and are guided by nothing but greed. There is probably much truth also in the cabby's statement that any man can do what he has done provided he is healthy and does not let the get-rich-quick fever run away with him.

That was a happy phrase used by Paul Morton, the new secretary of the navy, when he said to reporters in Chicago, "Yes, I've enlisted there." Frankly admitting his ignorance of naval affairs, Mr. Morton, nevertheless, brings to the department the same purpose of thorough application to its work and problems that has made him so distinguished and successful a figure in the railroad world. From his point of view he is to enter upon his new and responsible duties not as the omniscient chief officer of his department, but as a humble apprentice—as an enlisted man—down at the bottom of the ladder among the ropes. That is the true American spirit and it augurs well for the future conduct of the department. When a man confesses that he is not too big to learn and that there are a lot of things he doesn't know, he's on the right track really to learn something and to be of service. Mr. Morton may not know much about torpedoes and powder and armament and other such things, but he has brains, business sagacity and administrative ability—the things that really count in any department. With these to start with, the country can safely wait until he "learns the ropes."

Our Filipino Guests.

One day in Pittsburgh has showed the visitors from the Philippines that this city is headquarters for iron, steel, plate glass, electrical machinery, steam machinery and other things essential to civilized life. Today the visitors will see more. They will not get acquainted with many new industries, but they will get a better idea of the immense scale on which manufacture is carried on in this district. The boat trip on the Monongahela is unrivaled for its view of the miles of mills that make the valley famous around the world.

In time Pittsburgh may profit from this entertainment of her guests. Not just at present, however. The present purpose is to fulfill a civic duty to the guests of the nation, who have come from their distant homes to learn what manner of country it is that holds their destinies in its hands. Before leaving Washington they expressed their satisfaction in having learned what a great country this is, so great that it has no need to exploit the Philippines to extort wealth from them. They must now be doubly convinced. Since giving expression to that sentiment they have seen Philadelphia, New York, New England, Buffalo, Niagara and Pittsburgh, and Pittsburgh is by no means least. Unfortunately the itinerary is too hurried to show these welcome visitors the great coke fields, or to give them more than a glimpse of our coal mines or natural gas wells, and they may go away wondering upon what our enormous industrial operations are based.

These men must be weary of seeing, however, and they are as apt to remember our hospitality as our greatness. They should have cause to recall both. Pittsburgh is glad to have them here and to extend the hospitality. It hopes they are being entertained rather more than instructed and that they will be pleased with the Iron City, though they have no use for its industries.

A Neglected Ministry.

Destitute, her husband in a mad house and a notice of eviction served upon her, a woman in Chicago Sunday lost heart at the blackness confronting her and killed herself and her three children. The event is not an unusual one. All too frequently the news dispatches chronicle similar incidents. But what impresses one is the utter needlessness of such a sacrifice. How could its seeming necessity exist in a great city filled with churches and institutions of charity? It seems an inadequate reply to suggest that probably the mother did not make her circumstances known to the organizations that might have helped her. What are such organizations for, anyhow? Are they to sit still and wait for deserving cases to come to them? Should it not rather be their business, especially that of the churches, so to make themselves acquainted with the life of the neighborhood in which they are set that such a pitiable case could not possibly go unnoticed? How easily the great burden that benumbed the brain and froze the heart of that mother might have been lifted! Yet no one who was able to do this knew of it, apparently, nor made it his business to try to learn of it.

Municipal societies for the relief of the destitute are not characterized as a rule by activity in hunting out such cases, principally because they lack both the means and the help for carrying on such systematic work. But for every church in a community it would seem that this work is especially befitting and possible. To find just such cases as this, and to relieve them so far as lies in its power is indeed an emphatic part of its ministry. How thoroughly is it performed?

Cleveland a Probability.

Grover Cleveland's latest interview may be taken at its face value to this extent: He is not a candidate for nomination by the St. Louis convention. It may be conceded further that Mr. Cleveland would prefer to remain in his comfortable retirement, enjoying the honor of being the only living ex-president. But that does not amount to a refusal of the nomination if tendered, or to a discouragement of those Democrats who see in Mr. Cleveland the only remote hope of success for their party. Should events so shape themselves at St. Louis as to carry the convention to Cleveland, the attitude of Mr. Cleveland gives reason to believe he would not refuse to serve as his party's candidate, even if he did so more from a sense of party duty than because he is ambitious.

With this understanding it is well to keep in mind that a stampede of the convention to Cleveland is not improbable. In addition to the Democrats who regard Mr. Cleveland as the strongest candidate, there are a good many who would welcome his nomination as an atonement for their wandering off after strange gods eight years ago, when W. J. Bryan led them into the Socialist camp. This does not mean that Cleveland is a certainty by any means, but that he is a probability in the midst of uncertainty.

Tammany has launched an unmistakable boom for Mayor George B. McClellan of Greater New York. Its official organ has brought out a boom edition for McClellan that is being sent broadcast throughout the country. This raises the question as to how long the New York state convention instructions for Judge Parker are to be considered binding. They are good for the first ballot; they may hold to the last, but that is always an open question. The Bryan-Hearst influence can be depended upon for almost anything against Parker, more earnestly than the Tammany influence. The Tammany and Parker men might compromise on Judge Gray; all of the elements might agree upon Robert E. Pattison; or the Parker forces might unite with others for Cleveland to beat the Bryan influences and Tammany's declared preference would compel it to go along. Cleveland is not a candidate, but he is a probability.

No Great Battle Yet.

Unofficial reports from distant points which tell of heavy fighting at the head of the Liao-Tung peninsula are, apparently, anticipatory. There are constant outpost engagements which give rise to the reports of heavy firing in one vicinity or another and there is plenty of movement within the Russian lines, no doubt, to give the impression to correspondents far in the rear that there is action on the front. Official information, however, is entirely of tactical movements, but these are of a nature to induce the belief that a fierce clash of forces is imminent.

At the close of last week Gen. Oku appeared in closest touch with the Russians and ready to begin the onslaught. Now he has fallen back a few miles to the southward and Kuroki's columns are pressing forward slowly in touch, almost, with the Russian line. The Russians surmise that Oku's retirement was inspired by events at Port Arthur or the failure of his transports to reach Pitsewo. Others may conjecture that his movement is a feint to draw the Russians further into the pocket below Hai-Cheng, while Kuroki gets in closer touch with the Russian left flank. One report, indeed, says that while Oku has retired his right wing, he has advanced his left to envelop the Russian right.

At this long distance from the scene and allowing for close censorship on both sides, it looks as though the Japanese are planning to compel Gen. Kuropatkin to fight a decisive battle; that Gen. Kuroki is reaching far up the railroad line to prevent precipitate retreat in that direction; that Oku has merely stepped backward preliminary to the rush forward, and that the Takushan army is up even with Gen. Kuroki's left in position to start the fighting. The extreme deliberation of the Japanese advance indicates the bringing up of heavy artillery and the making of roads over which supplies and reinforcements may come rapidly. The real work may begin at almost any moment now, though it may be delayed to the middle or latter part of this week.

Chinese reports about the disablement of large Japanese ships appear to be based upon the admission of a Japanese officer that they had one torpedo boat sunk and two damaged during the engagement last Thursday and Friday. The authorities at St. Petersburg allow the publication of wireless dispatches concerning the egress of the fleet from Port Arthur harbor, which gratify the Russian populace, but their advices apparently end with Thursday evening, before any damage was inflicted upon their ships.

How soon are we forgotten! The New York papers are giving credit to the Salvation Army for starting a "new scheme" to give employment to Gotham's helpless poor by obtaining permission from landowners to use vacant lots upon which to raise garden truck. This identical scheme was the one originated and made famous by the late Gov. Pingree of Michigan. So inseparably was it connected with his name, indeed, that it earned for him the famous sobriquet of "Potato Patch" Pingree.

The New York Hippodrome has just been incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000, but its St. Louis rival will make it look like 30 cents.

With "Roosevelt and Fairbanks" staring him in the face the campaign poetaster might as well begin to lay in a stock of crutches.

Those "numerous whispers of a dark horse" appear to emanate hoarsely from the direction of Princeton's classic shades.

Kuropatkin, it is announced, has an elaborate plan to rout Kuroki if the latter will kindly permit him to try it.

Looks as though the Russians will soon fulfill their oft-reiterated promise to evacuate Manchuria.

As long as the Japanese hold all the passes, of what use is that Manchurian railroad to the Russians?

Bryan says he doesn't like to play with loaded dice. Or does he only mean against them?

Russia seems determined to get to the bottom of things if her navy can accomplish it.

The McClellan boom is launched. Yes, and upon a mighty uncertain sea.

It isn't the first time a hunk of mince pie has caused trouble.

General Retreat appears to be the officer in command just now.

Talked of in Gotham

By GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—With the remains of the General Slocum lying in the Erie basin for the finish of the inquiry as to the cause of her destruction, and two or three boat and yacht accidents reported since Saturday, one may well ask whether there is ordinary safety in the waters of New York harbor. The weather yesterday was hot and generally tranquil. Then came a squall and over went a yacht and some smaller boats, with a sad tale of loss of life. Happily, the excursion steamers, with their enormous loads of passengers, passed through the ordeal in safety. There have been no new calamities like that on the General Slocum, and it is hoped there will not be any. At the same time, the emotions of New Yorkers are keyed up to so painful a pitch that even the report of a single drowning sends a shock to the soul such as seldom was experienced in times gone by.

The computation of more than 1,000 victims on the General Slocum seems to have taken the nerve out of everyone. There are excursions sent out every day, and some of them are nearly as large as that on the General Slocum, but it is only when the ship has been carefully examined from bowsprit to taffrail and every member of the crew has been stationed at his proper post that the captain gives the word to cast off and signals "go ahead." If all these precautions had been taken on the General Slocum on that fatal morning there would be 1,000 women and children alive who are in their graves—many of them unmarked—today.

That is past and gone, however. It is useless to talk about what might have been. All that can be done now is to guard against repetitions of the slaughter from a similar cause, and that is being done with excellent effect. It never was so safe to go on a boat excursion in the waters of New York as it is now.

Another Disaster at Paterson.

Paterson, N. J., showed a disposition to a little diversity in its mishaps yesterday. An ice house blew down with a year's ice crop, and killed a man. The disaster was sad enough, but seems trifling compared with what Paterson has passed through, with floods, fires, tornadoes and riots in the last two years.

Likes America the Best.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, was on Broadway today. He arrived yesterday from Europe, where he has been for a few months, and intends to stay on this side for some time. He looks as big and athletic and boyish as ever, as he shook hands up and down the Rialto until his arm must have ached. It is good news to many friends that he will not take up his permanent residence abroad, as has been said. He likes America too well for that. He says he is an American and prefers to remain in his own country.

Bull Fight in Broadway.

It is not often that a genuine bull fight takes place in Broadway, but there was such an incident near Twenty-ninth street early yesterday morning. An Italian was riding down the thoroughfare on a bicycle when he managed to run into a thoroughbred Jersey bull, which was being led to the ferry, with the impact that hurled the Italian from his wheel and broke his machine to nothing. His hot southern blood boiled over, and drawing a penknife, he charged the bull in the rear and stabbed him several times. The man who was leading the creature had trouble in restraining him, but at last with the aid of a policeman the toreador was separated from his victim and everything was well, except with the wheel. The bull's owner and the Italian each claimed damages and have exchanged cards.

Some Hot Air at Coney.

The worst of Coney Island on these hot days is that you are liable to strike an off-shore breeze, which is the hottest thing in the way of wind that ever was produced anywhere in this part of the country. There was one of these pesky "land winds" yesterday and the Coney Island holiday maker has been grumbling all day about it. Most of those who sought the seashore yesterday to cool declare that it was much worse than Manhattan. But no one who experienced the fiendish heat of this borough from sunrise to sunset, would believe it.

Dowie Is Played Out.

Dr. Dowie is not making much of a sensation in New York this time. He played himself out as a novelty before he went to Australia and Europe, and he is regarded now merely as an old scold, who is original enough to be amusing for 10 minutes. After that he is tiresome.

Slocum Horror Stimulates Swimming.

According to the official in charge of a floating bath on the East Side, the General Slocum has doubled the number of girls who are learning to swim. He declares that by fall, if the present rate of increase in pupils continues, there will be 2,500 boys and girls who will be able to swim who could not swim a stroke last summer. This is encouraging and doubtless is true, for never was there such a general realization of knowing how to swim as is apparent in this city now.

Seem to Enjoy Congestion.

Notwithstanding that Greater New York is so congested in some parts, there are thousands and thousands of acres toward the sea coast, in the neighborhood of Flatbush, Bath Beach, Coney Island, Bensonhurst and other outskirts where there is hardly a house to be seen. Long Island vegetable gardeners are still tilling the fields there, in spite of the effort of land companies to sell lots an easy terms for homes.

It is peculiar to New Yorkers to stay in one spot, and that the most densely populated they can find. If they do not care to live on Long Island, they could go to New Jersey where a large part of the country within 20 miles of this city is in almost is primeval condition. Plenty of New Yorkers live in a close neighborhood and seem to prefer it.

City Dealing in Sheep.

In Central park is a flock of fine Dorset sheep, rather an uncommon possession for an American park anywhere. They have been increasing so rapidly that the city will have to sell some of them, and there will be an auction sale on Thursday of a three-year-old ram, with a registered pedigree, 8 ewes and 22 ram lambs. The sheep are all of fine quality and fanciers along this line will have an opportunity to pick up something choice. The city obtained 600 pounds of fleece from its flock this spring, and this also will be knocked down to the highest bidder.

Senator Platt Will Stay at Home.

Senator T. C. Platt is at the Oriental hotel, one of the pleasantest of the more exclusive resorts near New York. It is an easy stroll from Manhattan beach, of which it is practically a part, save that it is away from the rabble of daily trippers. Senator Platt had intended to sail for Europe on the 12th of July, but has changed his mind. He means to stay at home and watch the presidential campaign.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Any nation that has the power to control others to their advantage and for the betterment of the world at large, is in duty bound to exercise this power.

A nation is simply an individual member of the world colony and does not essentially differ from the individual in the community, neighborhood or family.

Every powerful nation is the big brother of its weaker sisters, and neighbor to all.

The duty of a neighbor is to assist any who are in need and particularly those who are in distress.

The big brother is the defender of his sisters against any or all who may treat them otherwise than respectfully and kindly. This is not only gallantry, but it is duty. For this has he strength and skill and should have courage to match. If he lack courage then he not only acts the coward part, but that of the bully, for all bullies are cowards.

* * * * *

There are those among us who still condemn this nation for interfering in behalf of disturbed and distracted Cuba, and particularly for taking charge of the Philippines and assuming the responsibility of schooling, training and fitting their inhabitants for self-government.

America is Cuba's big brother, naturally and logically, and was duty bound to step in and defend her against abuses inflicted by those to whom she was bound as a slave, or at best as a mere servant.

And that is all this government did, and it did it so well that Cuba is now developing into a most accomplished, as well as a beautiful and bountiful sister—a sister that any nation on earth might well feel proud to own.

Nor have we any reason to feel ashamed of our adopted children, named respectively Porto Rico and Hawaii. They are both growing finely and give great promise of developing into real beauties, as well as becoming bright jewels in the crown of the great republic.

* * * * *

The Philippines are different.

Here we have a strange and a peculiar people to deal with. They were not even near neighbors to us. In fact, they were scarcely known to our people at all, while they hardly knew us by name.

Is it any wonder that many of our people objected to Uncle Sam undertaking to personally conduct them from a state of bondage to a state of freedom, obligating himself to enlighten them and fit them for self-government?

It is no small task to break down walls of ignorance that have been building for centuries. Nor is it child's play to change the tastes, habits and feelings of a people that have been so long under misrule and kept in darkness.

The darkness of ignorance is essential to the success of misrule.

This being true, all that was necessary in order to bring about the desired change in conditions was to turn on the light.

And, as was to be expected, as the darkness of ignorance disappears, so do misrule, disorder and violence, so that in the due course of time, and a much shorter course than was expected, peace, prosperity and home rule will be fully and firmly established in the Philippines.

* * * * *

It is wonderful how rapidly the light of intelligence banishes the darkness of ignorance.

And then, what a motley horde of ill demons follow the darkness as it recedes into oblivion. Among them the demons of savagery, blood-eaters, head-hunters and slave catchers. Following these are tyrannical rulers, cruel masters and various imps of darkness, including the spirits of superstition.

And last, but not least, bands of anarchists, whose monstrous forms, lighted by flaring torches, are most hideous and fearsome of all. Maddened by defeat these threaten dire vengeance, but their red lights grow more and more sickly as the bright light increases in volume and intensity, until at last they fade and cease to mar the brightness spreading over all.

And as the danger lights die away, so die the mutterings of discontent, leaving peace, prosperity and progress in full control.

And what worthier mission can any nation undertake than to convert a land of darkness into a country of light?

* * * * *

The same spirit of enterprise and intelligence that changed this land of ours from a savage wilderness into the foremost nation on the face of the earth, can effect equally great and wonderful changes elsewhere.

Nor will these spirits rest while there remains a benighted isle in all the seas.

The work will not be done in a day, nor in a generation and hardly in a century, but it will be done, and those who have been reared and trained under the influence of these spirits shall be their ministers to carry them abroad, and their agents to promote them, and their servants to work the final grand results.

For this nation to refuse, much less neglect, to improve an opportunity to help those who need help, would be to hide its light under a bushel, and to proclaim itself selfish, ungrateful and untrue—untrue to the spirits that made it great and grand and powerful.

The power of any nation is the sum of the forces which it represents or controls, and it is as much bound to use these in defending and nurturing infant nations as a mother is to use the forces which she controls to defend and nurture her infant child.

* * * * *

Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy self is as much a law for nations as for individuals.

It may seem a hardship, and it may cost something in money and in effort, to save a neighbor from distress or suffering, but means and strength are given to us to use for just such purposes.

Did not the blessings we enjoy as a nation cost much treasure and many lives? Are not those lives immortal now, and has the treasure not been increased many fold?

Have we not already seen grand results from the effort and treasure invested in Alaska, in Cuba, in Porto Rico, in Hawaii and in the Philippines? Do not these results prove that our missions were not only well chosen, but that we have wrought well?

Active enterprise is essential to the development of the useful individual. Nor is this less true of the individual nation.

The day this nation closes its doors and locks itself within itself, that day will mark the beginning of its decline.

Mistook the Motive.

An old man was sitting in the street car. In the aisle near him stood a young woman. He made a movement to rise as if to give her his seat.

"Never mind, sir," said the young woman, imperatively. "Just keep your seat."

She smiled patronizingly on the old man, who stared and looked dazed. After two blocks more he again attempted to rise, but the young woman pushed him back, explaining politely, "I've stood so long now I don't mind it. Please keep your seat."

"I say, young lady," cried the old man in shrill irritation, "I want to git off! You've made me go half a mile past my street already."—Detroit Evening News.

Tales of the Town

THE STROLLER.

As my street car sped out California avenue, but a short distance beyond the Island avenue bridge, it gradually overtook a wagon drawn by two mules. The vehicle was slowly crawling a steep slope. Evidently the load was a heavy one.

Ever and anon the driver would lean forward and sidewise on his seat. Then would appear a swirling streak against the sky-line, to be followed by a sharp report as the heavy blacksnake whip bit the flank of the nigh mule.

At once the car was abreast with the team and its load. Then it was that I witnessed an action that for devlish cruelty and practiced dexterity certainly earned for that driver a brand new coat of tar and feathers.

On the right flank of the animal next to me appeared a crimson area of flesh about the size of a man's two hands. Little streams of blood crossed and recrossed the tortured space. Yet again would the driver lean forward, and twirling his whip in the air bring the end of the lash down within the confines of that agonized area of quivering flesh. Flickers of pain darted across the animal's eyes as it strove to escape the reach of that merciless goad.

Some day that driver will get his reward.

◇ ◇ ◇

I venture to assert that the most popular waiting place for street cars in this town is at the lower end of Fifth avenue, corner of Market street.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the regular afternoon crowd at this place is that of the eternal feminine. There is a reason for it beyond the fact that the trolleys stop there, since they stop with equal frequency at many other corners along the same route.

If you care to take notice, the next time you are at this corner, you will perceive that a looking glass pillar at the entrance to a candy store there is the cause of it all.

Very young ladies and some not quite so young will start at the opposite side of Market street and approach the reflecting pillar with earnest gaze, evidently trying to determine whether the hat is on straight, or if the manner of walking is a la mode.

If you should happen to pass this corner and a young lady suddenly looks behind her, don't imagine that she is rubbering at you. No, no! She merely wants to see how her skirt hangs in the back.

The proprietor did tell me that these mirrors often crack, but I don't know whether it is so.

◇ ◇ ◇

A certain jewelry store in town has a crack imported chronometer placed in a corner of its display window. The instrument has the reputation of varying, on an average, about two seconds a week.

At several periods of the day, notably at noon and the evening quitting hour, knots of absorbed men gather around this corner of the window. Each has his timepiece ready, and when his turn comes he steps up to the glass and has a look. He wants to ascertain whether his "turnip" has been going fast or slow, and how much.

There is a lot of good-natured rivalry among the members of the group, each man believing that his particular make of movement is the best ever. Betting is often resorted to.

Some men do not care very much what kind of a watch they carry just so it is within 10 or 15 minutes of the right time, since it is but little trouble to set it. But there is a type of man who takes great pride in his timepiece, not so much as regards the external case, but in relation to the movement. He always owns a time-keeping device that will stay right in the seconds all the time. If you ask him the time of day he will give the hour and minute, and then mention the fact, by way of apology, that his watch is 12 seconds fast.

A great nerve specialist says that one of the best things a man can have is a fad. It always keeps his mind interested.

◇ ◇ ◇

There is a certain conductor on the Avalon line who has never heard of Chesterfield. His two most notable features are an unpleasant expression and a strawberry mustache. I came down on his car the other day and have been on the watch for him ever since. The conductor who had been on the car when it left the Pittsburgh side collected the fares and left the car at the traction house in Sandusky street. Here the strawberry mustache man came aboard.

When the car arrived at the Carnegie library corner a few passengers got on whose nickels the surly conductor gathered. Then he ensconced himself against the rear controller and never once relinquished his position during the entire trip. Many women were on the car who had full market baskets and bundles of various sorts. When they wanted to get off they had to be assisted by their fellow-passengers, who would hold the baskets and bundles until the owner had safely alighted and then hand them down to her. Down near Bellevue an old lady of 70 or thereabouts had to be fairly lifted down by the passengers, while the conductor, from his position in the rear, ordered them to "hurry up, please."

◇ ◇ ◇

Three young matrons—old friends—met on tour on a shopping expedition. All wanted to pay the fare downtown and finally an agreement was reached that each would stand her individual expense. However, only one, whom we will call Mrs. A., had "change." Mrs. B. and Mrs. C. were to "make good" when they had their bills changed. Downtown they became thirsty and entered a soda water dispensing establishment. Here was where Mrs. B. was to have her bank note demolished. Mrs. A. took a five-cent quelcher and the other women took ice cream soda at double the price. On the way home Mrs. C. paid the fares and then a conference was held as to how the financial responsibilities lay.

A student of algebra would have jumped at the conclusion that Mrs. C. owed Mrs. B. five cents. These cautious ladies, however, did not take kindly to closing by mental arithmetic a deal involving money. As the arguments advanced, signs of termination became dismal. Mrs. B. paid Mrs. C. the fare just paid for her, and Mrs. C. tendered Mrs. B. a quarter to take out the 10 cents paid for her soda. Mrs. B. didn't have small change aside from the nickel just received from Mrs. C., and owed 10 cents change. Then Mrs. A. handed Mrs. B. a five-cent piece for her soda, who was about to return it for the downtown fare paid for her, when she discovered she would not have the nickel due for soda. Then each took her money back and started over.

The second try came to a stop after Mrs. C. had paid Mrs. A. a nickel for the downtown fare, Mrs. A. had given the same nickel to Mrs. B. for the soda expense, and Mrs. C. had returned to Mrs. C. her original nickel for the fare just paid. So when they alighted they walked three squares out of their way to a drug store to have their money changed into nickels in an effort to work out the combination. An hour later everyone had her money back and threw up the problem, each with the secret impression that she had been worsted.

The Death Roll

James M. Cowan.

James McMichael Cowan, aged 78, one of the "Forty-niners," died yesterday morning at his home, No. 43 Park street, Crafton. Mr. Cowan was born in Robinson township, this county. When gold was discovered in California he joined the Allegheny county band and went to the Pacific coast and established claims in Auburn ravine near Sacramento. After remaining there over five years and having made a small fortune, Mr. Cowan returned and engaged in farming in Robinson township. He later went to the Black hills, South Dakota, and engaged in the mining business, but soon returned east and settled in Mansfield, O. Later he moved to the Fifth ward, Pittsburgh, and in 1892 to Crafton. He was a member of the Crafton Methodist Episcopal church, and is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Hester Sterling, of Pittsburgh; one son, James S. Cowan of Ingraham and one daughter, Miss May Cowan of Crafton. One brother and two sisters, John Cowan of Ohio; Mrs. Amanda Mertz and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelso of Allegheny county, also survive. Funeral services will be held at his late home this evening at 8 o'clock. The interment will be made in Allegheny cemetery.

James G. Armstrong.

James G. Armstrong, aged 54, died at his home in Cheswick yesterday. He was employed as an accountant by the American Bridge Company at its office in Pittsburgh. He was born near the present town of Cheswick and lived in the town for about 12 years. He was married twice. His first wife died soon after he went to Cheswick to live. He is survived by his widow, mother and eight brothers. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a Republican in politics.

Thomas M. Jones.

Thomas M. Jones, aged 48, who was pilot on the steamboat which blew up near Neville island in the Ohio river several years ago, died last night at his father's home in Allequippa. He is survived by his father, James Jones, and three brothers, U. G., Thaddeus and Alexander Jones, all rivermen.

Obituary Notes.

Peter Hill, aged 80 years, who lived near Kittanning, Pa., ate a hearty supper Sunday evening at a neighbor's and then died in his chair.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, widow of John Stewart, died yesterday at her home in Claysville, Pa., aged 75. Her maiden name was Slemmons. She was a member of the Claysville Presbyterian church.

W. H. Firth, the general passenger agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad in Texas, was found dead in his office at Ft. Worth, Tex., yesterday. He was apparently in good health when he reached his office a few hours earlier.

The Rev. Dr. Jason Young of Van Wert, O., died yesterday at the home of the Rev. Percy Y Schelley, his son-in-law, in Easton, Pa. He went to Easton a few weeks ago in search of health. Dr. Young was 88 years old and a prominent member of the Central Ohio conference of the Methodist church.

Word was received in Washington, Pa., yesterday, of the death at Montpelier, Ind., of John Crossland, formerly a well-known resident of Washington county, Pa. He left Washington county three years ago. He was an active Republican and was connected with the Taylorstown Christian church. The body will be brought to Washington.

James Burnes, a wealthy farmer, is dead at his late home at Jacksonville, Greene county, Pa. He served during the civil war in the Eighteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, and is survived by a widow and six children, Miss Lucy Burnes, a teacher in the Waynesburg, (Pa.) schools; John, William and Ray of Jacksonville, and Harry and James of Washington, Pa.

Ex-Sheriff August L. Miller, aged 50 years, died yesterday at Cumberland, Md. He was a native of Germany, but lived in Cumberland many years, engaging successfully in the shoe, restaurant and laundry business, besides serving a term as sheriff of Allegany county. Mrs. Miller, a daughter, Miss Reita, and a son, John G. Miller, of the Allegany county bar, survive.

Michael O'Neill, 57 years old, for 22 years a contractor of Greensburg, died Sunday night. Mr. O'Neill was a native of Ireland. He is survived by his widow and these children: The Rev. Father Thomas L. O'Neil, of the faculty of St. Cyril's college, Chicago; James of Greensburg; Mrs. Patrick Kallecher of Pittsburgh; Michael, Jr.; Celia, Margaret and Genevieve of Greensburg.

Arthur White is dead at his late home at Monaca, Pa., aged 75. He leaves a widow, four sons, Stephen M. of Browns postoffice; James A. of Rochester, Pa.; John and Homer of Monaca, and two daughters, Mrs. J. H.

BIG COAL DEAL HAS BEEN CLOSED

Washington County Coal Company Adds 600 Acres to Its Holdings on the Wabash.

LAST LARGE TRACT TO BE HAD

The largest deal in Washington county coal lands for many months past has just been concluded between the Washington County Coal Company and several landholders near Patterson's mills on the new Wabash railroad. By this deal about 600 acres of land pass to the coal company, adjoining the 617 already owned by that concern and giving it a frontage on the Wabash.

The sellers are G. L. Scott, George Cunningham, J. J. Gillespie, J. C. Gillespie and George Gillespie and the Gillespie heirs. The price paid was in excess of $100 an acre and somewhat below the price which the same quality of coal in that section has brought in previous sales.

The deal was closed by John W. Bolleau, the Pittsburgh coal expert, representing the coal company. This company is composed of about a dozen Western Pennsylvanians, with Capt. M. S. Marquis, the New Castle banker, as president. Capt. Marquis is well known in Pittsburgh bank and coal circles.

Considerable satisfaction is felt by Capt. Marquis and his associates in securing this land, as it gives the company about the only considerable section of Pittsburgh vein coal left in Washington county, outside of the holdings of the large concerns. All around this tract lie the properties of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, Wabash Coal Company, Pittsburgh Terminal Railway and Coal Company, Pittsburgh-Buffalo Company, W. L. Scott & Co., Capt. S. S. Brown and Judge John B. Steele of Greensburg. There may be said to be no more available tracts of considerable size in this field. This tract lies within the 22-mile radius of Pittsburgh.

The plans for the formation of the Union Coal Mining Company, which is to take over the Washington county coal land holdings of the closed State bank of Pittsburgh, are advancing rapidly and the formal application for a charter will be made in a few days. The directors of the bank have shown their faith in the plan by subscribing to $10,000 of the stock and the success of the plan no longer admits of doubt. The most important depositors of the bank have in many cases asked that their share of the dividend to be paid on the deposits be applied to purchasing stock of this company.

HELD LAST MEETINGS.

Ministerial Associations Yesterday Concluded Sessions Until September.

Bishop M. C. Harris, who was recently appointed bishop to Japan and Korea by the Methodist Episcopal church, addressed the Methodist Episcopal Ministerial association yesterday morning. He has spent many years among the Japanese, and in his address paid them high tribute as an enlightened people, laying great stress upon the fact that they are bound to be winners in the present conflict.

All ministerial associations which had not already adjourned, held their last meetings for the season yesterday, and will not resume until September. The Rev. J. T. Gibson addressed the Presbyterian clergymen on "Pontius Pilate." The United Presbyterian association was addressed by the Rev. R. C. Wylie on "The Gospel of the Kingdom."

The Allegheny Lutheran association heard an address by the Rev. J. H. Main and elected the following officers: President, the Rev. C. A. Boorv; vice president, the Rev. H. C. Michael; secretary, the Rev. W. L. Hensen; treasurer, the Rev. J. L. Lawson.

JOSEPH WAS A BACKSLIDER.

A Mission Convert Could Not Stand Prosperity, and Went to Claremont.

The penitence of Joseph Daugherty was short lived, and yesterday morning he, in company with Ellen Bruce, was arraigned before Magistrate Stewart at Central police court on complaint of Mrs. Margaret Long, the latter and her husband conduct a mission at 2116 Forbes street and Daugherty was one of the first converts. He was allowed to sleep in a room in the rear of the place and all was well.

A few days later Mrs. Long found the Bruce woman in the room and the latter declared Daugherty had stolen her clothing so that it was impossible for her to leave the place. While Mrs. Long was finding clothes for her, Daugherty came back and took the few of her belongings which remained.

"Then we thought it was time to let the law take its course," said Mrs. Long, in concluding her testimony. "I would rather convert these people to Jesus, but there are times when we have to bring them to jail."

Daugherty was fined $25 or 90 days to the workhouse, while the Bruce woman was discharged.

WEINGARTNER TO CONDUCT OPERAS IN NEW YORK

MUNICH, June 27.—(Special.)—Felix Weingartner, the famous Bavarian leader who recently was knighted by Prince Regent Luitpold of Bavaria, has accepted an offer to conduct a series of operas in the Metropolitan opera house in New York in February next. When seen today he said that he might start on a journey throughout the United States when he had finished his engagement at the New York opera house. In that case he will take with him a number of Germany's most celebrated musicians.

Mine Tipple Is Dynamited.

MEYERSDALE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—The tipple at the Meager mines in the upper Meyersdale region last night was blown to atoms with dynamite. The strike inaugurated December 16 of last year is still on, although many of the mines are being operated with imported labor. Last week the Meager mine was started with non-union men.

Steel Plant for Meyersdale.

MEYERSDALE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—A board of trade was organized here with C. W. Truxal, president; E. R. Floto, secretary; Hugo Lorentz, vice president, and E. M. Beachley, treasurer. The sum of $15,000 was raised and bonds to the amount of $20,000 are being disposed of for the removal of a steel plant here from Huntington, W. Va. The promoters of the industry are Pittsburgh people.

Considering Jail Plans.

The sub-committee of the prison board met yesterday and began considering the specifications for the jail enlargement. The task of going through the details is a tedious one and several sessions may be necessary to complete the work and make any changes.

MAKES NOAH'S DOVE LOOK LIKE A SPARROW

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

MORRISTOWN, N. J., June 27.—(Special.)—It may be that a message from the besieged garrison at Port Arthur has arrived in Northern New Jersey. A carrier pigeon terribly exhausted alighted at the eastern end of the Oxford tunnel yesterday and was picked up by E. L. Linaberry, the operator at the tunnel. Around its leg was a metal band bearing the sign P 10,732. Under its wing was a thin sheet of tissue paper on which was typewritten this:

"Pt Art 6-16-04. Have no fear for our safety. Provisions will hold out two years. Ammunition will last indefinitely.

BIGELOW BUYING MANY ANIMALS FOR THE ZOO

He Will Purchase Two Elephants, Zebras, Giraffes, Ostriches and Other Specimens Now on Exhibit at St. Louis Exposition.

Director Bigelow intends to purchase a large number of animals to add to the city zoological gardens in Highland park. The director yesterday afternoon received a call from Lawrence Hagenback, son of C. J. Hagenback, who is owner of probably the largest collection of animals in the world. Hagenback was accompanied to the director's office by Ernest Tretow, superintendent of the Highland zoo. Director Bigelow intends to purchase two elephants, some zebras, giraffes, ostriches and many other specimens. He received from Hagenback prices and photographs of animals from which the director will make a selection.

Bigelow said that he would make his choice soon. Some of the animals he will purchase are now on exhibition at St. Louis and will be brought direct from St. Louis to Pittsburgh when the exposition is over. By this means the city will save much expense of transportation. Hagenback arrived yesterday from St. Louis.

Director Bigelow is particularly anxious to get two more elephants. There is now only one elephant at the zoo, its mate having died about a year ago. Bigelow claiming it was poisoned by persons who sought to discredit the administration. Quite a number of other animals will be purchased to replace those which the director says were poisoned.

The director said an elephant would cost about $1,500 or $2,000. He was asked where he would get the money and if councils had made an appropriation for the purchase of animals.

"Oh, I will pick the money up somewhere, but there is one thing certain, and that is I will not pay for them myself as I have done," said Bigelow. "When I was put out of office a few years ago I had $26,000 worth of animals in the zoo which I paid for myself."

PURE FOOD CRUSADE IS WELL UNDER WAY

Many Milk Dealers Are Prosecuted and Car Loads of Vegetables Condemned.

An unusually active campaign against impure food has been inaugurated by the Pittsburgh bureau of health, and as a result large quantities of vegetables are being condemned daily, while many suits are brought against dealers who sell adulterated milk.

Inspector John Friday visited the South Side market early Saturday morning and caused consternation among the dealers by condemning a wagon load of cucumbers and several wagon loads of peaches, all of which were showing signs of decay. The sale of several smaller lots of vegetables was also tabooed. Saturday the inspector went to the Sixteenth street produce yards of the Allegheny Valley railroad, where two car loads of potatoes were condemned.

Supt. Moore of the health bureau stated yesterday that great difficulty is experienced in preventing decayed vegetables from being put on the market at this season of the year. The home grown vegetables are not quite ready yet and most of the produce is brought long distances by rail. The heat of the past week has caused many car loads to spoil.

The crusade against the selling of adulterated and impure milk continues, and yesterday the following dealers were tried before Alderman Long on informations made by Milk Inspector Samuel P. Adler. In all cases where the charge was the first to be filed against the dealer he was let off upon payment of costs. The defendants and their fines were:

Louis Adler, Townsend street, $10; B. Gasper, Grant street and Sixth avenue, $10; R. Wechler, 1718 Center avenue, costs; R. Rosenberg, 1418 Penn avenue, costs; M. & C. Strauss, 1330 Penn avenue, costs; J. Spanger, 1620 Center avenue, $10; L. Suyderman, 1624 Center avenue, $10.

NO WORKER MOLESTED.

Gen. Bell Declares That Colorado Rids Herself Only of Non-Workers.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., June 27.—Gen. Sherman M. Bell, who is governing Teller county under martial law, has issued another statement for publication, in which he says:

"Not 10,000 lies being written about me. I am acting under orders from the governor of the state of Colorado. He stands for peace and quiet and good government, and has instructed me to see to it that the Western Federation of Miners shall not directly or indirectly murder any more men, and they shall not. So far as placing Denver under martial law is concerned, that rests solely with the governor.

"Provided he should see fit to do so, I will see to it that hundreds of bad men are deported, and after martial law has finally been called off, if the citizens permit the cattle I intend to deport to return, that will be their business. No man who wants to work will be molested, but the person who lives solely and only by his mouth, provided Gov. Peabody gives me the word, will have to emigrate. The time for temporizing talk in Colorado has passed. What we ought to do now is to act."

TWO RELIGIOUS RALLIES.

Epworth Leaguers and Christian Endeavorers in Session at McKeesport.

The opening session of two important religious gatherings took place last night in McKeesport. In the First Methodist Episcopal church the McKeesport district of the Epworth league held a reception for visiting delegates, about 150 having arrived yesterday. The church has been handsomely decorated and the first business session will be held this morning.

The rally of the Christian Endeavor workers of the Christian churches in Allegheny county began last night in the First Christian church. The feature was an address by the Rev. George N. Snively of St. Louis. The Rev. A. T. Gordon, pastor of the church, is in charge of the rally.

PITTSBURGH WOMAN HURT AT LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Emily Scholl of Pittsburgh, daughter of Capt. Max Sebolt, local superintendent of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, is at the home of her parents with a fracture of the left ankle. With her mother and sister, Mary, they were driving near La Grance when the horse became unmanageable and started to back, the vehicle going over an embankment, in leaping Mrs. Scholl sustained the injury. The horse and carriage rolled to the ground, 30 feet below. Mrs. Sebolt and her unmarried daughter leaped before the accident, Mrs. Scholl remaining in an effort to control the horse.

Portrait of Stevenson Unveiled.

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND, June 27.—Lord Rosebery unveiled a bas-relief portrait of Robert L. Stevenson in St. Giles cathedral today. The bronze tablet is the work of the American sculptor, St. Gaudens, the funds for which were subscribed in America and Great Britain. In the course of his remarks Lord Rosebery said the true memorial to Stevenson would be in the school he had founded, for there was an infinite number of his readers and almost idolaters of his works throughout the world.

Judge's Wife Used Revolver.

Thieves yesterday morning forced an entrance into the home of Judge Elliot Rodgers at California and Termon avenues, Allegheny, but were frightened away by Mrs. Rodgers, who fired a revolver at the men as they stood in the yard. Lieut. Adam Neumer made an investigation and found that the thieves had been in the cellar, but failing to get to the first floor by this means were trying to force a window when shot at.

WARNING AGAINST THE DEADLY TOY PISTOL

Authorities of Both Cities Will Strive to Prevent Death from Dreaded Tetanus.

The bureau of health today will issue a public warning against the use by children of toy pistols during the Fourth of July celebration. Last year a score or more of deaths in this city were due to the little weapon and the resultant cases of tetanus.

The warning will first advise against the use of toy pistols, and will then give instructions to parents so that the proper first aid can be given should children be injured. The notice will state that above all things it is necessary to keep the wound open until a physician can examine the injury.

The tetanus germ is propogated almost entirely in street dust and stable. Dr. B. A. Booth of the health bureau declared yesterday that in almost every case where tetanus, or lockjaw, develops it is found that the victim had an accumulation of dust on the hands at the time of the accident. The wad from the toy pistol drives this dust into the flesh and the disease develops.

Ordinance Officer William Penwell of Allegheny yesterday issued an order prohibiting dealers in fireworks or firearms from selling dangerous explosives to children under 16 years of age. It is the intention of the Allegheny police to prevent, if possible, a repetition of the injuries and deaths that occurred last year from the effects of the toy pistol.

A heavy fine will be assessed upon anyone in McKeesport who attempts a premature celebration of the Fourth. Sunday night Mayor Falkenstein has issued an order to the police to arrest anyone discharging fireworks on Sunday, and has announced that offenders will be punished to the full extent of the law. Dealers have been warned against the sale of dangerous explosives and dynamite canes.

BURNESS ELECTROCUTED.

Sailor Born in Butler Pays for Murder in Sing Sing Prison.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Frank Henry Burness, one of the most remarkable prisoners that ever occupied the death house at Sing Sing prison, went to his death in the electric chair today. With a smile on his face he walked from his cell, and seating himself in the chair assisted the men in adjusting the straps which were to bind him. Four electric shocks were given before he was pronounced dead.

The crime for which Burness was executed was the killing of Capt. George B. Townsend of the schooner Charles Buckley last November, but he also confessed to having murdered no less than four persons. Townsend was killed during a dispute over wages amounting to about $20, which Burness claimed was due him.

Burness was born in Butler, Pa., 44 years ago and had followed the sea nearly all his life. He had refused religious consolation and there was no clergyman with him at the end.

NAKED WILD MAN CHASED BY POLICE

Allegheny Officers Had an Exciting Hunt for Negro in Highwood Cemetery.

MANY WOMEN FRIGHTENED

A man-hunt, the principals in which were an insane and naked negro and a squad of policemen under Lieut. John Bolland, with a following of excited civilians, caused a sensation in the northern part of Allegheny yesterday. The negro, who is known as "the wild man," was stark naked and was chased for miles by the police. He was fired at repeatedly, but was unhurt. The police declare he is the most fleet-footed human being they ever saw.

For almost two weeks complaints have been sent to Allegheny Central station that a giant negro, without the meanest garment to cover his nakedness, has been infesting the quiet driveways of Highwood cemetery, and, although apparently frightened at the appearance of any one, he has had an equally shocking effect upon those who have encountered him. Only in the early morning and just before sundown has he made his appearance and his hiding place seems as mysterious as his coming and going.

While planting flowers on the grave of a child yesterday a woman who later ran to the home of Supt. Ferguson was almost overcome with fright at the sight of the big African who was seen crashing through the bushes back of the cemetery. With a scream the woman started for the home of the superintendent and almost fainting, told what she had seen. A telephone message was sent to the police and Lieut. Bolland, of the Allegheny police, with a squad of men, responded to the call. They were joined by a party of citizens and a search of the woods in the remote parts of the big burial ground was started.

[illegible] was a fugitive could be found. Naturally, the search was conducted with high-strung excitement. Many of the crowd in the thickets of Riverside park, [illegible] were sure that they had seen the wild man. Others declared that they had seen him in the distance. One through the Duquesne park district and beyond the city limits, toward West View the two officers pursued the fleeing negro, firing as they ran. His wind and limbs proved superior to those of the officers and they lost sight of him as he disappeared over a hill near the Five-Mile house on Perrysville road.

Supt. Ferguson of Highwood cemetery said last night that he had heard first of the so-called "wild man" about two weeks ago, and since then had twice seen him. The gardeners about the grounds have seen him frequently and on each occasion he has run away swiftly, evidently fearing the presence of a human being. Several times Policeman Stratton has gone into the cemetery to look for the negro after the latter had frightened some woman, but never found him. On several occasions the man has been seen early in the morning, prowling about the residence of Supt. Ferguson, and it is supposed he lived on what he finds on nocturnal forage expeditions. The police will keep a watch on the cemetery and Riverview park for several days hoping to catch him should he return to his usual haunts.

BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex Are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organs.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Listen to What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do for You Without Charge.

Doubtless hundreds of thousands of women all over the United States have seen Dr. Hartman's offer in the papers—how he has undertaken to treat every woman suffering with any form of female disease who will write to him, free of charge.

To those who have not heard of this it may be said that Dr. Hartman is a physician and surgeon of great renown in medical circles, especially in the treatment of those diseases in which women alone have to fear.

He has arranged to answer all letters that are sent to him from women troubled with any form of female weakness, free of charge, giving the benefit of knowledge which has cost him forty years to accumulate.

The medicines he prescribes are within the reach of any woman, and she can get them at any drug store.

All she is required to do is to send her name and address, together with her symptoms, duration of sickness and age.

Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Mrs. P. Schug, corner Lake and Orange streets, Appleton, Wis., writes:

"Before my daughter was born I suffered with intense backaches and a very tired, wornout feeling, and felt that I must take something to sustain my strength. So many of my friends had used Peruna and praised it so highly that I decided to try a bottle or two. I found to my great relief that it reduced my backache and really strengthened me in a wonderful manner under the circumstances."—Mrs. P. Schug.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures, in one case simply because it cures the catarrh. In these cases we have on file many thousand testimonials like the ones given here. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic and grateful letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

MRS. M. BRICKNER.

Mrs. Brickner's Remarkable Recovery Due to Peruna.

99 Eleventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious, I had headaches, pains in the back and frequent dizzy spells, which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

PROPOSAL MADE BY MRS. PHIPPS

Would Settle With Husband for $3,500,000, and Children Half the Time.

P. C. KNOX IN CONSULTATION

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DENVER, June 27.—The proposition of Lawrence C. Phipps to give to his wife the income of $5,000,000 and upon his death bequeath her the principal, provided she relinquishes all claim upon the children and surrenders all moneys and securities as well as the Denver and Pittsburgh mansions, has been answered by Mrs. Phipps. Her attorneys this morning made a counter proposition, agreeing that if the husband accepts she will not oppose his suit for absolute divorce.

The counter proposition is that Mr. Phipps must pay her $3,500,000 in cash as well as allow her the custody of little Helen and Dorothy one half of each year. In making the proposition Mrs. Phipps has given her husband to understand that it is final, and that she will not recede one particle. If he refuses she has threatened to enter counter-suit for divorce in Pittsburgh, have the charges aired and finally demand the entire custody of the children.

Mr. Phipps was in consultation with Attorney Gerald Hughes the greater part of this morning, while Platt Rogers, who arrived from New York this morning, received a number of telegrams from Mrs. Phipps.

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—(Special.)—A conference was held today looking to the settlement of the marital troubles between Lawrence C. Phipps and his wife. It was held at the residence of Attorney General Knox, at Valley Forge. None of the principals were present.

The attorney general, who is an intimate friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Phipps, represented the husband, and James M. Beck represented Mrs. Phipps. Mr. Beck came to the city late Sunday evening and registered at the Walton. He took an early train for Valley Forge. The attorney general's carriage met him at the station and he was driven out to the farm house. After talking the matter over for half an hour the two attorneys separated, the attorney general going to Washington and Mr. Beck to New York.

While neither would talk, it is the impression that the attorney general made a proposition to which Mr. Beck on behalf of the wife offered a counter proposition. The matter was left open for future consultation.

Pending the development of the overtures for settlement, it is probable that the divorce proceedings will not be pushed.

WILL ACCEPT HARBISON SITE OR ELSE REBUILD

Trustees of Western Theological Seminary Met and Considered Recent Offer.

Trustees of the Western Theological seminary met yesterday afternoon in the Second Presbyterian church, Penn avenue, to consider the advisability of accepting an offer from Samuel P. Harbison, president of the board of trustees, of a grant of 10 acres on the Brighton road, Allegheny, upon which to erect a new seminary and abandon the present site on Ridge avenue. After a lengthy discussion the trustees adjourned without taking any definite action, but concluded either to accept the offer or erect new buildings on the present site of the seminary.

Mr. Harbison, after calling the meeting to order, formally offered the proposed site to the trustees for consideration. He then relinquished the chair to Dr. W. J. Holland, vice president, and withdrew from the meeting in order that his presence might not cause a restraint. After long deliberation and the views of the trustees who had seen the proposed site, it was decided to defer final action until all of the trustees had viewed the property and the meeting was adjourned to Wednesday afternoon, July 6, to meet in the rooms of the Presbyterian board of freedmen, Bessemer building.

In considering the adoptability of the site offered several arguments were advanced implying that the new site would not be as accessable as the present location, which led to the discussion of a proposition to rebuild on the present site. This suggestion met with the approval of a number of the trustees and when the meeting did adjourn the prevailing sentiment was that, even if Mr. Harbison's offer was not acceptable, the seminary was assured of a new modern home.

MINERS TO HELP ORPHANS.

President Dolan Promises Some Reciprocity on Occasion of Big Outing.

Ten thousand miners employed in Allegheny county, members of district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, will aid in making the orphans' picnic at Calhoun park July 13 and 14 a financial success, Patrick Dolan, president of the branch, owing to illness was unable to attend a meeting of the picnic committee Sunday night, but yesterday he sent word to the Rev. Father Lynch, in charge of the orphan asylum, that the miners, irrespective of religious beliefs, would do all in their power to help clear the remaining $26,000 debt which hangs over the institution. President Dolan said:

"We all know how the institution is conducted and how worthy of aid it is. Time and again, when mine explosions have happened, among the first to take care of the children made fatherless has been Father Lynch of the orphan asylum. The offer of the asylum to take care of all the children temporarily at the time of the Harwick disaster is one the miners will not forget. We intend to make this year a big success financially. There are thousands of miners within a day's ride of Calhoun park and unless I miss my guess quite a number will attend the outing on July 13 and 14."

The Rev. Father Lynch stated yesterday that from the manner in which applications for tickets were being received the sale would be a record breaker. Close to 30,000 have been distributed thus far. The demand for booth locations continues. At next Sunday night's meeting of the general committee the "Ham Brigade," composed of the wives of the chairmen, will make its report. It is understood that 1,000 hams are promised for the two days' outing.

MURDER BILL IGNORED.

Although Convicted of Assault Grand Jury Refuses to Hold Ryan for Dean's Death.

The grand jury acted upon a large number of bills yesterday, and among them was one charging S. L. Ryan with murder, which was ignored. Ryan was charged with having caused the death of Ben Dean, colored, of 1015 Wood alley, Braddock. Ryan is now serving a term in the workhouse, having been convicted of felonious assault and battery on the man he was alleged to have killed. On November 10, 1903, a fight occurred in Watson's saloon, 50-58 Washington street, and Dean was hit on the head with a bottle or glass, said to be in the hands of Ryan. Dean had his skull fractured and was forced to have silver plate put in his skull, under the skin. He entered suit against Ryan, who was convicted in February of this year.

Shortly after the trial an abscess formed on Dean's brain which caused his death. The coroner then charged Ryan with murder, as the death had been caused by the wound Ryan was convicted of inflicting.

The true bills returned by the grand jury are as follows: Fraudulently making a false sworn statement, J. Henry Jahn (2), Linnis Wolford (2); misdemeanor in office, B. C. Barton; misdemeanor, John A. Cubbage, Florence Minshall, Angello Manto; felony, John A. Cubbage; felonious assault and battery, Vito Puglio et al; assault and battery, Paul Cornelius, Louis A. Gruber, Edward Hirshfelder, Abraham Jakson, Joseph Mandrino, Clifford A. Poe, Nick Simon, William Tiernan, Ernest E. Warne; selling liquor illegally, Vene Lute (2); false pretense, C. C. Caldwell (2), Nick Lovejoy, Joseph Hyde (3), John McNeally; larceny by bailee, Meyer Gutman, Charles Sloan, Max Weinorovitz; receiving stolen goods, Mary Getsey, Alexander Walko, Mary Walko.

MILES CAN'T WAIT FOR DEMOCRATS

Prohibition Men Want Declaration of Principles from the Army Man First.

MUST BELIEVE IN METHODS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 27.—Indiana Prohibitionists tonight held a meeting which served as an introduction to the national convention. It was attended by upwards of 100 visitors who have arrived for the convention, besides a large crowd of Indianapolis citizens. William Frost Crespin of Akron, O., State Chairman Charles R. Jones of Pennsylvania, National Chairman Stewart and others spoke.

National Chairman Stewart, H. S. Metcalf of Rhode Island, Prohibitionist vice presidential candidate four years ago; Charles R. Jones of Pennsylvania, C. E. Newlin, Indiana chairman, and E. W. Clark, secretary of Indiana, and other leaders of the party, held a preliminary meeting this afternoon.

Mr. Metcalf said that when a party of 10 Prohibitionists, of which he was one, called on Gen. Nelson A. Miles in April, the general evaded questions and wished the convention postponed until after the Democratic national convention. This, it is said, has been his policy since that time. Mr. Metcalf said that, in his opinion, the New England states would demand a man who would make a positive statement of his position, and unless Gen. Miles would make one they would vote against him.

National Chairman Stewart today said: "Gen. Miles is an able man. He has been a consistent friend of the anti-liquor movement and in a broad sense is a Prohibitionist. But those who are pressing forward his name for the presidential nomination by our party this year do not say how he stands on the methods of the Prohibition party. There are probably 2,000,000 voters in the United States who believe in prohibition, but we have never polled on a national ticket more than 300,000 votes.

"We not only want a man who believes in prohibition, but we want a man who believes in the policy and methods of the Prohibition party. Neither Gen. Miles nor his friends have said that he is a Prohibitionist in that sense, and there are many Prohibitionists who believe it wise to nominate a man who has been a Prohibitionist in the party sense of 'the word in the past.'"

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—Prohibitionists of Missouri held a state convention today, nominated a complete state ticket headed by O. J. Hill of St. Louis for governor, and passed a resolution indorsing Gen. Nelson A. Miles as candidate president.

LOCAL PROHIBS LEAVE FOR INDIANAPOLIS

Attorney Homer L. Castle Expects to Be Gen. Miles' Running Mate.

Local delegates to the national Prohibition convention, which will meet today in Indianapolis, left for that city over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad last night. Among the delegates was Attorney Homer L. Castle, who thinks he will be named for second place on the ticket by the convention. Attorney Castle will also, probably, be the temporary chairman.

Mr. Castle says he is in the lead for second place on the national ticket, and that if Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles receives the nomination for president he is certain to be named for vice president. The nominations will probably be made tomorrow afternoon, and among the local delegates Gen. Miles seemed to be the favorite for the head of the Prohibition ticket.

Mr. Castle said Gen. Miles will be nominated by A. W. Dyano of Boston and Mr. Woolley of Chicago will second the nomination. The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton of Allegheny, who has been mentioned for first place on the ticket, will place Attorney Castle's name before the convention for vice president. C. H. Mead of New York will second the nomination. Attorney Castle said that neither Dr. Eaton's nor the Rev. Dr. Silas C. Swallow's name will go before the convention for president. He stated that if he receives the nomination for vice president that is all Pennsylvania will get.

SHEET AND TIN PLATE CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

Will Reconvene After Settlement With Independent Manufacturers.

The joint conference between the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company and the Amalgamated association adjourned last evening. The agreement has been completed with the exception of a few minor details, the terms could have been agreed upon in a couple of hours, but both decided to wait until after the conference with the independent sheet and tin plate manufacturers, which will convene this morning at 10 o'clock, at the Hotel Lincoln.

What the terms of the agreement are both sides refused to state. It was given out that to publish them would have an effect on the conference with the independent manufacturers.

The conference with the independents is not expected to last long. They will be represented by James Nutt, secretary of the Independent Sheet Mill Operators' association. The independents will demand the same concessions as given the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. By the end of the week all scales of the Amalgamated association, with the exception of the puddlers' and finishing scales, will have been adjusted.

AIRSHIP CONTESTANT WANTED IN PITTSBURGH

E. G. Pennington Under Arrest at St. Louis Charged With Fraud.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—E. G. Pennington, a contestant for the prize in the airship contest to be held at the fair, was arrested at the Southern hotel this afternoon by Detective Cordell, on a telegram from the sheriff at Pittsburgh, stating that Pennington is wanted on a warrant charging conspiracy and fraud. Pennington denies that he has had any trouble in Pittsburgh, claiming to be at a loss to understand the arrest. He is in the holdover at the four courts awaiting the arrival of officers from Pittsburgh.

According to newspaper clippings found in his pockets, he took the former prince of Wales, now the king of England, in his balloon on a trip above London. He appears prosperous.

Sheriff Dickson says that he has not requested the arrest of Pennington and knows nothing of the case.

Unless Someone Takes the Job Elliott Will Have No Postoffice

The prospect of having no postoffice, no means of dispatching mail except by carrying it to Pittsburgh to be forwarded, and no chance whatever of getting mail delivered to them, is what the residents of Elliott borough are contemplating at present. The postal authorities have announced that if no applications for the position of postmaster are in Washington in time to have an appointment made by July 1, the postoffice will be closed. The incumbent, Mrs. Jane E. Fairman, has resigned, and as the job does not carry with it an attractive salary, there seems to have been no disposition on the part of anyone to take the office. Elliott becomes part of Pittsburgh on January 1, next, and will then get mail service from the Pittsburgh office. Unless someone comes to the aid of the people at once, the postoffice will be nailed up, and the long-suffering residents will probably have to revert to the ancient method of sending the mails over the hills to Pittsburgh in a stage-coach.

CARLOAD OF CHILDREN DISAPPEARS DOWN TOWN

Trailer With Cargo of Picnickers Lost on Sixth Avenue by Traction Employes—Recovered by an Excited Posse of Citizens.

A street car loaded to the running board with women and children was lost for fully 15 minutes in the heart of the city last night. It was finally recovered through the aid of the police, but not until all lines running down Sixth avenue had been blocked for a time. For a few minutes there were some very excited traction employes, but the three score persons on the lost car enjoyed the matter thoroughly.

The loss occurred in a peculiar manner: The school children of the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, held a picnic yesterday at Kennywood park, the pupils, their parents and friends numbering several hundred persons. About 6 o'clock last night the assemblage started back for Allegheny on special cars.

It was about 8:30 o'clock when a blockade of cars occurred in Sixth avenue at Smithfield street. One of the special cars had stopped at the crossing and the motorman and conductor showed signs of great agitation. A bystander asked the cause of the delay and the wild-eyed motorman declared:

"We have lost a loaded trailer somewhere between here and the Newsboys' home. I saw it when we passed there."

About this time detectives arrived and were appealed to. Under the detectives a search was begun and scouting parties sent out. Irrevelant advice was handed to the posse. Grant street was reached but still no sign of the missing car with its load of human freight. Finally a resident led the officers and traction men around to the part of Webster avenue that lies between Sixth avenue and Grant street. He pointed out the missing trailer.

When starting after the safety stop at Sixth and Webster avenues the draw head of the trailer pulled out, leaving it behind, while the car went on. The next car along pushed it in on the bit of unused track where it was found. The children did not worry because of the stoppage and after the damage had been repaired the journey was continued.

P. R. R. INTERESTS MAY CONTROL THE ATCHISON

Persistent Railroad Rumors to Offset the Gould Activity in the West.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—Harriman and Gould rumors were uncommonly numerous in railroad and financial circles today. One was that Harriman was buying into Atchison, another that Harriman is to make the Chicago & Alton the Chicago outlet of the Union Pacific system; still another, that Harriman and Gould were not in accord in Union Pacific matters and that George J. Gould had already secured franchises and most of the right of way for a new line from Salt Lake to the Pacific.

One of the most persistent of these rumors was that in consequence of Gould activities, both in the east and west, the Pennsylvania railroad was buying stock in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, with which system the Pennsylvania already has close traffic connections. There are many Wall street operators who profess to know facts indicating a prospective change in the control of Atchison. Negotiations for the purchase of the large Boston interests in this property are said to have been under way for some time.

The retirement of Paul Morton from the vice presidency of the Atchison to accept a cabinet office is cited as one indication that an important change is impending in Atchison affairs. Mr. Morton is one of the most forceful factors in the Atchison management, and his friends argue that under continued favorable conditions in the railroad he would not relinquish $30,000 a year to take a temporary political position at $8,000 per annum.

Capitalists who have been heavily interested in Atchison since its reorganization several years ago are reticent about the rumors of a change in control. President Ripley says that he knows nothing about it.

WOMAN EXCOMMUNICATED BY CARDINAL GIBBONS

Is Alleged to Have Deceived Priest to Secure Marriage Ceremony.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 27.—At the order of Cardinal Gibbons, one of the most bitter denouncers of divorce in the Catholic church, Roberta A. Dobbin of this city, who was recently married to George W. Fleckenscildt by the Rev. William Carroll of St. Patrick's church, has been excommunicated for the alleged deception of the priest in regard to a former marriage of Fleckenschildt. In so far as the Catholic church is concerned the marriage is null.

The order is the result of an investigation which has been made by Cardinal Gibbons of the charge that Father Carroll was bribed by a sum of money to perform the marriage ceremony. Father Carroll today stated that Fleckenschildt, a German Lutheran, and Miss Dobbin, who claimed to be a Catholic, from Baltimore, called at St. Patrick's rectory and asked to be married. The priest says he understood they were free to marry and procured the necessary dispensation from Baltimore. Father Carroll says he took all precautions to assure himself that there was no impediment to their marriage. He then performed the ceremony.

A few days afterward the priest received a letter stating that Fleckenschildt was a divorced man. He went to Baltimore, where he saw Fleckenschildt, who admitted that the statement was true and that the woman was aware of the fact.

GEORGE H. WILSON EN ROUTE TO SEE PAUR

Pittsburgh Orchestra Manager Promises Something Interesting Next Season.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—Among the guests at the Holland house today is George H. Wilson, manager of the Pittsburgh orchestra, who sails for Europe on the Oceanic to meet Emil Paur, the newly chosen leader of the orchestra, and to consult with him as to soloists to be engaged for the coming season and on other matters concerning the business of the orchestra. Mr. Wilson will visit Berlin, Munich, Vienna and other continental musical centers.

"I do not know how long I will be gone," he said to The Gazette correspondent today. "My trip is purely a business trip, and I will stay no longer than is necessary to attend to the work which calls me over. I cannot at this time say anything as to the plans for next season's work with the orchestra nor give an idea as to who the soloists will be. I can say this, however, that the orchestra from an artistic standpoint will be better than it ever has been. When I return I will be able to give you something interesting."

Coraopolis Policeman Committed.

Robert Harper, the Coraopolis policeman who shot Frank Craig during a raid at that place Saturday night, was taken to jail last night on a commitment issued by Justice Charles H. Stevenson of Coraopolis, charging him with felonious assault and battery. The name of the complainant was omitted. Craig is still living, although little hope is entertained for his recovery.

DETROIT BUSINESS MEN ON MERCHANT MARINE

Day Spent by Congressional Committee Listening to Opinions of People in Lake City.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DETROIT, June 27.—A sub-committee of the congressional merchant marine commission held a hearing today at the offices of the Detroit board of commerce. Mayor William C. Maybury delivered an address of welcome, in responding to which Senator Gallinger stated the purposes of the commission.

"We are not endeavoring to find reasons to submit to congress," he said, "for the passage of a so-called subsidy law. We desire to hear from men of differing opinions."

William E. Livingston, president of the Lake Carriers association, presented interesting statistics on the business passing through the Soo and Welland canals, as showing the enormous growth of the commerce of the lakes.

"The Suez canal in 1902 saw 10,000,000 tons of commerce pass through its locks, while in the same year the Soo canal saw 36,000,000 tons, and it must be remembered that the Soo canal was open only 215 days, while the Suez canal was open 365," he said.

Referring to the acquisition of the Panama canal zone, Mr. Livingston predicted that the tonnage passing through the Panama canal would not exceed 10,000,000 a year in the first 10 years of its existence. "And it would probably be in foreign bottoms," interjected Senator Gallinger.

A. C. Pessano, president of one of the largest ship yards on the great lakes, advocated a great waterway connecting the lakes and the Atlantic coast. Mr. Pessano favored differential duties, as opposed to ship subsidies. On this point, Senator Gallinger asked Mr. Pessano what would be the result if by adopting the plan of differential duties it was necessary to revoke 30 or more commercial treaties.

Senator Gallinger said he feared that the abrogation of these commercial treaties would mean retallation or possibly a commercial war. Mr. Pessano replied that he really favored a subsidy, but feared it could not be passed by congress, therefore he had become favorable to a plan of differential duties as a compromise.

Fred A. Baker read a paper in which he declared that the people of Michigan are strongly opposed to the granting of any government aid, bounty or subsidy to any private enterprise.

George Burns, ex-president of the trades and labor council of Detroit, said he approved of the principle of protection being extended in the direction of subsidizing the American merchant marine provided American wage earners as a class would be benefited. Mr. Burns objected to the present law that requires ships that receive grants for carrying United States mails to have only 50 per cent of their crews American citizens.

Senator Gallinger suggested that Japanese companies subsidized for $200,000 or $300,000 a year, carried cheap Chinese labor on their ships.

H. P. Morley of Detroit, who is interested in the carrying trade with Cuba, read a paper in which he deplored the fact that trade with Cuba, built up under the recent reciprocity law, was falling almost entirely into foreign hands.

Senator Gallinger interposed that a clause should have been inserted in the law requiring the use of American bottoms. Senator Gallinger said this was a serious oversight. Congressman Grosvenor said the point was brought up at the last minute, but that insistence upon it would have endangered the passage of the bill.

To Appeal Soles Rebate Case.

The old Soles heirs tax rebate case, involving $5,000 in liens upon the estate, was again discussed in Mr. Mc Kenport common council last night. The rebate was granted by common council, but when the matter was before the select branch, common council reconsidered. This reconsideration was determined illegal in court, and a motion was made in common council last night that the city solicitor take the case to the supreme court. The motion passed by a vote of 11 to 7.

For Shooting at Policeman.

Jacob Fuller of Brownsville avenue was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman F. M. King, on a charge of surety of the peace instituted by James Coen, a policeman. Fuller was a boarder in Coen's house and it is alleged that on Sunday afternoon he fired four shots at the policeman, backing up this demonstration with threats that alarmed his landlord.

COFFEE CATARRH

An Unsuspected Cause.

It is curious how many diseases come from a disordered nervous system which locates disease in some part of the body and the primary cause can often be traced to coffee, which first breaks down the nervous system. A Georgian says:

"There is no doubt coffee gave me nasal catarrh. The ceptim in my nose was all gone and the catarrh was eating its way, getting hold of the main bone of the nose. It also affected my sight very much.

"My nose was constantly dripping bloody water, but in two weeks' time after I quit coffee and used Postum Food Coffee in its place, I could see my way very well, the dripping from my nose stopped and my nose finally got perfectly well and healthy as far as is possible for the ceptim to grow back.

"There is no doubt it was a case of coffee catarrh and the cure was made entirely by changing from coffee to Postum. The rest of my family took up the new drink and Postum relieved my wife and little boy of frequent headaches, and what is called 'coffee headache' is not known in our family any more. Our sleep is so much more refreshing.

"We have influenced many people to try Postum and all of them like it better the longer they use it, and most of them say it is better than coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee often works wonders. There's a reason.

GIRL WITNESSED SUICIDE'S LEAP

When Edna Louther Is Arrested She Tells of Seeing a Woman Jump in the River.

BOY DROWNED IN ALLEGHENY

The finding yesterday morning of the body of Marian C. Barnes, aged 29, of 542 Second avenue, who committed suicide Sunday morning by jumping from the Tenth street bridge into the Monongahela river, led to the discovery of several incidents which are unusual in a case of this kind. The woman had quarrelled with a man in the resort where she lived, and after dressing herself carefully about 5 o'clock Sunday morning announced that she was going to commit suicide, and left the house.

Edna Louther, aged 16, of 75 South Nineteenth street, visited Southern park Saturday night in company with William Johns. They returned late, and fearing the wrath of her parents, the girl did not go home, but instead went to a boat house at the foot of South Twelfth street with Johns. At 5 o'clock Sunday morning they left the place and started for the wharf below Smithfield street in a row boat.

When nearing the Tenth street bridge they saw a woman jump from the structure. Before they could reach her she sank. The woman wore a large picture hat, which floated and was recovered by Edna Louther. Yesterday afternoon Edna Louther was arrested by the South Side police on complaint of her mother, who charged her with incorrigibility. When taken to the station house she told of seeing the suicide.

The woman's body was found at the Point bridge yesterday morning and later identified at the morgue. The hat was identified as the property of the dead woman.

William Strothers, aged 12, colored, of Twenty-seventh street, was drowned in the Allegheny river at the foot of Twenty-sixth street yesterday evening. He was in bathing with a number of other boys and got beyond his depth.

At the coroner's inquest yesterday into the death of Harry Breitenstein, a verdict was rendered exonerating John Weil, who, it was alleged, hit the dead man with a shovel. Testimony showed that Breitenstein had died of heart trouble.

PARK CRUSADE WILL START IMMEDIATELY

Sabbath Association Authorized Employment of Detectives to Make Informations.

Collecting evidence against park amusement enterprises, storekeepers and manufacturers who are violating the Sunday law will be begun at once by the Allegheny County Sabbath association. Information against violators are expected to be made before the end of the week. This action was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the association in the Central Y. M. C. A. building, with the Rev. J. T. McCrory presiding.

A committee to select an agent to act for the organization reported and while the name presented was agreeable, the man's identity will not be made known for several days, until he has accepted the position formally. However, the committee invested the sub-committee with power to instruct the agent to employ as many detectives as he thought necessary to collect evidence. An attorney will also be employed. Informations will be made as early as possible against park enterprises which are operated on Sunday and also against storekeepers.

The street railway company is not to be molested and the committee has agreed to conform to the constitution of the Sabbath association which provides for the punishment of all violators of the Sunday law in cases where there has been a precedent established by the courts. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held on Monday afternoon, July 11, in the Central Y. M. C. A. building.

Wilkinsburg Calls Allegheny Minister.

The Rev. C. F. Wishart, pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, was tendered a unanimous call by the congregation of the Second United Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, during a congregational meeting in the church last night. A salary of $2,400 yearly was named.

KING IS TOASTED AND GUNS SALUTE

British Ruler and German Emperor Attend Yacht Club Banquet at Kiel.

DECORATIONS ARE CONFERRED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KIEL, June 27.—Late this afternoon King Edward attended a reception given by the empress on board the Hohenzollern. His majesty chatted affably with many of the empress' guests, who numbered over 200. This evening King Edward, Emperor William and the members of the royal party attended a banquet given by the Royal Yacht club in honor of King Edward, who is an honorary member of the club. The banquet, the preparations for which were most elaborate, was attended by a large number of prominent persons, including all the members of the royal party. The gold cup which King Edward presented to the club, formed part of the table decorations. During the banquet Emperor William proposed the health of King Edward, who responded.

The warships assembled in the harbor fired a salute of 21 guns as the toast to King Edward was drunk. The return of King Edward to the Victoria and Albert, and of Emperor William to the Hohenzollern, was made the occasion for a brilliant torchlight procession. The illuminations of the harbor tonight were most brilliant.

Emperor William and King Edward spent the morning visiting the Germania and the Imperial shipbuilding yards, inspecting the battleship Braunschweig and the latter's recreation rooms. Subsequently their majesties were the guests of Admiral von Koester at luncheon, on board the battleship Kaiser Wilhelm II., whence they witnessed a procession of boats. King Edward conferred the grand cross of the Victorian order on Foreign Secretary von Richofen.

The grand cross of the Victorian order was also conferred upon Admiral von Tirpitz, secretary of the admiralty, and Admiral von Koester and Buechsel, chief of staff of the German navy.

The emperor has conferred the order of the Red Eagle of the first class upon the German ambassador to Great Britain, Count Wolff-Metternich.

Another Elks Concert.

Tomorrow evening Allegheny lodge No. 339, B. P. O. Elks, will give another popular brass band concert. At the last concert, June 15, it was estimated that there were at least 5,000 people in the park opposite the club house. From inquiries as to the date of the next concert, it is safe to predict that the success of the last concert will be repeated.

St. Louis Boodler Pleads Guilty.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—Edmund Bersch, former member of the house of delegates, pleaded guilty today in the criminal division of the circuit court to the charge of bribery in accepting $2,500 for his vote on the city lighting bill. Sentence will be pronounced Friday. Bersch's bond of $35,000 was increased to $55,000, pending sentence.

The Chauncey Piano

We respectfully remind the public of the importance of getting a good piano, no matter how small the sum of money to be expended for an instrument.

Closing Theatrical Bills

Avenue—Rose Coghlan and Vaudeville.

That the average patron of good vaudeville is not beneath the appreciation of a strong dramatic sketch was amply proved yesterday when Rose Coghlan appeared at the Avenue theater with Lynn Pratt in a little one-act drama, the "Ace of Trumps." The piece is founded on the character of "Forget-Me-Not," which Miss Coghlan originally produced at Wallack's theater. "Ace of Trumps" is one of the best sketches of its kind that has been presented in vaudeville. The actress compels her audience to rise to the appreciation of her art, rather than deign to belittle her acting by exaggeration and melodramatic effect in order to catch the applause of the patron of popular-price entertainment. Miss Coghlan has lost none of her magnetism, and the piece is refreshing—a two-fold example of the rare success which a famous actress on the legitimate stage can make in vaudeville. For the last week of the season a good, all-round bill is offered. Kelly and Violette make good their claim to have one of the best mounted acts on the road. Joe Flynn comes out from "behind the book" long enough to win many merry laughs by his stories and songs; the Flying Rathbuns have a new sensation; Harry Davenport proves himself a clever comedian in his singing and talking specialty; the Three Lamoines have a number of novelties in the introduction of great musical instruments; Rose Edyth's Japanese ballet lacks grace and needs rehearsal, but their dancing pleases the people, nevertheless, and the whole program provides desirable warm weather amusement.

Bijou—"The Bowery After Dark."

Mr. and Mrs. Terry McGovern as joint stars are the most conspicuous people in the cast of "The Bowery After Dark," which is the closing attraction of the season at the Bijou. Mr. and Mrs. McGovern, of course, have comparatively little to say, but they have the deep center of the stage all to themselves when the play runs off to lively action. Terry is well known to theatergoers as well as to the followers of the lightweight ring, and more than usual interest centered in the debut of Mrs. McGovern, a girlish-looking little woman with a sweet smile and kindly eyes. As an actress Mrs. McGovern is not a shining light, but the pride she shows in her doughty husband is an inspiration. "The Bowery After Dark" is one of Theodore Kremer's masterpieces. The climax is reached in a snake-pit, but the victim of the villain's machinations manages to get into other jeopardising situations that are quite as thrilling. The company is better than the play deserves. J. Irving White, J. Irving Southard, Harry Fields, Emma Salsbury Southard and Clara Langley carry their roles in a praiseworthy manner. The boxing bout between "Terrible Terry" and his "kid" brother is rather tame, and at yesterday's performance evoked little enthusiasm.

TURNERS FAVOR WOMEN'S RIGHTS

The Committee Recommended That Ladies Should Have a Right to Vote.

RECEPTION ON SOUTH SIDE

Woman's suffrage was recommended in a committee report yesterday afternoon during the second day's session of the North American Turnerbund in Central Turner hall, Forbes street. The report recommended that woman have the right to vote in each of the subordinate societies, but that the right should not be compulsory. The matter will be discussed this morning.

Much business was transacted during the afternoon. The committee on mental development advocated the employment of lecturers to speak on physical culture; the establishment of a national library on physical culture and gymnasium management, and favored the establishing of junior turner societies by every turnverein in the country. In favor of the last suggestion the committee held that unless the younger Germans were encouraged the Y. M. C. A. would attract them with their gymnasiums and the German turnverein would soon become extinct. The report as a whole was unanimously adopted.

The constitution was changed to allow an accused member the right of investigation by a court of inquiry to consist of five members. Two to be chosen by the plaintiff and two by the defendant while the fifth is to be chosen by lot.

Visiting delegates were given a reception by the South Side turnverein in their hall, South Thirteenth street, last night. The house was decorated and a concert rendered by the Pennsylvania state orchestra, assisted by the singing society of the organization. William Kiser welcomed the guests. Among other features were gymnastic exercises by the young people and a double octet dance and electric wand drill by the women. A supper followed.

Delegates from Cincinnati, Newark, N. J., and St. Louis nominated their cities as candidates for the place of the next convention. The selection will be made this afternoon.

The second day's session opened yesterday morning with Gustave Donald of the upper Mississippi district as chairman. Nearly 200 delegates were present. H. C. Bloedel of Pittsburgh was chosen honorary speaker by acclamation. The honor is unusual and has only been conferred once before in the history of the organization.

St. Louis was donated $2,500 to spend on the Olympic games at the world's fair. This includes $2,600 voted St. Louis for the same purpose two years ago.

ABYSSINIA TRAVERSED BY AN AMERICAN LADY

Mrs. MacMullan of St. Louis Given Courteous Treatment. Received by Menelik.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 27.—Mrs. W. N. MacMillan of St. Louis reached London today after traversing Abyssynia at the head of her own caravan. This American is the first white woman to cross Emperor Menelik's country from west to east. She accompanied the expedition organized by her husband in November, 1903, so far as Pokum at the base of the Abyssinian hills. Thence Mr. MacMillan started for Lake Rudolf and his wife went to Adis Abeba, the capital of Abyssinia, where she had a special audience with Emperor Menelik.

Mrs. MacMillan's caravan took four weeks to journey from Pokum to the capital. The American met with every courtesy from the Abyssinian chiefs, while on her way and although she traversed a country supposed to be inhabited by hostile tribes, she saw no sign of unfriendliness. On the contrary, hundreds of supposed hostiles gathered and formed a guard of honor for the caravan for miles along the river bank. Mrs. MacMillan sails for New York July 8.

COLORED RACE TO BE REDEEMED

Thousands Will Be Contributed Here Toward New Jamestown Exposition Company.

NEGRO NOW HELPING HIMSELF

In order to show what part the colored race has had in the development of Virginia and the entire country, the Negro Development and Exposition Company has been formed in connection with the Jamestown exposition, which will celebrate the 300th anniversary of the landing of the English people at Jamestown. In May, 1907, and it was in the interest of this project that Giles B. Jackson of Richmond, Va., delivered an address at the John Wesley African Methodist Episcopal Zion church, Arthur street, last night.

Mr. Jackson stated that he expects to sell at least $10,000 worth of stock in the new organization among the colored people of Pittsburgh before he leaves the city; that he has already put $10,000 of his own money in the work; that at least $100,000 of stock will be sold in different parts of the country, and the money placed on deposit in Richmond, before the next session of the United States congress, when an appropriation of $1,000,000 will be asked to help the plan. He also stated that the Pennsylvania assembly will be asked to give assistance at its next session, because of the reputation of this state as the colored man's friend.

The money is to be used, principally, for the construction of a mammoth building in which the colored man's efforts during the past three centuries will be exhibited. Mr. Jackson assured his audience that the project has the support of all the legislators of Virginia, and that some of the wealthiest white people in that state have already given financial support. He said:

"You colored folks must help yourselves, though, if you would have our white friends do anything more toward the project. This is the greatest transaction the negro has been interested in since he secured freedom and we will succeed, secure our building, bring about more respect for ourselves and cause white people to have a different opinion of us. We have lost a great number of white friends lately; laws have been enacted against us, but we are not complaining. We will answer through this exposition. Everywhere there is talk about the negro problem; but what of that? I think there is no such thing as a 'negro problem' after all. There will not be, at least, if we go ahead and accomplish something and show that we are deserving as producers and as law-abiding citizens—loyal and honest."

A local organization was formed last night to have charge of the work here and was placed under control of the Rev. G. W. Johnson, pastor of the John Wesley church. Mr. Jackson is director general of the Negro Exposition Company, which was formed recently with a capital stock of $800,000.

WILL BOOM COL. M'GRAW FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 27.—(Special.)—Democrats filling two coaches left here today for St. Louis to attend the Democratic national convention. The party was headed by Col. John T. McGraw of Grafton, for whose nomination for the vice presidency a boom has been started by the West Virginia Democrats. These are the advance guard of the West Virginia delegation, and they started early, in order to be present at the celebration of West Virginia day at the world's fair on Wednesday. Senators Davis and Camden will not leave until Saturday.

ROAST CHICKEN ON A MOST WHOLESALE PLAN

More than 400 chickens belonging to William Jackson of Lincoln place, formerly a well known millworker of McKeesport, were cremated in an incubating plant which burned down yesterday morning. Every fowl in the building was burned to death. The loss on the building and chickens will amount to $1,000.

HEAD CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

George W. McPherson, Philadelphia Company Paymaster, Is Fatally Hurt.

VICTIM OF MANY ACCIDENTS

George W. McPherson, aged 32, paymaster for the Philadelphia Company, was fatally injured yesterday by being crushed between two street cars at the corner of Washington avenue and B street Allegheny. The accident occurred at 5:45 o'clock, while Mr. McPherson was bound for his home in Meade avenue, Bellevue, and was the result of his eagerness to witness an accident that had thrown another passenger from the car. In looking back McPherson failed to see another car coming up Washington avenue, and a moment later his head was crushed between the handles on the sides of the moving cars. The attending physicians have little hope of his recovery.

Just before McPherson was hurt another man on the running-board of the car was knocked off by a wagon that was standing between the curb and the track. Several passengers yelled when the man was thrown into the street, and it was this excitement that caused the mishap to McPherson.

Less than three years ago, while on his way home, McPherson was seriously injured by having the tongue of a heavy wagon pierce his side and break his ribs after it had rammed through the side of the car in which he sat. This accident occurred at Duquesne way and Eighth street, and resulted in his confinement to bed for several weeks. While in the country last Thanksgiving day, Mr. McPherson fell from a rig he was driving near Canonsburg. The wheels of the vehicle passed over his ankle, breaking it.

Dr. Markel Is Convicted.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—After a trial lasting three days in the Blair county court Dr. A. R. Markel, a prominent dentist of Tyrone, was convicted of a crime against Miss Viola Beck, daughter of a well known farmer of Warrior Mark, Huntingdon county, while the girl was a patient in the doctor's charge and under the influence of ether. The jury attached to its verdict a recommendation for mercy. Markel will be sentenced tomorrow.

Counsel for Canal Commission.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Charles E. Magoon has been appointed general counsel for the isthmian canal commission. Judge Magoon has been the law officer of the bureau of insular affairs since the office was created in 1899, and his work has been of high character and great value.

AMERICAN SHIPS PRAISED BY KING OF PORTUGAL

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rear Admiral Barker, in reporting to the navy department the visit of the king of Portugal to the Kearsarge while the squadron was at Lisbon, says the king expressed himself very cordially with regard to the appearance of the ship and praised its personnel. The admiral added that the king is a close student of naval affairs, and showed remarkable knowledge of the latest improvements in naval science.

Rug bargains—the real sort, like these, with honest wearing quality in them—are scarce. As all prices sound alike in the newspapers, come in and see these rugs.

Kashmir Room-Size Rugs—9 by 12 ft. $13.50

A big rug for the money, but the best part is the long service they'll give. Oriental colors and patterns. Reversible—with a different color effect on each side.

Seamless Brussels Room-Size Rugs, $20.00

Size 9 ft. by 12 ft. and woven in one piece—not a seam in them. Cost just a trifle more than sewed rugs, but they look better. Patterns and quality are fine.

Princess Axminster Room-Size Rugs, $29.50

Always popular for their beautiful designs and soft colorings. Deep pile. Copies of fine Oriental patterns. 9 ft. by 12 ft. Worth $36.00.

Choice of Wilton Velvet or Pure Wool Smyrna Rugs, $2.50

HEARTH SIZE. 36 Inches By 72 Inches.

The standard makes known by everybody and sold by every carpet store in the land for $3.50 to $4.50. Floral or Oriental patterns and the Smyrna rugs are alike on both sides—really two rugs in one. Only one to a customer.

$2.25 If You Pay Cash.

Printed Linoleum

55c A Square Yard

Two yards wide. Choice of several patterns. Much heavier than oilcloth. Wears longer and costs very little more.

Inlaid Linoleum

$1.30 A Square Yard

Colors run clear through to the back—never wear off. Floral and inlaid designs. Fine domestic grade and choice of any pattern in stock.

Two Injured on a Bridge.

Miss Hallie Rose of Third avenue, Homestead, and William Davis of West Homestead, were injured in an accident on the West Braddock bridge, late Sunday night. A car on the Kennywood park division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, struck a carriage in which the two were driving. It is said that the horse became frightened and jumped in front of the car. Davis had an arm fractured.

FOUND FREAK IN EMPTY ROOM

Long Haired Idiot Boy Abandoned by Showmen Who Meant to Exhibit Him.

WILL GO TO MARSHALSEA

Abandoned by men who sought to profit by its mental and physical deformities a male freak, about 18 years, was discovered yesterday afternoon in the third floor of the rooming house at 545 Second avenue. About the time of the discovery was made by Mrs. Annie Dropple, the landlady, Superintendent of Police Wallace received an annoymous communication from the men who had left the freak, telling him where it could be found.

The case is the most heartless in the history of the local police department, and for a time the authorities were puzzled as to what steps to take. Finally it was decided to send the freak to Homeopathic hospital until this morning, when it will be taken to the city home at Marshalsea.

About 10 o'clock Sunday morning two well dressed men called at Mrs. Dropple's boarding house and asked if they might rent a room. She informed them that there was but one vacant room in the house and that it was furnished with only a bed and mattress.

"That's all right. We have traveled about 100 miles and are very tired. We are going to show at the Swissvale carnival next week," said one of the strangers as he passed upstairs. Two hours later the men left the house and Mrs. Dropple did not see them return. It was learned last night, however, that about midnight neighbors saw a closed carriage drive to the door. Two men alighted and between them carried a long, closely wrapped bundle into the house, while the carriage drove rapidly away. This was the last seen of the strangers.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Dropple went to the third floor front room which she had rented to the strangers. They were nowhere to be seen, but on the bed lay the form of a half animal, half man, continually beating its head on the mattress. She fled in a fright and at once notified Patrolman McCready, who investigated and then notified the police.

Capt. Bartley went to the house in company with Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide and Detectives Kelly and Cole. The officers found the freak still beating its head against the bed. It was beyond all doubt the most pitiable specimen of a human being imaginable. It had the face and long hair of a woman, while the trunk of its body was distorted and splotched with patches of long wiry hair. Its limbs were about the thickness of a man's wrist and were bent and twisted. It was about 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighed about 100 pounds. On the bed beside its head was a piece of meat which had evidently been left for it by the men who abandoned it. At 10 o'clock last night it was removed to Homeopathic hospital.

The being was bereft of reason and could not talk. Judging by all indications Superintendent McQuaide stated that the freak had evidently been exhibited throughout the country as a missing link of wild man, and this theory was confirmed upon returning to central police station where Superintendent Wallace had just received a mysterious letter which explained the matter. The letter read:

Chief of Police, Pittsburgh, sir, at 545 Second street you will find in the third floor front an unfortunate boy who is foolish and who is singularly marked and possesses peculiar characteristics. He is entirely harmless and helpless because he knows no more than an animal. I was here with him with the intention of putting him with a carnival, but they refused to do as they agreed. I have been compelled to abandon him to be put in a home by the proper authorities. He has no living father or mother, he has no friends. I have kept him until I am broke and cannot do so longer.

The letter was unsigned and bore the postmark of the Pittsburgh postoffice. The police are making an effort to learn the identity of the men.

RUBBERNECKS RAN TO SAVE THEIR LIVES

About 300 men and boys narrowly escaped death early last evening on the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad, while stealing a look into the Ferari Brothers' carnival, which opened yesterday on Carson, near South First street, South Side. A crowd had gathered and were sitting on the Panhandle bridge which spans Carson street. The railroad officials knew that the Chicago Limited was due, and that if the crowd was on the bridge when it came it would be impossible for all to escape. The police were notified, and a squad of police cleaned the bridge off just as the express dashed past.

VACCINATION SQUAD WILL BE DISCHARGED

Smallpox Epidemic Practically Ended, There Being but Five Cases in City.

With but five cases of small-pox in the city, the bureau of health has decided to relax the stringent measures in force during the epidemic. These five cases are confined in the Municipal hospital, and it is expected that by the latter part of next week the patients will all have been discharged.

The remainder of the compulsory vaccination squad of physicians, which at one time numbered about 50, will be discharged, Friday, July 1, after which the work will be attended to by Dr. B. A. Booth, city physician. The doctors going are Drs. E. S. Dickey, chief of the squad; W. C. Maxwell, L. A. Zinsmeister, H. P. Kohberger and T. C. Nelan.

Dr. Booth attributes the many cases of small-pox last winter to the railroad camps in the southwestern part of the county, where hundreds of negroes were housed under the most unsanitary conditions. At present Superintendent Moore of the bureau is keeping a careful lookout for persons afflicted with the disease who may arrive here from Philadelphia, Baltimore, St. Louis, Cleveland and the northwestern states. In Baltimore the disease is so epidemic that the city councils last week appropriated a special fund for compulsory vaccination.

TO PATROL TANGIER.

Sultan Is Guarding Against a Repetition of the Perdicaris Affair.

TANGIER, MOROCCO, June 27.—The sultan has appointed Cid Ben Hima, who was governor of Saffi, head of the Tangier police. It is expected that Tangier and its vicinity now will be guarded and properly patrolled nightly. The American cruiser squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Chadwick, sailed today for Gibraltar.

WASHINGTON, June 27. — Secretary Hay received the following cablegram from Tangier, dated June 27:

Profoundly grateful to the government for securing my release.

PERDICARIS.

Secretary Hay has instructed Mr. Porter, the American ambassador at Paris, to thank the French government for its services in assisting in the negotiations for the release of Perdicaris.

Husband Missing Ten Months.

Mrs. Louisa Walz of Washington street, Allegheny, yesterday asked the Pittsburgh police to assist her in finding her husband, August Walz, who disappeared from home on August 8, a year ago.

FERARIS' SHOW IS BIG NOVELTY

Some Things in Wabash Park May Be Too Spicy for Pittsburgh Detectives.

MIDWAY ATTRACTED CROWDS

Pittsburgh yesterday for the first time enjoyed an English mediaeval circus, when Ferari Brothers opened the gates of the show at Wabash park, South Side, which is being given under the aspices of the Building Trades Council. The show differs in many respects from the ordinary open-air "carnival." It is a circus, an animal show, a vaudeville theater and a museum combined, with all the wonders and glories of the traditional midway. Big crowds filled the tents last night, and despite threatening rain clouds the people remained until the last performance was given. The enterprise promises a generous return for the benefit of the members of the building trades.

Ferari Brothers have modeled their show after the famous old fairs which were given in the towns of rural England in the days of the Tudors and elaborated upon in more recent years. In its display of gold and tinsel, grotesque carving and fantastic wagons adorned with paintings and gargoyles, the great arena is typical of a street in old Chester or Coventry in gala attire. A Ferris wheel, a steam merry-go-round and other attractions of later days give a modern air to things, but there is enough of the antique atmosphere to make the show unusually attractive to the Pittsburgher.

The animal show and the stadium are the star features, but it cannot be said that they proved the most popular with yesterday's audiences. There is one tent labeled "Gay Paree," and here the crowds gathered. The "barker" surrounded by a group of pretty girls, stood at the entrance and intimated as to what would take place inside, but those who filled the front rows of this canvas theater decided that he was not eloquent. The show may be a little too spicy for the Pittsburgh municipal administration. Detectives saw the performance and applauded heartily, and the crowds last night hoped that the sleuths would allow "Gay Paree" unlimited license, but there is a rumor that the program hereafter will be modified.

The animal show is a really wonderful exhibition. The Feraris have their own lion farm and show an exceptionally fine exhibition of well trained beasts in the cast of the wild jungle melodrama which they give. There is a Diavolo, who "loops the loop" on a bicycle; an oriental theater where the midway dance is given with great variations, and an endless number of side shows and freak exhibitions.

STEAMER CONDEMNED.

Carried Big Cargo of Anthracite Coal When Captured by Russian Warships.

VLADIVOSTOK, June 27.—The prize court has condemned the British steamer Allanton (captured by the Russian Vladivostok squadron recently in the straits of Korea) for carrying contraband of war, and has confiscated the ship and her cargo of 6,500 tons of anthracite coal, valued at $500,000. The firm at Singapore, to which the coal was consigned, is the same concern that supplied Japan with contraband during the Chinese war.

The Japanese schooner captured by the Russian torpedo boats at the time of the recent raid has been condemned.

The captains of the prizes are allowed a month in which to appeal.

Erie Shopmen to Resume Work.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—Work will resume all along the Erie line July 1. An order issued today puts 600 men to work in the railroad shops here.

ASK BIGELOW TO KILL ORDINANCE

Property Owners Petition the Director to Prevent Widening of Second Avenue.

WILL SEE RODGERS TODAY

Property owners have called upon Director Bigelow to ask him to use his influence to have an ordinance passed by councils repealing the ordinance for the widening of Second avenue from Ross street to the South Tenth street bridge. Director Bigelow received a call yesterday afternoon from H. B. Rea of the Rea & Co., who have been assessed heavier than any other property owner for the widening of Second avenue. Of the $88,000 benefits assessed against the abutting property owners, Rea & Co. are asked to pay $32,000.

The total cost of the improvement is estimated at $195,000, of which the city is assessed $107,000 by the viewers. Director Bigelow is willing to have the widening ordinance repealed and has promised to join the property owners in a petition to councils but he and the property owners are actuated by different motives.

Bigelow wants to hold up the improvement temporarily because of the heavy assessment against the city. He believes the entire cost should be borne by the property owners. On the other hand the property owners want to block the improvement because of the heavy assessments against them. They insist the city should bear the expense or nearly all of it.

Director Bigelow told Mr. Rea that he would present the matter to City Solicitor Rodgers today for an opinion as to the best course to pursue. Bigelow also has a battle on with the viewers over the Hamilton avenue extension. Ordinances for the repeal of both improvements may be introduced in councils together.

"Really," said the director, "the improvement should be made, because there is a great deal of traffic out Second avenue which has been exceptionally increased since the reopening of the new South Side street bridge. It is the road to Hazelwood and to the upper part of the South Side. The city, however, has been assessed too much and should not pay it. Another thing, the property owners have taken an appeal to court and will carry the case to the supreme court if the lower courts sustain the viewers. Under the circumstances I see little chance of having Second avenue widened for some time."

NEW ZION CITY.

Prophet Dowie's Son Said to Be Contemplating Town at Highland Falls, N. Y.

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., June 27.—John A. Dowie of Zion City, Ill., came here in a special train from New York today and, according to report, purchased some land near Fort Montgomery for the establishment of a new Zion City.

Dowie was accompanied by some officials of the West Shore railroad, and several other gentlemen. After viewing the property the party returned to New York.

JEWEL ROBBER WORKED IN HOUSE AT HIGH NOON

A daylight robbery was committed at noon yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Green, 1837 Middle street, Sharpsburg. While Mrs. Green and her daughter were in a laundry in the back yard the house was looted of jewelry valued at nearly $200. The plunder secured included two diamond rings, a white comb set with brilliants, and five gold rings set with pearls, opals, rubies and turquoises. A diamond brooch and a pearl necklace lying on the same dresser were not touched.

AGED MAN'S COMPLAINT.

Has Woman Whom He Was to Wed Imprisoned at New Castle, Pa.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—A romance has been shattered by the arrest of Mrs. Frances Sullivan on a charge of assault and battery, made by David Freed of Wampum. The defendant is unable to furnish bail and is held in jail for a hearing before Alderman Haus of this city. Freed is 81 years old and Mrs. Sullivan acknowledges 48 years. They have been "keeping company" for the last year and had all arrangements made to marry. Freed alleges that Mrs. Sullivan suggested as a preliminary to the wedding that Freed turn over all his property to her. The experience gained in 81 years caused Freed to refuse and Mrs. Sullivan balked on the marriage license.

The charge of assault and battery results from disagreements arising over the suggested property transfer. Freed alleges. Freed swears that Mrs. Sullivan struck him over the arm during a heated argument.

Orders Democratic Members Arrested.

ERIE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—In order to compel their attendance, the Republican members of common council ordered Chief of Police Sullivan to arrest and produce all of the Democratic members at the continuation of the session Thursday evening. The council is divided six and six and the Democrats left the chamber at tonight's meeting and were out of control of the sergeant-at-arms before their absence was noticed. President Yard immediately introduced a resolution under the state law ordering their arrest.

FORMER MONACA MAN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Glassworker Legonllon Shoots Himself at Washington, Pa. Caused by Despondency.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 27.—Charles Legonllon, a glassworker of Washington, aged 26 years, shot himself through the heart at his boarding house shortly after midnight this morning. Despondency caused by domestic difficulties prompted the deed. Legonllon and his wife parted about six weeks ago after but a few months' of wedded life. Ever since Legonllon had been despondent. About midnight he left William Barry, with whom he boarded in Strawberry avenue, and went to his room. A few minutes later a shot was heard and Barry, rushing to the room, saw Legonllon standing before a mirror. The latter threw up his hands and exclaiming, "I am done for," fell to the floor dead.

Immediately after the shooting he had thrown the revolver on the bed. Legonllon left a note telling why he ended his life in the manner he did. Legonllon came to Washington from Monaca, where his parents and family reside. The coroner has taken charge of the body.

Seek a Vast Fortune.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—Ex-Judge John Schaeffer of this city will be sent to Philadelphia and Washington by the local heirs of Capt. John Ball, who are making a fight to secure the $200,000,000 fortune left him. Capt. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 27.—Sam Leever's rheumatic arm was so well lubricated today that the Cubs got only two clean hits off him. It got so good toward the end of the game that it nipped an incipient ninth inning finish in the bud at a time when the locals needed only one run to tie the score.

All the thrills came late in the game. For six innings the Cubs struggled along with only the semblance of a single to their credit, and all this time the champions were accumulating. By the end of the first half of the seventh inning the score was 5 to 0 in favor of the Pirates. That was all the runs the Pittsburgh team got and it turned out it was all it needed. A couple of errors and a scratch single gave Selee's men two runs in the seventh and in the last half of the ninth they were after the schoolmaster in earnest.

Chance started the trouble by stopping a fast inshoot with his elbow. After considerable rubbing the look-out took his place at first and went to second when McCarthy hit to Carisch. The ball was fielded to Leever cleanly, but he failed to touch the bag and Carisch was safe. Schreckengost was then forced, Leever to Jones, but McCarthy was forced. Then singles by Evers and Kling sent in two runs, but the best Tinker could do was a fly to Beaumont.

Precisely all of the excitement came in this inning. Chicago's first two runs in the seventh followed a scratch hit by McCarthy. Jones hit to Leach, who made a beautiful stop, but there was no play. McCarthy went to third, while Jones went to second. Then Ritchey contributed another error on the return of the ball. Jones came in when Evers hit to Ritchey.

Pittsburgh scored on no such combination of scratches. Lundgren started to do the pitching for the Cubs, but he got such a warm reception that he was replaced at the end of the third inning by Overall. He did fairly well the second inning Sebring got a life through Tinker's error and came in when Ritchey rapped the ball to the left field bleachers for a pair of bases. There was a slaughter in the third. Leever led off with a double to left field and Leach followed him with a single to center. Then Beaumont hit to Tinker, which forced Leach at third. In an attempt to catch Leach at third, Beaumont went to second. A grounder to Evers by Clarke let Leach in and Beaumont came home on a long fly to McCarthy by Wagner.

Overall held Pittsburgh fairly safe until the seventh, when Leever drew a pass and Leach came in on a single by Leach and a fly by Beaumont to Wagner. Then Wagner threw Casey's grounder over Chance's head on a pitched ball, but with the bases full Carisch flied out to Tinker and Sebring to Slagle.

Leach was the bright star of the Pittsburgh combination at the bat, getting four singles out of five times up, but he was off in his fielding game. Notwithstanding the easy victory of the Pirates over the visitors on Sunday, there was a good sized crowd out today, and Leever, who is a great Chicago favorite, came in for the greatest share of its compliments.

Boston Beat Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, June 27.—Boston defeated Brooklyn today 2 to 1. The home team lost several opportunities of winning by failing to take advantage of them. Poole's wildness in the second inning and two safe hits and a sacrifice in the seventh scored Boston's two runs, while an infield hit by Dahlen, a base on balls by Casey and an out enabled Brooklyn to score its single tally. DON DOYLE IS PUZZLE TO HOMESTEAD L. A. C.

Risherites, However, Are Aided by Wild Throws and Interscholastics Lose, 6 to 4.

Risher's champion Homestead outfit was unable to do much with the offerings of Don Doyle yesterday at Homestead, but the wild throws of the interscholastics helped his men in getting runs. The final score was 6 to 4 in favor of the Steel Workers. Doyle pitched a masterly game, and with proper support he would have been returned the winner over "Soldier" Mullin, the old campaigner.

Homestead negotiated six hits off Doyle, while the delivery of Muilin was found for 11 safe ones. The excellent fielding of McClintock and Capt. McCloskey pulled Mullin out of holes. In the fifth inning Sam Hamilton hit to the left field fence for three bases, and the next two men got on bases, but neither scored, as McClintock chased back into middle field and got a fly, then he made a fine stop of a grounder, and the next man went out. "Toots" Shultz turned up the best play for the Interscholastics by making a running one-hand catch of a liner in right middle from McClintock and doubling up Lindsay at first.

Alex. McCracken, who has been playing first, moved over to third and Charlie Duffy went on first. The change in throwing bothered McCracken, and one of his throws to the fence cost a run. The Steel Workers got two more on wild throws. In the ninth inning "Ling" Moffett nearly tore Mullin's hand off with a liner, and Uptegraf followed with a fine drive to the right field fence for a home run. Doyle had excellent control and curves, and had the Risherites guessing at all stages. Zoch, the old Shadyside boy who was on the Kenyon college team this spring, played a swell game at short.

The school boys hit hard and often, but were unable to buch them, or fine fielding cut off chances for scoring. The score:

Kerr Price out of Game.

The Interscholastics play at Morgantown, W. Va., today and tomorrow, which will be the opening games for the Independent team in that place. Sam Hamilton, the former Princeton catcher, is home from a Philadelphia medical college, and he will catch the games. Kerr Price, captain of the Interscholastics, is out of the game with a lame ankle. He will rest up and then accept a position at McKeesport and probably play on the Steel Works team there. Don Doyle will have charge of the team while away. The school boys will play at Turtle Creek this Saturday and at Johnstown next Friday and Saturday.

Odd Fellows Beat the Elks.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 27.—(Special.)—Resplendent in bright new uniforms, the Odd Fellows and Elks teams played ball here today. When the game was over the uniforms of the Odd Fellows were covered with B. P. O. E. gore. The Elks were beaten 21 to 6. Risher Has New Player.

Homestead plays the Pittsburgh A. C. two games this afternoon at Friendship park, the first at 3:15 and the second at 6 o'clock. Manager Wentz has not determined who he shall pitch, but Doyle and Moren will doubtless be on the rubber for Risher. Manager Risher has a new middle fielder named Burns, who takes the place of Brisbins. The games this afternoon will be championship affairs, and Wentz has an exceptionally strong lineup for the Steel Workers.

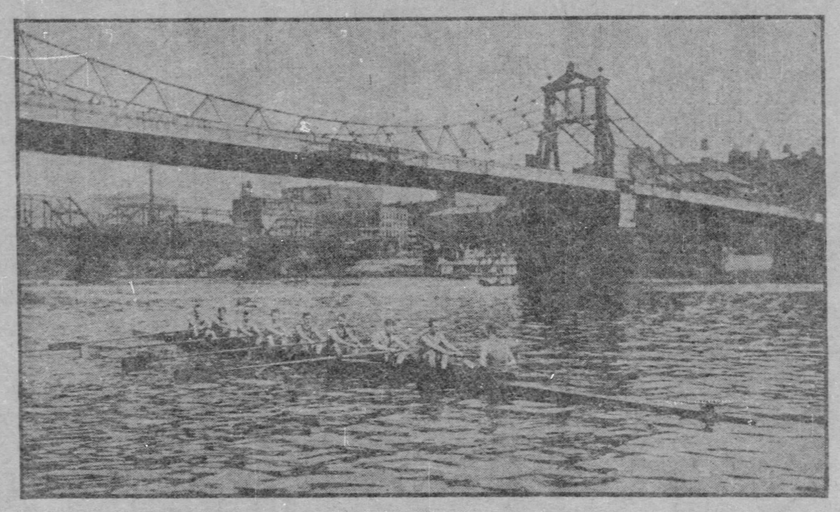
Interest in Aquatic Sports Being Revived



The Columbia Boat club of Allegheny has added to its racing craft an eight-oared shell, that can be seen any evening cutting the water of the Allegheny and Ohio rivers as the broad backs of the crew bend forward and backward rythmically. Not for years has a shell with eight seats been put into the local rivers. In the '70s and early '80s, when Stewart Hamilton, Henry Coulter, Fred W. Golmer and Pat Jordan won renown throughout the country as oarsmen, the club of which they were members owned a similar boat. The recent purchase of this long slender racing boat is but one indication of the revival of interest in aquatic sports that has become evident in this vicinity of late.

YALE ADDS QUOTA OF NEW LAWYERS

Secretary Root Addresses Embryo Legal Lights on Their Duties to Government.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK OPENS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, June 27.—Former Secretary of War Elihu Root was the chief orator on the first of Yale's commencement week, addressing the graduates of the law school. In opening, he spoke of the emoluments and honors that attended a successful lawyer, and declared that more important than these was the obligation for public offices in all branches of government. In the course of his address Mr. Root said:

In all the field of the law regulating the relations of citizens to each other the proper function of the lawyer is to promote rational progress, to maintain stability against all fads and crude innovations and at the same time to keep the development of the law moving with equal step abreast of the progress of the age, satisfying the moral sense of the time and meeting the changing conditions of human life and activity.

There is one general characteristic of our system of government which is essential and which it is the special duty of lawyers to guard with care—that is the observance of limitations of official power. There is a constant tendency to ignore such limitations and condone the transgression of them by public officers, provided the thing done is with good motives from a desire to serve the public. Such a process, if general, is most injurious. If continued long enough, it results in an attitude of personal superiority on the part of the great officers which is inconsistent with our constitution, a destruction of responsibility and independent judgment on the part of lower officers and a neglect of the habit of asserting legal rights on the part of the people.

The more frequently men who hold great power in office are permitted to override the limitations imposed by the law upon their powers, the more difficult it becomes to question anything they do, and the people, each one week in himself and unable to cope with powerful officers who regard any question of their acts as an affront, gradually lose the habit of holding such officers accountable, and ultimately practically surrender the right to hold them accountable.

Abundant evidence that our people have not become indifferent to these necessary limitations is furnished by the frequency with which political opponents impute disregard of them to public officers. The charge is often unfounded and often made upon slight foundation or with gross exaggeration. But the fact that it is made shows the political leaders recognize that, if they can make the people believe that a public officer has usurped power, he will be condemned without regard to his motives. The cry of "emperor," "czar," "man-on-horseback" are but extravagant appeals to an instinct which ought to exist, and happily does exist, among us, against subjection to unlimited authority, however trifling may be its exercise, and however beneficent its despotism.

The extravagance and lack of foundation for many of these appeals, however, involve the danger lest the cry of wolf should be heard so often that men will become incredulous and indifferent and turn a deaf ear to statements and proofs of real encroachments made with a moderation and not for political effect, and that thus indiscriminate and unfounded charges against the innocent shall serve as a protection to the really guilty.

No one is so well fitted as the lawyer to ascertain the true limits of official authority, and no one can do so much as he to form public opinion regarding this class of questions, upon lines free from the taint of political advantage, but of independent and impartial judgment.

After Mr. Root had finished his address the judges announced that the Townsend prize had been won by William Jefferson Wynn of Eatonton, Ga. Mr. Wynn also won the third year prize of $50 for excellence in the examinations of the year. The Joseph Parker prize of $125 for the best thesis on a subject connected with Roman law, was awarded to Israel Nelson of Lyndsborg, Kan.

The medical school anniversary exercises were held at 5 o'clock in College street hall, with an address by Prof. William Halsted, M. D., of Johns Hopkins university.

In the evening the University glee, banjo and mandolin clubs gave their annual concert in Woolsey hall. The concert was attended by a great throng of Yale graduates, members of the graduating class and their host of friends. The concert was followed at 9 o'clock by the annual senior promenade in Woolsey hall.

The Yale university corporation held an important meeting this afternoon at the close of which it was announced that the resignation of Prof. George Trumbull Ladd, head of the department of mental philosophy and metaphysics, and that of Prof. David Torrance, as professor of evidence in the law school, have been accepted. The resignation of Morris F. Tyler, as treasurer of the university, was accepted, to take effect this fall.

Charles Schuchert was appointed curator of the geological collection in the Peabody museum and professor of historical geology in the Sheffield scientific school.

RAINBOW LIGHTED UP BY THE MOON

Strange Sight Witnessed by Thousands of Visitors at Atlantic City.

PITTSBURGH MAN IS RESCUED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 27.

The thousands of visitors to the resort were treated to a sight at 8:30 o'clock tonight that many of them have never before or never will see again. It was in the form of a rainbow, which occurred shortly after a slight shower and remained visible for nearly three-quarters of an hour. The Boardwalk was filled with promenaders when the shower broke over and the moon came out full and bright from the oceanward side of the walk. Suddenly the attention of the strollers was called to the opposite side of the walk, where at every avenue men and women were standing watching the great sight of a rainbow, perfect in every particular and lit up by the moon. The colors of the rainbow came out plain and were visible until 9:30.

A daring rescue, in which Walter Abram, Jr., of Pittsburgh, who is spending a short time at the Tred Avon hotel, was the rescued party, was made this afternoon by Life Guards Conover and Cossick at the foot of Virginia avenue. Lukens, who is 28 years of age, went in the water with three friends, Frank Kinsey and Miss Hautchins of New York, and Miss Eloise Kreig of Pittsburgh. He attempted to swim to the end of the steel pier but becoming exhausted called for help. Beach Physician Beckwith worked over him 20 minutes before resuscitating him.

Sir Frederick Treves, surgeon to King Edward, who is touring this country, is spending a few days at the Hotel Chelsea prior to leaving for home. He is accompanied by Mrs. Treves. Dr. Treves is the great English authority on appendicitis and performed an operation on King Edward during his attack of this ailment several months ago. They will remain in Atlantic City several days.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Jones are spending the week at Spencer hall.

H. W. Fairfield was an over-Sunday guest at the Hotel Senate.

Mrs. E. H. Bingler, G. W. Bingler, B. O. Schegel and C. Schegel are staying at the Seaside House.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton T. Somers are guests at the Thirion.

C. A. Carter is staying at Traymore.

Dr. W. B. Orbin is sojourning at the Raleigh.

A. M. Donald and S. J. Togle are among late arrivals at the St. Charles.

Mrs. Nannesley is a guest at the Marlborough house.

E. J. Doyle is staying for a few days at the Mt. Vernon.

Mrs. May Allen is among the guests at the Marlborough house.

R. S. Wilson is a guest at the Runnymede.

Pittsburghers registered at the Hotel Dennis include Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Huff and son, Miss Hilda Matthews, Miss Elinor Matthews, Mrs. Roberts MacLain, R. M. Enrich, J. H. Wilson and William H. Matthews.

William H. Totten and Edward McLaughlin are among the guests at the Islesworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McGenis were among the promenaders on the boardwalk today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carber are staying at the Deville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Long and J. A. Buchanin are spending a short time at the Arlington.

Miss Josie Tweed and Miss Etma Tweed are guests at the Tred Avon.

M. H. Carothers and Mrs. James Carothers are guests at the Brevoort.

Franklin Parker is at the Beacon house.

Miss Grace Ebeley is spending a short time at the Dunlop.

Department Heads Hold Banquet.

About 50 of the department heads of the Pressed Steel Car company's plants in Allegheny and McKees Rocks held a banquet last night at the Hotel Federal, Allegheny. Peter De Armand acted as toastmaster. Speeches were made by H. A. Harper, Louis Heyl, J. J. Corcoran, M. J. Sheehan, John Wragg, J. P. Maher and M. Dunn.

Ohio Negro Held for Court.

Chauncey Hays, a negro of Cadiz, O., was held for court in $1,000 bail yesterday, by Magistrate Abernathey of Allegheny, on a charge of entering a building with intent to commit a felony. Hays was discovered yesterday morning trying to force an entrance into the house of Mrs. Mary Corey, 832 Rebecca street.

WILL RAID THE TRACK.

Chicago's Sheriff Is Angry and Has Bookmakers on the Lookout.

CHICAGO, June 27.—(Special.)—The gamblers at Corrigan's track on the drainage canal have been warned that Sheriff Barrett will raid the track tomorrow afternoon. Early today the warning reached the track that Sheriff Barrett, angered by criticisms, would make the raid today, but that message proved wrong.

It served only to startle the race track people and the bookmakers and the news that Barrett will act tomorrow came as the climax of the day. Sheriff Barrett himself is saying nothing about his plans against the track, but the bookmakers accept it as a fact that he will proceed against them under the law tomorrow.

Two Favorites Won at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Glassful and Bad News were the only favorites to win at Hawthorne today. The other four races went to two second choices, one outsider and one long shot. Summary:

M'CLOSKEY AND FOHL ARE SOUGHT BY SIOUX CITY

Charlie McCloskey, captain and second baseman, and Lee Fohl, catcher of the Homestead team, yesterday received offers from the Sioux City Western league team. Neither will accept. McCloskey is in receipt of offers from minor league clubs almost daily. Sioux City is now under the management of Tom Fleming, who is reorganizing the team. Fleming has secured Bill Marshall, the former Homestead catcher, from the New York Nationals.

PREPARING FOR THE SUMMER PLAYGROUNDS

Those Who Will Direct the Work Will Hold an Institute in the East End.

The teachers institute arranged for the benefit of those who will direct the work in the summer playgrounds and vacation schools this season was opened yesterday morning in the Chatham school in South Highland avenue. There was a fairly large attendance. This morning the work of the institute will begin. The sessions will be held morning and afternoon daily until Friday morning when the closing session will be conducted with a general meeting of all the teachers. Miss Ella R. Boyce is supervisor of the playgrounds.

The course of work in the vacation schools of which there will be 10 in Pittsburgh with eight in Allegheny, includes manual training, basketry, sewing, nature study, art, music and games. It is expected that between 7,000 and 8,000 children will be enrolled after the opening of the schools on Tuesday morning, July 5.

The vacation schools are to be established in the Lowry school, the Fortieth street, Forbes, Columbian Council Settlement, Riverside, Soho, O'Hara, Minersville, Wickersham and Larimer schools. The last three are new schools. Cooking will be added to the regular course in the Fortieth street school, the Columbian Council and the Larimer.

The Allegheny playgrounds and vacation schools include the Irwin avenue, the Sherman avenue, Fourth and Fifth, Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth ward schools. Among the teachers who will have charge and direct the work of the teachers' institute this week are Miss Ella R. Boyce, playground supervisor in Pittsburgh and Allegheny; Mrs. Ethel Danley, a former teacher of sciences in the Indiana State Normal school, supervisor of nature study; Miss Myrtle Graf, New York, supervisor of art; Miss Jennie D. Bradley, supervisor of sewing; A. E. Dodd from the Armour institute, manual training; Miss Mary Henry, Pittsburgh, basketry; Miss Roberta Morgan, Homestead, domestic science of cooking; Miss Grace Fennald of New York, and Miss J. E. Egbert, Pittsburgh, game instructors for Pittsburgh, and Miss Marion Knapp of Dayton, O., for Allegheny; Miss Maude Monroe of Mount Holyoke college, supervisor of drills, and Mrs. Margaret Campbell of Pittsburgh, supervisor of music.

FROM STAR EXPRESS, TO MILK TRAIN FOR 999

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 27.—New York Central locomotive No. 999, made famous as the first engine to run the Empire State Express and exhibited at the Chicago fair, has been placed on the Massena-Utica line to haul the New York milk train.

SOCIETY

THE members of the Bridge club, which has been meeting each Monday evening at the Pittsburgh Golf club for the past three months, held their final meeting last evening, when the prizes were awarded. The prizes were beautiful silver pitchers for the lady and gentleman with the highest score and an exquisite little jewel case and a cigarette case of silver for the second prizes. On each was inscribed the words, "April, May, June, 1904." The game last evening did not close until after 11 o'clock, and as it was the last meeting there was a larger attendance than usual, although at no time has there been less than five tables in use.

The entire lower floor of the club house was thrown open to the guests, the tables occupying the large hall. As was customary during the season of the Bridge club, supper was served after the game. The members have decided to continue their meetings next fall, and will reorganize the club on their return from their summer homes next October. The club was formed during the first week in April, and Miss Mary Speer has always been recognized as its presiding genius, she having been most active in its organization. Miss Speer, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Speer, of Craft avenue, will close their home in Oakland on Tuesday and will then leave for Friendship hill, New Geneva, Fayette county, where Miss Louis Speer has been for some time making ready the home for the other members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Painter have already opened their home in New Geneva.

Among the members of the Bridge club who were at the Golf club last evening were Mr. and Mrs. John G. Holmes, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graham Brown, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Frew, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCrea, Mrs. Remsen V. Messler, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, Frederick G. Kay and Nathaniel Holmes.

Summer on the Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. William McConway have closed their home in Lexington avenue, Homewood, and are now established for the summer on their farm near Harwinton, Conn. Their two daughters, Miss Margaret McConway and Miss Josephine McConway, are visiting friends in the east, but will shortly join their parents. Miss Elizabeth Pendleton will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. McConway later in the summer. She will first visit Mrs. John Payson Chamberlain at her home in New York city. Mrs. Chamberlain, who will be remembered as Miss Elizabeth Webster, is now visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Webster of Dithridge street, with whom she will remain until after July 4. Miss Pendleton will then accompany her on her return to the east. Mrs. Chamberlain has been the guest of honor at numerous small social affairs since her arrival in the city. One of the most enjoyable was a watermelon party, at which Miss Clara McLain was hostess last evening at her home in Howe street. The guests were the girls and men who were in Mrs. Chamberlain's bridal party, Miss McLain having been one of the bridesmaids. Miss McLain, another bridesmaid, sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McLain, will leave next week for Lake Simcoe, Canada, where they expect to spend the greater part of the summer. Mrs. Jean Webster, who was the house guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Webster, left for "Ellersly," her farm near Greensburg, yesterday morning. She was accompanied by her two sons, Wallace Webster and Chauncey Webster.

Miss Agnew's House Party.

Miss Jeannette Agnew will entertain a little house party next week at her home, near Canton, Ohio. Mrs. John Fremont Shafer will take out a party from Pittsburgh in her automobile, leaving on Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning. They will be Miss Agnew's guests over the Fourth of July, and late next week Mrs. Shafer will go on to Cleveland to spend a month at her summer home in Clifton park, a suburb of Cleveland. She will be preceded by her little daughter and her maids. In August they will return to Pittsburgh. Miss Agnew has had several little house parties for Pittsburgh friends since she and her mother went to Canton to make their home. Miss Agnew's studio is in the midst of a beautiful stretch of farm land.

Luncheon and Theater Party.

A round of informal social affairs will be attendant upon the visit of Miss Elizabeth Price of Wilmington, Del., with Miss Jennie Marie Dumbrill of North Negley avenue. Miss Frances Moran opened the festivities yesterday with a luncheon, followed by a theater party at the Avenue. The guests included Miss Price, Miss Dumbrill, Miss Edna Runette, Miss Florence Runette, Mrs. Charles B. Lenahan of Wilkesbarre, who is visiting Mrs. P. Moran; Miss Jessie Kerr, Miss Mabel McGeagh and Mrs. William W. Wyant. The centerpiece was of red roses, and on one corner of the place cards a single rose was fastened.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller, who have been visiting Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Guffey of Liberty avenue, left yesterday for St. Louis, where they will spend a week. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Guffey gave a large family dinner, at noon, in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, and during the afternoon many friends called to bid them farewell. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will sail from San Francisco on the Korea on July 9 for Japan. Mr. Miller is chief engineer of the Osaka Gas Company. They have now taken a house in Osaka and have made all preparations for a year's stay.

Home from Honeymoon.

Charles Hayden and his bride, formerly Miss Susan Kirby of St. Paul, are spending a part of their honeymoon at the home of Mr. Hayden's mother and sisters in Preston avenue, Bellevue. Mr. Hayden is a native of Pittsburgh, and some years ago was connected with the engineering department of the Pennsylvania railroad. At present he is a department head of the Great Northern railroad, at the general offices in St. Paul. Mrs. Hayden is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Burroughs Kirby of St. Paul. A number of social affairs have been arranged in honor of the couple. They will be in Bellevue until late next week.

For a European Traveler.

A charming little affair yesterday was the porch party which Mrs. L. D. Brown gave at her home in St. Clair street, East End, in honor of Miss Wanda Kredler of Chicago. Miss Kredler arrived in the city yesterday morning and will leave this evening for New York to sail on the Moltke for Europe Thursday. Mrs. Brown and Miss Kredler received together. The porch was decorated with palms and large clusters of field daisies and marguerites. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Brown gave an informal dinner in honor of the visitor. Covers were laid for 16, the guests being Miss Kredler, Miss Myrtle Gibson, Miss Marion McDowell, Mrs. Mary Klern, Louis Brown, Jr., Dr. Jack Proven, Robert Kerchner and Harry Jones of Washington, Pa. The dinner was followed by cards and music.

Weigle—Orr.

A quiet home wedding was that yesterday afternoon of Miss Jennette L. Weigle, daughter of Mrs. Mary Weigle of Carnot, and John W. Orr of Scottdale. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. J. M. Mercer, pastor of the Sharon Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. E. C. Little of Washington, Pa., a brother-in-law of the bridegroom. There were no attendants. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, daisies and roses, and a reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Orr left last evening for a wedding trip that will include St. Louis and other western points. Upon their return they will be at home in Scottdale.

For Sewickly Fresh Air Home.

A garden party will be given on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Huston, in Academy avenue, Sewickley, on Friday afternoon and evening of this week for the benefit of the Sewickley Fresh Air home. Ice cream, cake, candy and lemonade will be served by girls. The managers of the Sewickley home have offered to take children from the Allegheny playgrounds every alternate two weeks.

Mr. Pitcairn Coming to Pittsburgh.

Frank Pitcairn of Philadelphia, whose engagement to Miss Margaret Marcus, also of Philadelphia, has recently been made public, is expected in the city on Saturday to remain over the Fourth with Mrs. M. Roy Jackson of Sewickley, who is entertaining Miss Marcus. Mrs. Jackson will give a dinner on the evening of Independence day in honor of Miss Marcus and her fiance. Mr. Pitcairn is a nephew of Robert Pitcairn of this city, and is a son of Hugh Pitcairn, American consul general to Hamburg, Germany.

Coming Nuptials at Latrobe.

LATROBE, PA., June 27.—(Special.)—Elaborate preparations have been made and more than 100 invitations issued for the wedding of Miss Fannie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin H. Thomas of Derry, and Charles Eugene Shomo of Chicago. The ceremony will take place Wednesday evening at the home of the parents of the bride. The Rev. Dr. Louis E. Holden, president of the University of Wooster, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Graye Moody, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Derry.

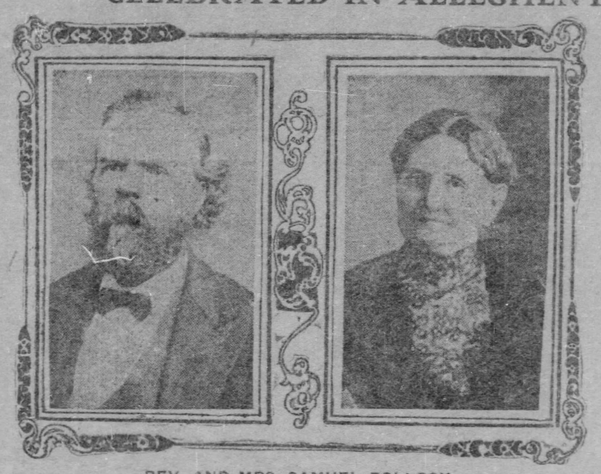
Picnic at Turkey Foot.

The Briar club, composed of young men in Sewickley, is planning a picnic at Turkey Foot, near Sewickley, Saturday afternoon and evening of this week, with a "hay-bo" drive home by moonlight. The officers of the club are Donald Rose, president; John Collin and Albert Hill, vice presidents; Austin Murdock, secretary; Vernon Charnley, treasurer.

Martin-Hamilton.

Miss Charlotte T. Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin of Bennett street, Homewood, and William Edward Hamilton of Sault Sainte Marie, Mich., were quietly married last evening. They will make their future home in Sault Sainte Marie.

GOLDEN WEDDING PLEASANTLY CELEBRATED IN ALLEGHENY



REV. AND MRS. SAMUEL POLLOCK.

The Rev. Samuel Pollock and Mrs. Pollock yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a reception and family reunion. The host and hostess received their friends together, their four daughters-in-law, Mrs. William Pollock, Mrs. James Pollock, Mrs. Grant Pollock and Mrs. Samuel Pollock, assisting. The hours were from 2 until 5 o'clock. A feature of the afternoon's entertainment was the very enjoyable musical program given by the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Pollock. The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Pollock have been members since 1889, made an appropriate address and prayer was offered by the Rev. W. W. Hall, pastor of the Arch street church.

Mrs. Pollock received in black and white silk and at her throat was a beautiful old-fashioned leaf-shaped pin, a gift from her husband on their wedding day 50 years ago. The sons yesterday presented their father with a gold headed cane, engraved with the word "Father," and the date. A handsome leather bound Bible was their gift to Mrs. Pollock. The rooms were prettily decorated in yellow for the celebration. Clusters of marguerites were placed on the table and piano. Among the guests were Mrs. Harriett Hamilton, an aunt of Mrs. Pollock, and three cousins, Mrs. Annie Rell, Mrs. Margaret Means and Mrs. Elizabeth Boyd, all of whom were guests at the wedding in 1854. The celebration was conducted in the home in Arlington avenue, Allegheny.

The Rev. Samuel Pollock is the son of William Pollock and his wife, Mary Ann Corrough, and was born near Belfast, Ireland, in 1824. His father was Scotch, his ancestors being Scotch Covenanters. In 1848 the family came to America and located in Pittsburgh, later going to a farm near Tarentum. Samuel was a lad of 14 when his father and mother, five brothers and two sisters came to this country. The Rev. Mr. Pollock is the only surviving member of that family. He identified himself with the Methodist Episcopal church when still young, and soon became a local and circuit preacher. In 1854 he was junior preacher in the Sewickley circuit, being associated with the Rev. I. P. Sadler. He was later transferred to the Columbiana circuit in Eastern Ohio, but because of throat trouble was obliged to give up the ministry. The Rev. Mr. Pollock then went into the oil drilling business. In 1865 he removed to Wellsville, O., and for the next 25 years was engaged in the real estate business. On June 27, 1854, Samuel Pollock married Miss Eliza Ann Hamilton, the marriage being solemnized by the Rev. I. P. Sadler, Miss Hamilton was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton, and was born in September, 1838, on the Hamilton farm in Franklin township, Allegheny county. The mother died when the daughter was six years of age, and 10 years later the young girl was married to the Rev. Samuel Pollock. They had eight children, four of whom have died. The four still living are William M. of Haddon Heights, N. J.; James K. of Rochester, Pa.; Samuel H. of Allegheny, and the Rev. Grant S., pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Harmony, Pa.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Patronesses Up to Date.

Some names have been added to the list of patronesses for the entertainment which will be given on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the summer playgrounds. The Travelers club will stand sponsor for the affair, which promises to be a delightful entertainment, consisting of two plays in the open air on the campus of the Pennsylvania College for Women. Nurses of a High Standard.

The first aggressive step toward the framing of a bill to be presented to the next legislature for the registration of nurses was taken yesterday. It was the issuing of a circular addressed to every trained nurse in Pennsylvania, to every woman's club, and to every medical society within the state, calling for co-operation of the nurses and the enlisting of sympathy and help of influential friends. The circulars were issued by the committee of publication, consisting of Mrs. George C. Loeffler, Pittsburgh, chairman; Miss Mary J. Weir, superintendent of the Training school, South Side hospital, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Edwin W. Lewis of Braddock by order of the Graduated Nurses Association of the State of Pennsylvania.

The circulars were sent out at this time that there may be a few discussion of the subject at the quarterly meeting of the association, which will be held in Erie in July. At the annual meeting, which will be held in October, the place to be determined at the July meeting, the formal draft of the bill will be presented, ready for such amendments or alterations as may be thought advisable.

The Graduated Nurses association of Pennsylvania was organized within the year and has for its object the promotion of the welfare and the upholding of the honor of the nursing profession for the benefit of the public whom it serves.

The first step in this direction is the establishment of a standard of education, fitness and ability, and through proper legislation the maintenance of such a standard. A bill, requiring the registration of nurses will be prepared and introduced. The passage of this bill will not in any way affect persons nursing the sick who do not assume to be trained or graduate nurses. It will, however, make it impossible for such to stand, as they do at present, on exactly the same basis as the nurse who has given three years of hard work and study to the obtaining of her profession.

As the law is not retroactive no nurse who is graduated prior to the passage of the bill will be required to take an examination, but it will result in the gradual establishment of a certain curriculum to which all training schools must conform in order to enable their graduates to pass the state examination.

Benefit of the Industrial Home.

A lawn fete will be given on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 30, on the grounds of the Boys' Industrial home in Oakdale, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the home. The managers are preparing an entertainment for their guests that day and will be assisted by the boys themselves. A representative of the home will be at the Fourth avenue station on Thursday afternoon and evening with tickets for the round trip and will be a bureau of information.

Contract Let for Grading.

The Women's clubs of Allegheny county let the contract yesterday for the grading of the South Side play grounds at South Ninth and Carson streets. The work on the grounds will be begun today and will be finished for a formal opening July 4. Besides the playing of games, a manual training school and kindergarten will be conducted. The completion of the grounds will be a boon to South Side children and they will take advantage of it. As the grounds are now, from 1,000 to 1,500 children visit they every saturday.

Summer School Opened.

The Sewickley school, which was conducted in the Sewickley valley last summer by the civic committee of the Woman's club of Sewickley, was reopened yesterday in a room of the public school building and will continue during the two months of vacation. The school is free to all girls between the ages of 8 and 14 years, and is taught by Miss Irene McDermott of Allegheny. Thirty-five girls were present yesterday and other classes will be formed later.

Making Bean Bags.

The managers of the Young Women's Christian association are making 200 bean bags for the summer playgrounds and vacation schools. A meeting of the managers was held yesterday afternoon when the work was continued as all are not yet finished. Mrs. J. J. Matthews was the leader for the devotional exercises. Only routine business connected with the association was discussed.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club.

How often you hear a woman say she's had "bad luck" with her baking, or that she's lost her "knack." Why?
Because home baking is a matter of chance. No woman can teach another woman to make bread just like her own—she cannot impart the "knack." Yet it is evident that if bread is made right once, it must be right if made and baked in ex

KAISER'S BROTHER-IN-LAW INVOLVED IN SCANDAL

German Newspapers Connect His Name With Pommeranian Bank Failure.

By MALCOLM CLARKE.
[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, June 27. — The sensation caused by the Pommeranian bank scandal continues. It had been thought that the excitement would die out after the two directors, Schultz and Romelke, had been sentenced, but those who had hoped that this would put an end to the rumors which implicated very high persons were disappointed. Again and again it was said by the Socialist and Liberal papers that the scandal went far deeper and implicated persons of far higher standing than the secretary of the emperor's cabinet, Count von Mirbach.

The name of one of these men has now been found out and is said to be Duke Ernest Guenther of Schleswig-Holstein, the brother-in-law of the kaiser, who is said to have received most of the hundreds of thousands of marks which Count von Mirbach received from the two bank directors. Of course this is officially denied; but it is hardly thought possible that the papers would dare to print an accusation of this nature without the strongest proofs and, as the duke has always been known as a reckless spender and gambler and frequently has been punished by the kaiser for his fast way of living, it is generally thought that the facts printed in today's papers are true.

To Make a Bride

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number to-day suffering with the ills peculiar to our sex," writes Mrs. Sallie Martins (President Mutual Social Science Club), of 180 South Halstead Street, Chicago, Ill. "Then when medicine is needed if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured me of female weakness of several years' standing, so I know what I am talking about when I praise it and always know what the result will be where it is used."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

STOCK MARKET IRREGULAR, AND TRADING VERY LIGHT

The Better Class of Securities Closed Near the Lowest, While a Few Specialties Advanced. Local Securities Stagnant.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Prices were irregular and trading entirely professional in the New York stock market yesterday. At the opening there was a little display of strength, and London prices for American securities were quoted steady to firm. Foreigners, however, were not doing anything in the market. Shortly after the opening weakness appeared in Metropolitan, which sold down to 106¾. Metropolitan is not a "pivotal stock" and its affairs are not so connected with general conditions as to be a guide, but the market is so narrow that a speculative movement in any stock has its influence upon traders, and that was the case yesterday when Metropolitan displayed weakness. Brooklyn Rapid Transit also sold off, and Manhattan declined 1½ per cent to 147. United States Steel preferred was rather firm in the early dealings and advanced to 90¾, while the sinking fund bonds rallied to 103½. The standard railroad shares displayed heaviness on a very small volume of business, and by noon prices all around showed small fractional declines. The anthracite stocks, with Reading as a leader and Ontario & Western, which was the most active of the railroads, were firm and higher while the rest of the market was declining, and they traded to offset the effects of Metropolitan and the other tractions. During the afternoon the whole market became listless and trading was at a standstill. Just before the close a covering movement in Metropolitan, being responsible for a sharp rally, in which all the earlier loss was recovered, the stock advancing to and closing at 108¾. Pennsylvania closed at 119¾, which was within a small fraction of the highest, while Baltimore & Ohio closed at 79¾, the lowest of the day. Steel preferred sold off to and closed at 89¾, while the sinking fund 5s closed at 103¾ bid, or within a shade of the highest. Amalgamated Copper rallied to 75¾ and closed at 75 bid. The better class of railroad stocks closed at or near the lowest, the grangers and Pacifics being the heaviest. Detroit Southern common declined to 11¼ and the preferred to 23¾, but rallied slightly at the close. This is the company which passed the interest on its bonds and asked holders to fund the coupons in notes.

There were two contending influences at work on the granger shares. One was the Atchison deal, and the other the crop reports. Atchison reported an increase in gross earnings for May of $123,000 but a decrease in net of $210,000. Inasmuch as expenses during the corresponding month last year were increased by the strike and also cut down traffic, the showing for this year was disappointing. The effect upon the stock, however, was slight, the price declining a fraction point from 73 to 72¾. As an offset, the crop reports from the southwest were favorable in the extreme, the wild and woolly winter wheat being above previous estimates. A crop expert who has just returned from a trip over the western and southwestern territory expressed the opinion that such roads as Atchison and Rock Island would derive a largely increased tonnage this year on account of the improvement in the crops. The heaviness in grain in the Chicago market was regarded as a continuation of the reports from the winter belt west. The decline in St. Louis was accompanied by a revival of the old story that the company contemplated an issue of new stock which was authorized more than a year ago.

Last week professional traders were seeking to anticipate the movement based upon the Republican national convention. The rally did not make much progress, but prices held steady to firm under somewhat unfavorable incidents, and there was unquestionably a more cheerful feeling in the street. This week professional traders are taking the position that a reaction of a point or two is in order pending the meeting of the Democratic national convention, which will indicate through the platform adopted the lines upon which the campaign will be fought. The continued ease in call and time money, and the preparations being made by prominent financiers for European vacations, are straws indicating that no disturbance is looked for in the money market, and that no important change in stock market conditions is likely for some time to come.

The local stock market yesterday was one of the dullest for years. To total sales of 719 shares for all stocks, Crucible Steel preferred contributed 530 shares, at prices ranging from 37 to 38, the closing bid being 36¾. Of the coal stocks the only transaction was 40 shares Pittsburgh preferred at 57¾, a decline of ¼. Westinghouse Electric on sale of only 39 shares declined ¼ to 76½, ex-dividend. Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s advanced ½ per cent to 98½. The rest of the list was absolutely featureless.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

But for the little spurt of activity in Crucible Steel preferred yesterday the local stock market would have been the dullest as it certainly was the narrowest market of the year. Total sales were 719 shares, and of this amount 530 shares were Crucible preferred. The stock opened strong and higher at 36¾, advanced to 37, broke to 36 and closed at 36¾ bid. There was a story in the street which could not, however, be traced to any respectable source, to the effect that a reorganization of the company was under consideration. The gossip was that preferred stockholders were to be invited to turn in their stock on a basis of $50 a share for 6 per cent first mortgage bonds. In other words, that the $25,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred was to be retired by an issue of $12,500,000 6 per cent bonds. Taking other local 6 per cent first mortgage industrial bonds like Pittsburgh Coke and Pittsburgh Coal 5s, which are quoted today at an average of 112, and have sold as high as 120, a 6 per cent Crucible bond might be expected to sell around between 110 and 115 under normal conditions as to earnings, which would be equivalent to 55 to 57½ for Crucible preferred. Incidentally the company would receive $1,750,000 in cash for charges, being the difference between $1,750,000 required to pay 7 per cent on the present $25,000,000 Crucible preferred outstanding, and $7,500,000 required to pay 6 per cent on $12,500,000 bonds. A reorganization based upon these lines would no doubt enable the company to immediately pay something on its securities. In fact, the company would be compelled to make a showing that it could pay 6 per cent on the bonds from the start and still have a liberal margin, in order to obtain consideration for such a proposition. That the street took no stock in the gossip was evidenced by the absence of interest in the common stock, which would be a beneficiary, and which was nominally quoted at 4½ bid, 4¾ asked. In connection with this subject, it might be stated that it is currently reported that the outcome of the Clairton deal is to saddle Crucible with $3,000,000 more stock. The directors have never made a report to stockholders, and probably will not make any until the annual meeting in October.

It was announced yesterday that the board of directors of the River Coal Company will hold a meeting on July 5 to take action on the semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock. The last dividend was quoted yesterday at 21¾ bid, 21¾ asked, but there were no sales. Pittsburgh Coal preferred sold in a small way at 57¾, a decline of ¼, and the common was quoted at 14¾ bid, 15 asked.

There were no dealings in any of the natural gas stocks yesterday. Philadelphia Company was a little firmer at 39½ bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a fraction lower, being offered at 30¼. Ohio Fuel Supply was quoted at 37 bid. The directors of the latter yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent, payable July 15 to stock of record July 5. It is rumored that Ohio Fuel Supply will increase its October dividend to the rate of 3 per cent quarterly.

The Allegheny Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent.

The Pittsburgh stock exchange will be closed next Saturday and Monday. All the eastern exchanges will be closed on the same days, and the only financial business next Saturday will be by the banks.

Fayette County Gas was quoted at 77 bid, and Union Natural Gas at 82 bid.

Gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the third week in June decreased $53,000. Southern Railway for the same week increased $17,674.

The surplus earnings of Hocking Valley for May were only $59,800, a decrease of $141,000.

American Sewer Pipe 6s were quoted at 95 bid, an advance of 10 per cent.

Harriman interests were said to be the largest buyers of Southern Pacific and Union Pacific yesterday, but both stocks closed at the low point.

The Southern Pacific Company has issued a circular to stockholders announcing that by resolution of the board of directors, stockholders of record July 28, 1904, instead of July 14, 1904, shall be entitled to subscribe to the proposed issue of preferred stock of the company.

The July disbursements this week are figured at nearly $125,000,000. The government will pay out about $17,000,000 in bond interest and pensions, while public corporations will pay some $46,000,000 in dividends and $62,000,000 in interest. The growth of July dividends is shown in this: Total in 1888, $14,500,000; in 1898, $28,000,000; in 1901, $54,000,000. In 1903 $40,000,000. The change of time of payments of dividends accounts for the present falling off, many corporations preferring to change from the regulation dates. Bond interest payments are doubled in the first seventeen years and nearly twice as much capital invested in public securities, bonds and stocks, is paying July interest and dividends now as was the case ten years ago.

The Hazelwood Oil Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, and a special dividend of 1 per cent, both payable to stock of record June 3.

Railroad officials in their customary weekly discussion of traffic expressed a feeling of encouragement for the first time in many weeks and professed to see some actual progress of the movement of merchandise. The lake competing lines were an exception, the reopening of lake navigation with the settlement of the strike serving to turn back some traffic to the ore route, which was diverted to the railroads during the strike. But officials of western and southwestern railroads asserted that the stagnation in business seemed to be passing. Reports of gross earnings for the third week of June showed a majority of increases over last year. But some of the important systems reported decreases.

There was an appreciable investment demand in New York yesterday for high grade bonds, but the price movement was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,055,000. United States 2s declined ⅛ and the old 4s registered advanced ½ per cent on call.

There is a great deal of truth in the following comment by an observer of stock market affairs: What is needed, of course, is "confidence" but this, too, is a plant of very slow growth and somehow existing conditions do not appear to be favorable to its development. Opinions vary as to where the fault for this state of affairs lies. There are some who would like to have it believed that it is due entirely to the unreasonableness of the lambs but there are little things which indicate that there may be other causes at work which are worth noting. In yesterday morning's New York newspapers, for example, were news items with heads such as these: "Court holds up high finance railroad plan—Junction scores scheme;" "Hawley quits Harriman—Disagreements said to be the cause;" "Trouble in the Seaboard—Differences have arisen which may lead to big shake-up." Do these appear to be cases where a minority feels that its interests are endangered by the action of those who control the properties. Such incidents as these occurring from time to time and showing as they do how carefully those who are well versed in matters pertaining to "high finance" watch the actions of their associates, do not tend to inspire the average investor with that "confidence" the absence of which is so much deplored just now by those who have profited by it in the past. This same average investor in the securities of our great corporations finds himself always in the minority, and may well doubt whether his interests are those of the "insiders" who control that tender solicitude which he would like to feel they might, since he sees the larger interests forever on their guard to ward off attacks against which he is helpless. Concentrated power in financial affairs as well as in the affairs of a state if exercised wisely, may be of great benefit to a community; but if exercised unwisely it becomes tyranny and is as intolerable in the one case as in the other. The doctrine of divine right applied to the management of corporations reduces the mere stockholder in these enterprises to the condition of a subject who has no voice in the government under which he lives.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $6,251,618, an increase of $124,000.

One of the dullest days of the year on the stock exchange.

Crucible Steel preferred furnished more than half the total sales.

The price advanced to 37, declined to 36 and closed at 36¼ bid.

The only coal stock to change hands was 40 shares Pittsburgh preferred at 57¾.

Westinghouse Electric closed a fraction lower at 76½, ex-dividend.

IN WALL STREET.

Stock market irregular, the better class of shares closing heavy.

The sales amounted to only 156,500 shares stock and $2,055,000 bonds.

Metropolitan Street Railway broke to 106¾ and rallied to 108¼.

Atchison declined to 72½ on an unfavorable report of May earnings.

Steel preferred closed at the lowest and Amalgamated Copper at the highest.

Ontario & Western and Southern Pacific the most active railroad stocks.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

At the annual meeting of the Arizona Copper Mountain Mining Company, held in Minneapolis, it was voted to change the name to "Copper Butte Mines." The following named directors were elected: George H. Abeel, Hurley, Wis.; Prosper E. Parker, Phoenix, Ariz.; Daniel R. Thompson, Brookford, Minn.; George W. Wallace, Duluth, Minn.; Augustus C. Sheldon, William E. Ellis and William E. Albee of Minneapolis. This corporation is owned principally by Lake Superior people, and is developing a property in Maricopa county, Ariz.

The Quincy directors will meet in a few weeks to authorize the dividend on the Michigan stock. The last payment was $2 50 a share and in well-informed quarters it is believed that the next disbursement will be $3 at least. The next semi-annual payment on the Wolverine is not due until October, but it is already talked that an increase in the rate may be expected.

The new stocks listed on the Salt Lake exchange in which Pittsburgh is interested are McNamara, Tonopah Belmont, Tonopah Midway, Tonopah Extension and Jim Butler.

The shipments from the Daly-West mine last week were 1,029 tons, from the Silver King 666 tons, from the Ontario 220 tons, and from the Kearns-Keith 92 tons. At the present rate of output the Daly-West is earning about $120,000 a month.

Considerable money was paid out last week for mining properties in Bingham. The Ohio Copper Company made its final payment, amounting to $57,500. The Bingham and New Haven deposited nearly $75,000 to the credit of various owners for some of the claims recently bought.

The Mammoth property is beginning to open greater riches in its lowest workings. Since the work was resumed on the mine the company has paid off all its debts and has considerable money in the treasury. It is expected that the company will re-enter the dividend list in July. The dividend which will be paid will amount to $20,000, bringing the total to $280,000. The last dividend paid was in July, 1901. It is reported that the South Swansea will again pay a small dividend from the royalties paid by lessees.

At Silverton the Yukon tunnel-strike amounts to 18 inches of $30 ore. The stuff runs 11 per cent copper, the balance of values being silver. So far as opened up, it is a purely smelting proposition and a good one.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 27.—There was another sharp decline in the London tin market with spot closing there at £117 12s 6d and futures at £117 5s. The local market, corresponding to the foreign decline, and the continued slackness of trade demand, lost part of its late recovery also, closing at $25 62½@26 12½. Copper was slightly lower in London, closing at £69 15s for spot and £65 13s 9d for futures. The local market held steady, however, with Lake quoted at $12 62½@12 75; electrolytic at $12 50@12 62½, and casting at $12 12½@12 25. Lead is very steady and unchanged at $4 20@4 30 in the foreign market, and at £11 10s in London. Spelter was a shade higher in New York, closing at $4 80@4 90; although London reported a small decline with spot at £22. Iron closed at Middlesboro. Locally iron was quiet; No. 1 foundry, northern, is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, at $13 75@14 25; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, at $13 25@13 75. Pig iron warrants are weak at $9 00.

WILKINS AVENUE TO BE EXTENDED

Improvement Believed to Be for Benefit of a New Street Car Line.

$20,000 FOR ALLEGHENY FLATS

Squirrel Hill property owners are interested in the extension of Wilkins avenue from Shady Lane to Dallas avenue, which, it is believed, will be followed by a new street car line that will open up a large amount of property now practically out of the market. The avenue is now open as far as Beechwood Boulevard, at which point it will run in a northeasterly direction through two tee ponds to Dallas avenue. The tee ponds have been partly filled up and a force of men is pushing the work of grading and sewering the new street. The extension of the avenue provides a very feasible route for a street car loop to run from Fifth avenue to Wilkins avenue, thence out Wilkins to Dallas avenue and up Dallas to Penn avenue. Although no formal announcement has been made of this project it is said that a large number of property owners are behind it and the line is pretty certain to be built within a year. The Wilkins avenue extension runs alongside a number of large plots of vacant frontage which would be worth more than double their present value if a car line were secured. Among these is the Speer estate tract of George W. Hallman, the Speer property of 9½ acres, the holdings of the Garland Chain Company and the L. G. Woods property. Wilkins avenue when extended will strike Dallas avenue opposite Wilmot avenue and a short distance north of Homewood cemetery. At this point are three three-acre tracts belonging to Mrs. N. P. Bradley, Lizzie D. Shaner and Florence E. Coleman. The section cut by Wilkins avenue as extended is now at least 15 minutes' walk from the Penn avenue or Fifth avenue street car lines, which makes these frontage undesirable for residence sites. Most of this property is level ground, which, if the street car line goes through, would be speedily converted into handsome residence districts.

Apartments Bring $20,000.

The Shillito apartments, 710 Sandusky street, Allegheny, were purchased yesterday by Mrs. Mary Haynes for $20,000. The property belonged to C. M. Shillito and the deal was negotiated by H. W. Watkins, of the Real Estate Savings and Trust Company. The building is a four-story brick structure, with stone front, and measures 28x120 feet, on the east side of Sandusky street, above East Ohio street. It was the first apartment house built in Allegheny. The flats contain five rooms and bath each, and bring a total rental of about $2,000 a year. In part payment for the flats Mrs. Haynes tendered No. 111 East Montgomery avenue, between Federal and Sandusky streets, which was paid for at the time at $10,000. The property consists of a three-story brick dwelling of nine rooms, on lot 20x60 feet.

Three more houses in Belmar place belonging to Mr. McClintock, were also disposed of for $6,000, or $3,000 each. Four of the houses stand on a plot 100x33 feet, on the south side of Monticello street, near Homewood avenue. Twenty-first ward investors bought the lot for $3,000. The other residence on an adjoining lot, was purchased by Anna M. Gross.

The houses are comparatively new and contain nine rooms each.

Through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company J. H. Barnsley has sold to Samuel Jones two reception hall brick houses on a lot 98x120 feet, on the north side of Rural Ridge, near North Negley avenue, Nineteenth ward. One is occupied by the purchaser and the other is occupied by the buyer.

The Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company has finally located its Bridgeville station on the property of the Wabash Improvement Company at Gould City. The station as planned will cost $10,000, but no machine shops are located. It will be the only stop for through trains between Pittsburgh and the Ohio river, and will be the headquarters for at least 2,000 men. Over 600 men are now working on the Wabash improvements at Gould City, and a constant demand for more houses. To start a building boom and help fill this demand the Wabash Improvement Company is planning to build 12 houses to cost an average of $2,500 each in Patterson and Washington avenues, Calvert and Presley streets. A local contractor is also figuring on building a large number of similar dwellings on the plan. No better local train service will be found around Pittsburgh than that which the Wabash will afford there when it is in full operation, as its regular local trains will run from the city to Gould City, a distance of 7.2 miles, in 12 minutes.

Building Contracts Awarded.

Among the larger building contracts awarded within the past few days are the following:

Getting Ready for Big Sale.

Work is being rushed on the big Homestead park allotment to make it ready for a public sale about August 1. Main street has been paved for one mile and two more streets will be paved in July. Gas mains and sewers are also being laid. The line of the Homestead & Mifflin Street Railway Company, which connects with the lines of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at Amity street in Homestead and at Calhoun park, in operation and gives quick service to all residents on the property. Twenty-seven houses, cost $2,000 each, will be under way on the plan by July 15. Twenty of these will be built by a Pittsburgh contractor, who secured the lots yesterday. The property, which is in Mifflin township, adjoining Homestead on the south, is owned by the Homestead Land Improvement Company. The operation and sale of the property, which has lately opened offices in the Farmers Bank building, are: President, Robert McWhinney; vice president, Frank L. Erbeck; secretary, L. L. Davis; treasurer, O. O. Miller; manager, William Metzger. Forty-two lots were sold on the plan last Saturday and Sunday, mostly to Jewish residents in the hill district, who are buying the property for an investment.

President Ramsey Expected to Confer on Appointments

President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash, who is expected in Pittsburgh this morning, may name the men who are to operate the Pittsburgh extension of the system. J. W. Patterson, president of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal railroad, arrived here yesterday from New York, where he has been in conference with President Ramsey. In the event that the latter reaches here today, the question of the personnel of the Pittsburgh end of the line and layout of the division will be brought up, as the Wabash will "officially enter Pittsburgh on Saturday of this week.

It is likely that President Ramsey may spend the entire week here, if not longer. This has not been definitely decided. He may go to St. Louis and return again before Friday.

President Patterson said that President Ramsey denied that the Wabash has spent three or four millions of dollars for equipment. He said the expenditures for this purpose would not reach quite $2,000,000. He said that nothing concerning the Pittsburgh extension has been secured by the Wabash at an expense of $10,000,000 worth of Wabash common stock. More money is yet to be spent in completing the line, but the Wabash says that will be necessary, as the funds are at hand.

The new service of the Wabash for the lines east of the Missouri (excepting the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western) went into effect on Sunday. The changes affected trains between St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Toledo and Indianapolis.

Extending Automatic Signals.

The electric automatic block signal system on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, in effect between the Monongahela division from Bellevernon Junction to Parke tower, a distance of about 10 miles. When this is completed the Monongahela division will be protected for thirty miles of its distance by these signals. This includes practically all of the double track. The main line division is so equipped from here to Youngstown, and on the Youngstown division there are only a few gaps to be finished. It is predicted that by the end of the present year the Lake Erie will be equipped with the electric signals from one end to the other.

Wabash Ticket Agent Named.

Fred H. Hess, traveling passenger agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, with headquarters at Wheeling, has been appointed assistant ticket agent of the Wabash, with headquarters in this city. John B. Meckle, who was appointed station ticket agent, arrived here yesterday morning from Kansas City. He will open his office on Friday. H. L. Purdy, appointed city ticket agent, is expected here from Chicago on Thursday.

Loree Wants Extension.

President L. F. Loree of the Rock Island system, is said to have definitely decided to extend the Rock Island system to the Pacific coast. It is said that the company has made a survey for such an extension many years ago and that it owns valuable water front and terminal property at San Diego. According to the plans of the Pan Handle type 1,100 miles of construction will be required.

Railroad Notes.

E. N. Aiken, rate clerk of the Queen & Crescent at Cincinnati, has been appointed traveling passenger agent.

S. S. Bridges, commercial agent of the Norfolk & Western at Columbus, has gone to Roanoke, Va., to attend a family meeting of the traffic men.

The Association of Transportation Officers of the Pennsylvania lines held a meeting yesterday in the Union station. There were representatives from 15 divisions, the conference being presided over by the general manager. The most important topic discussed was that of making uniform rules for all divisions.

BUTTER IS UP AGAIN; NEW ONION CROP HERE

Salmon Supply Is Low—Both Coffee and Sugar Are Very Strong.

The butter market has been ruling firm for several days, supply has been light and demand has been heavy. Accordingly quotations were advanced a quarter of a cent by the Elgin telegram yesterday. Best eggs are still hard to get and command full prices. Average stock is moving more freely, however. Cheese is brisker at the advances of Saturday.

Flour is weak. Coffee and sugar are strong, but no changes are made in anything in the grocery line. Reports are to the effect that the supply of pink salmon is almost cleaned up and that small lots now in the hands of jobbers will soon disappear. Regular opening prices were also announced next month. This year is said to be an off time for Sockeyes, particularly.

A new onion crop arrived yesterday. It was the Louisville, Ky., product which had not yet been seen here this year. Bermuda onions are practically out of the market and Texas stock is dwindling rapidly. New potatoes were selling Monday at $3, and on track some brought as low as $2 50 yesterday. About 40 cars arrived, making a total of about 90 for Sunday and Monday. It is thought the market will be much better this week. About two cars of Columbiana county, O., strawberries came in and commanded full prices. There is plenty of tomatoes, cabbage and especially new cherries. There were no changes in hay, grain or feed; markets are about the same as last week with the exception that the markets are more attractive. Hay is still slow. Receipts yesterday were very heavy.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, June 27.—The lists for the fourth series of wool auction sales were closed today, with the following amounts: New South Wales, 19,983 bales; Queensland, 12,781; Victoria, 31,529; South Australia, 2,293; West Australia, 1,662; Tasmania, 9,678; New Zealand, 82,012; Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 48,137 bales. Forty thousand bales of Cape of Good Hope and Natal and 67,550 bales of Australian were forwarded direct to spinners, leaving the amount available for the sales 130,000, including 9,000 held over from the third series.

LIBERAL SHIPMENTS WEAKENS GRAIN MARKET

September Option Down Half a Cent from Figures on Saturday.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 27.—Liberal world's shipments and favorable returns from the southwestern harvest fields had a weakening influence in the wheat market today. At the close the September option was down ½c from Saturday's final figures. Corn is unchanged. Oats are up a shade. Provisions show a loss of 10 to 25 cents.

Sentiment in the wheat pit was bearish from the start. At the opening the effect of heavy rains in the southwest was offset by the intelligence of cabled and by the weekly statistics, the world's shipments for the week being considerably larger than had been expected and the movement from Russia much heavier. Opening quotations on September were unchanged to ⅛c lower at 81⅛ to 81⅜c. Commission houses were fair sellers of July, but offerings of September were light. For a time there was a moderate demand for September from northwestern houses, and this had the influence of causing the price to rise, the selling up to 81⅝@81¾c. During the latter part of the session trading was dominated by the situation in the southwest.

A report from Kansas City chronicled the arrival there of 10 cars of new wheat, the quality of which was excellent. Weather conditions were unfavorable to harvesting, the condition of the crop was said to be favorable. Selling by southwestern houses was an important bear factor during the latter part of the day. This selling apparently allayed in the minds of many traders fears that the marketing of the new crop would be seriously delayed by wet weather. The market closed weak and near the low point, final figures on September being at 80⅝c after the price had touched 80¼c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 44,400 bushels. The amount on passage decreased 1,702,000 bushels and the visible supply 1,081,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 283,100 bushels, compared with 495,100 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 209 cars against 361 cars last week and 645 cars a year ago.

In spite of some influential selling the corn market held up remarkably well considering the weak undertone of wheat. Apprehension in regard to prospects of decreased receipts had a supporting influence. The principal buyers were commission houses. There was a disposition manifested on the part of the local traders to buy on the breaks, although they sold early on fine weather in the west. The market closed almost precisely at yesterday's final quotations. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 48¾ to 48⅞c, sold between 48¾ and 48¾@48¾c, and closed at 48¾@48¾c. Local receipts were 424 cars, with 37 of contract grade.

Trading in oats was light and the market held firm on support by bull leaders. Receipts were a little larger and crop advices quite favorable. After opening unchanged at 31¾c, September sold between 31¾ and 31¾c, closing at 31¾@31¾c. Local receipts were 126 cars.

Provisions were affected by liberal receipts of hogs and lower prices at the yards. A feature of trading was liquidation of July holdings. Shorts were fair buyers throughout the day. At the close September pork was off 25c at $13 02½; September lard down 10@12½c at $7 12½; ribs were off 15@17½c at $7 00@7 02½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat—24 cars; corn, 900 cars; oats, 215 cars; hogs, 18,000 head.

CHANGE IN THE OUTPUT OF STRUCTURAL STEEL

The Lackawanna Company Will Begin Shipments of Shapes About July 15.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Wall street Journal today says: The Lackawanna Steel Company expects to begin the shipment of structural shapes about July 15. The entrance of the Lackawanna company into the structural steel field may by 1905 cause a decided change in the output. Lackawanna is not a member of the structural pool and probably will not join.

Within the next two months some big changes, involving the employment of many hundreds of additional men, will be made at the Buffalo plant. The changes involve the finishing of a $1,000,000 ship canal, the opening of a new structural steel rail mill, a new steel plate mill, a new slab mill, a new light rail mill and the operation of six open-hearth furnaces. The total cost of the new equipment will be $5,000,000.

Recently while in Buffalo, George J. Gould made a thorough inspection of the Lackawanna plant. The report that Mr. Gould was to become actively identified with the company was at once given circulation, but it had no foundation. When all its plants are in operation the company will have a yearly capacity of 1,400,000 tons finished steel products.

NEGROES ARE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Commonwealth's Story of a Highway Robbery and Killing Near Leetsdale.

GRIND OF DIVORCE COURT

Charles Mills, Charles Jackson and Walter Grey, negroes, were on trial yesterday, charged with murdering John Kluzor during a holdup that took place near Leetsdale on May 7. The deceased, his brother and Mike Villim, were held up. Attorney W. M. Price and W. F. Petty represent the defendants.

After Dr. McCandless had testified to the wound, Jacob Kluzor, the murdered man's brother, said he, with his brother and Villim, were visiting friends at Ambridge. At the junction of the Beaver road and Broad street, about half a mile from Leetsdale, they were attacked by the three negroes. His brother was shot and all three robbed. He identified the prisoners as the men who did the killing.

Villim, the other member of the party, told the same story and said that each negro had a revolver. He also identified part of the money found on the negroes as that which was stolen from him. He described their dress and identified the hats of the men. He said he was living half by one of the three when the shot was fired which killed Kluzor.

Captain of Police James Agnew of Allegheny told of searching the men and getting about $100 from them. Most of the money, he said, was found on Jackson, the other two only having small amounts. John Glenn, assistant superintendent of the Allegheny police, told of arresting the trio in a street car in Ohio street. He also identified the money found on their person.

Jeff Dersey and George Gwynn, colored, and Pat Cavanaugh, all identified the men as three they had seen in Ambridge the day of the murder. Cavanaugh said he saw the men on the road leading to Leetsdale.

In common pleas court No. 2 Judge John D. Shafer is hearing a number of divorce cases. The list is not as long as usual and there was little of interest in any of the stories. Mrs. Lulu Campbell is asking for a divorce from her husband, Edward Campbell, on the ground of infidelity. She is 17 years old now, and was not quite 14 when she ran away with Campbell to Steubenville, O., where they were married. Mrs. Ida R. Speidel ran away to Cumberland, Md., with Emil Speidel on August 5, 1899, and they were married there. She says he spent most of their married life in abusing her, and he was a heavy drinker.

Mrs. Annie Davis asks for a divorce from William G. Davis on the ground of infidelity. She named a South Sharon woman as corespondent, and told a story of a fishing camp near Sharon to substantiate her charges. The evidence in this will be continued this morning.

Mrs. Sarah E. McCloy, whose charge against a former South Side preacher brought her into public notice, was around the court during the day, evidently in the hands of a committee and she wants Judge Shafer to see that it is not neglected or mismanaged, as she asserts it is.

Sale Is Postponed.

No decision was made by common pleas court No. 1 yesterday in the proceedings to stop the execution against the Prudential Trust Company, the court holding the matter over while the defendant filed a petition setting forth the scope of the company in its line of work. The sale set for last Wednesday was postponed for one week, at the instance of the plaintiff's attorneys.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

George Ellsworth and others filed a bill in equity against the Penn Amusement Stamp Company and others, alleging the company is insolvent and asking for a receiver. Ellsworth was the manager of the company.

A libel was filed against the steamer Stella Moren by the Clyde Coal Company for $2,075 damages. It is alleged that the steamer Clyde was struck in the Monongahela river while towing the Monongahela river and badly damaged.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against Pauline Coyne of Carnegie. The petitioners, Louis J. Goldstein, Sr., Louis J. Henry Zoller of Rochester and Joshua Lowitz of Pittsburgh, present claims amounting to $620. Mrs. Coyne admitted her inability to pay her creditors and that the Seattle Trust Company was appointed receiver.

Before Judge M. W. Acheson, in the United States circuit court, the case of the Commercial National bank of Steubenville, O., against the Steubenville Water Washington, was placed on trial without a jury. The bank is attempting to recover $21,566 issued to the borough of Steubenville and that the Seattle Trust Company was appointed receiver.

In the divorce suit of Laura E. Emrick against Charles G. Emrick, the respondent filed answer yesterday, denying the libellant had been a good and affectionate wife. He avers she threatened to poison him, stabbed him on the head with a table fork, struck him with a chair and persisted in going to beer houses, neglecting her wifely duties at the same time.

ROTHSCHILD'S GIFT.

Will Provide $2,000,000 to Build Homes for Parisian Workmen.

PARIS, June 27.—Baron Alphonse De Rothschild, Baron Edmond De Rothschild and Baron Gustave De Rothschild, three of the chiefs of the Rothschild family, called upon M. Trouillot, the minister of commerce, this afternoon to inform him of their intention to give $2,000,000 to provide cheap and healthy dwellings for the Parisian working classes.

The details of the scheme have not yet been given out, but it is announced that the profits arising from the rents of the proposed dwellings will be devoted to the amelioration of the conditions of workmen.

BIG LOTTERY BANK SAID TO BE FOUND IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 27.—An alleged lottery scheme, which is said to have netted its operators hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, was disclosed today, when the Manhattan Exchange bank, situated at 150 La Salle street, was entered by the United States marshal, who arrested John H. Dalton, politician, and L. A. Gourdin, on warrants sworn out in the United States district court by postoffice detectives. The warrants charge that lottery tickets were sent out of Illinois by the Manhattan Exchange bank in violation of the interstate commerce law.

NORMAN E. MACK'S WIFE ROBBED AT THE FAIR

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—The New York world's fair commission today gave a luncheon to 250 women at the New York state building. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Odell, wife of the governor of New York. Just before the luncheon, Mrs. Norman E. Mack of Buffalo missed a gold "Vanity" box, valued at $200, which she had laid on a table. Guards were placed at the doors and the rooms were searched. The box was found tucked under a napkin at another table. Two waiters who were under suspicion, accused each other of having secreted the box.

YOUR CLOTHING MAY NEED TO BE CLEANED

Before You Go On Your Vacation Better Send Your Suit To Linnekin's.

Men who are particular regarding their appearance would no sooner wear a suit of clothes that showed grime or grease spots than they would go barefooted on the streets of Pittsburgh.

But it is not necessary to go to the expense of buying a new suit every season. Get your last summer's suit cleaned. Or, if you have worn your new suit in Pittsburgh since this season opened you will need to have it cleaned before you go away on your vacation. The spring has been an unusually dirty one.

Linnekin's have a new process for cleaning men's suits, women's gowns or other clothing, carpets, draperies and the like that actually restores them to their new condition. It is the only perfect process in Pittsburgh. Prices are lower than in other establishments.

E. J. LINNEKIN COMPANY,
General Dyers and Cleaners.
